U.S. Satellite 107,900 Miles Out

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's first artificial planet soared steadily today toward a brief rendezvous in space with the moon on its way into orbit around the sun.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said that at 11 a.m. PST its Pioneer IV had traveled 107,900 miles, much farther than any other U.S. rocket. Its speed was 5,675 miles an hour.

Space administration scientists said nothing short of a direct hit from a meteor can now prevent the 13.4-pound gold-plated package from becoming planet No. 11. No. 10 is Russia's Lunik, launched Jan. 2.

Pioneer IV was launched by a 60-ton Juno II Army rocket from Cape Canaveral, Fla., last night.

Pioneer I, launched by the Air Force Nov. 11, had traveled only 71,300 miles before falling back to earth, and the Army's first moonshot attempt, launched Dec. 6, reached only 63,580 miles.

Although slightly off course, the satellite was expected to pass within 35,000 miles of the moon—a miss of 20,000 miles of the moon—a miss of 20,000 miles from the planned trajectory. Its closest approach to the moon is expected at 11 a.m. PST tomorrow, when its speed will have been cut to 3,500 miles per hour.

But space administration scientists said the space vehicle has ample velocity to go into an orbit around the sun.

Its speed at launching from Cape Canaveral at 9:10 p.m. PST was 24,890 miles per hour. This was 305 miles per hour more than needed to escape the pull of earth's gravity and the tug of the moon's gravity field.

The scientists said Pioneer IV will go into a solar orbit somewhat larger and more elongated than that of the earth's. The space vehicle, like the earth, they said, will take about a year for each trip around the sun.

PLANES WILL LAND NO MORE—Walter Nelson (extreme right, rear) wrote "finis" to the San Rafael Airport late yesterday as "X's" were painted on runways to warn pilots not to land there. Scheuer's Plan For Marin City Passed By Unanimous Vote

The much-debated "alternate" plan for Marin City redevelopment was unanimously approved by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday after a five-hour public hearing.

James H. Scheuer, private developer selected to rebuild the housing project, submitted the alternate proposal in the form of amendments to the county-approved Marin City master plan.

The commission's 6-0 vote will be reported to the county board of supervisors next Tuesday at 2 p.m. The board then will set a date for a final public hearing on the Scheuer plan.

FORESEES SEGREGATION

Approval was given by the planners despite a forecast by Planning Director Mary Summers that racial and economic segregation within Marin City is likely under the alternate proposal.

Her contention was disputed by George C. Goheen, chairman of the county redevelopment agency, and Nathaniel Colley, Negro attorney on Scheuer's staff and chairman of the West Coast legal section of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

During their afternoon session yesterday, the planners went on to approve the tentative map of the first Marin City redevelopment unit. Again the vote was unanimous.

SEVERAL CONDITIONS

Approval was subject to a string of conditions, including one requiring integration of drainage in the first unit with an over-all Marin City drainage plan. Another requires submission of grading and tree planting plans to the commission for approval. Nine exceptions to the county subdivision ordinance were granted on the recommendation of the commission's staff.

Unit 1 will be a pilot development of one-family homes and apartment buildings in a

America Protests Riots In Bolivia

Protection Demanded For Yanks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States today expressed "grave concern" to Bolivia over anti-American demonstrations in La Paz. It demanded all possible measures to protect American lives and property.

The State Department also said that the 700 Americans in La Paz, including most of the U.S. Embassy employees and their dependants, "are being concentrated in suburban areas where military protection is better."

There are about 200 Embassy employees and dependents.

The State Department said U.S. concern was expressed this morning to Bolivian Ambassador Manuel Berrau, who was summoned to the department for a talk with Assistant Secretary of State Roy R. Rubottom.

The department also denied that any official in the U.S. Embassy had made a remark attributed to him which set off anti-American rioting. The alleged remark reported in a Time magazine article was to the effect that Bolivia would be better off if it and its problems were divided among neighboring countries.

The Bolivian ambassador told the State Department that he was "very much shocked" by events and would communicate the concern of the United States to his government. (See story on page 8.)

Jolt Felt Here As Earthquake Hits Big Area

Marin caught the edge yesterday of a rolling earthquake shock that blocked a highway with a slide near Watsonville, buckled pipes in Hollister and shook plaster from ceilings in Gilroy and Santa Cruz.

The 3:28 p.m. quake was felt over a 150-mile strip of California from below Holister to above Sebastopol. Its epicenter, according to a University of California seismologist, was 65 to 70 miles south of Berkeley.

SERIES OF SHOCKS

The shake was felt for brief seconds in Marin, for "a full minute" in some parts of San Francisco. Actually, it was a series of shocks lasting 12 minutes, said Don Tocher, U. C. seismologist, but only the strongest was felt here.

It was followed by an aftershock at 11:24 p.m. which was too light to awaken Marinites.

The first shock, at 3:27:38 p.m., registered 5.5 points on the Richter scale at U.C.—two-tenths of a point higher that the March 22, 1957, quake that shook down houses in Daly Ciy and tumbled grocery displays in Marin.

LITTLE DAMAGE

This time, however, there was little damage. None was reported in Marin, although a Tiburon resident said "the whole house shook" and Mrs. E. Moya Del Pino at 1005 Irwin street, San Raafel, said it felt "as heavy as the one two years ago."

Most of the county felt the

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The 45,000-seat stadium being built for the San Francisco Giants will be called Candlestick Park.

The new park should be ready in July.

The name was chosen by judges in a city-wide "naming contest," sponsored by park and recreation commission. More than 20,000 persons entered the contest, suggesting more than 2,000 names.

The winning name was selected by 102 contestants.

Koch Firm Sues To Recover County Taxes

H. Koch and Sons, Corte Madera luggage manufacturer, today filed suit to recover $32,342.70 in Marin County real property taxes for 1958-59, alleging the assessment roll adopted by the county board of supervisors was illegal.

The complaint, filed in Marin Superior Court by Morris M. Grupp of San Francisco as attorney for the Koch firm, alleges the board of supervisors, county appraisal commission and county board of equalization "violated 12 separate provisions and sections of the Revenue and Taxation Code of the State of California."

It charges the supervisors "wrongfully usurped the powers of the assessor of the county" in preparing the assessment roll. It charges that by removing the assessor's equipment, it made it impossible for him to prepare the roll

(The board last April, in an upshot of a dispute over use of new International Business Machines equipment, had Assessor George W. Hall's Addressograph equipment removed from his office.)

Koch's suit contends that the board of supervisors "prepared its own assessment roll, presented the self-prepared assessment roll to itself and then voted approval of its own assessment roll."

Mother Saves Girl From Drowning

The child was revived by her mother and by Tiburon volunteer firmen, who operated their resuscitator for 45 minutes.

The youngster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hernan, 1 Hilarita circle, and granddaughter of Former Belvedere Mayor Eric L. Pedley, fell in the lagoon after climbing over her yard fence to "dangle her feet in the water," her mother said.

A competent swimmer under normal circumstances, she evidently panicked and was unable to swim to the nearby ladder, Mrs. Hernan said.

Discovering her daughter floating unconscious, Mrs. Hernan leaped, fully clothed, to the rescue, dragged her to the bank and applied artificial respiration.

A neighbor called the Tiburon Fire Department and a resuscitator crew consisting of Chief Jack Ishmael and George Mantegani responded.

The child was taken to Marin General Hospital for observation. She was expected home today, her mother said.

Owner Closes Airport At San Rafael

Huge white crosses were painted on the runway at San Francisco Bay Airport in San Rafael to signify the end of air traffic at the 13-year-old facility.

Easily visible from the air, the crosses announce to transient fliers that planes no longer may land on the 1,800-foot paved runway.

The airport was closed by owner A. Walter Nelson as a result of burgeoning construction activity in the immediate area and the need for power lines to serve the new buildings. The lines, a hazard to aircraft, could not be installed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. while the airport remained in existence.

OFFICIAL CLOSING

Nelson, who fought to keep the planes flying as long as possible, notified the Federal Aviation Agency last month that March 1 would be the official closing date.

Most of the 25 private planes based at the San Rafael airport already have been moved by their owners to other Bay Area points, including Novato, Petaluma, Santa Rosa, Napa and Oakland. Five or six planes cannot be moved until necessary mechanical work is done or the owners return from out-of-state trips.

To Nelson, the white crosses signified not only the closing of his airport, but also "the end of an era of private and executive aviation in Marin, as well as the elimination of $200,000 of tax base." He based the figure on the value of aircraft being moved out of the county.

Nelson and his partner, Charles Kleinclaus, opened the airport in 1946 on a site between Francisco boulevard and the bay. It was used for general aviation purposes and afforded what Nelson termed "an important link between Marin County and the rest of the state and nation."

48 PLANES

Last year 48 planes were stationed at the airport during the height of operation. The number gradually tapered off as the future of the facility became increasingly uncertain.

Nelson said aircraft were based at the field by members of the construction, lumber, entertainment, chemical, photographic, fabricating and ceramic industries. He said the planes were "useful tools of the trade for these businesses."

2 Big Steps Taken To Solve Belvedere Sewage Problem

Belvedere City Councilmen last night authorized an engineering and cost study pointing to treatment and disposal of city sewage by the Tiburon Sanitary District.

The Tiburon Sanitary District board, meeting, separately, resolved to enter into negotiations with the city to the same end.

These were giant steps toward solution of a problem that has harassed the City of Belvedere for years. The city has always dumped its raw sewage into San Francisco Bay, resulting in numerous complaints, lawsuits and wrangles with the regional Water Pollution Control Board.

The city has engaged the engineering firm of Brown and Caldwell to make a study at a cost not to exceed $3,300. It is expected to be completed within six months.

Councilmen voted unanimously a resolution of intention to hook its sewer lines into the Tiburon district, although the study calls for examination of other solutions.

City Manager Britton Rey said he hoped passage of the resolution would persuade the Water Pollution Control Board to drop for now its requirement that the city undertake expensive pollution checks of bay waters near the point of present sewage discharge. City officials have expressed the view that until the city has facilities for sewage treatment, the checks prove nothing and entail needless expense.

65-Mile Speed Limit Approved

SACRAMENTO (AP)—An Assembly-passed bill fixing the maximum speed on California highways at 65 miles an hour cleared the Senate Transportation Committee today with one dissenting vote. An effort to raise it to 70 was turned down.

The measure by Assemblyman Walter I. Dahl (R-Oakland) was cleared by the Assembly two weeks ago. It conforms with Gov. Edmund G. Brown's request for a rigid limit of 65 to replace the present flexible 55 m.p.h. top.

Hawaii Statehood Goes To Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee today unanimously approved and sent to the Senate a bill to make Hawaii the 50th state.

Committee Chairman James E. Murray said he believed the bill would be brought to the Senate floor "very quickly."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), floor manager for the bill, said he would be ready to open debate by March 16 if Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) gives the word.

Belvedere Man Enters Tam Trustee Race

Marshall, who has worked in Tam high tax increase and bond election campaigns, said that "the difficulty of passing these elections plus the rapidly increasing high school population in Marin indicates a growing need for public support of the schools."

Marshall added that if elected he "will do his utmost to make the high school district one which will deserve the enthusiasm and support of the public."

He is the third announced candidate for the trusteeship held by Howard I. McGill, whose term ends June 30. Harry Leff of Corte Madera and Tom McDougall of Mill Valley have already filed for the post for the May 19 trustees' election.

Marshall, a 12-year-resident of Marin County, was educated in Atlantic City, N.J., public schools and received his degree in electrical engineering from Cornell University in 1940. In the past three years he has taken courses at the University of California school of business administration.

During World War II he was an engineer in the Navy's Bureau of Ships in Washington, D. C., working under Rear Adm. Hyman Rickover.

C Of C Backs Incorporation Of Novato

The vote was 64 to 14, with only 78 of the chambers approximately 170 members casting ballots.

The chamber included an item of $500 in its 1959 budget to supplement funds raised by public subscription to place the incorporation question before Novato voters.

However, last month, directors decided to poll the membership on their wishes as to use of the funds and support of the incorporation proposal. Ballots were opened and tabulated at noon today.

Farm Bureau Opposes Pt. Reyes Park Plan

Directors of the Marin County Farm Bureau stand opposed to developement of 28,000 acres in the Pt. Reyes area as a federal recreation park.

The directors, meeting at the county farm bureau office in Novato yesterday, unanimously voted a resolution to oppose the park plan after county supervisor James A. Marshall reported that a survey last summer by rangers at the Tomales Bay State Park showed more than 90 per cent of the visitors there were from the East Bay.

The farmers contend that any such park ought to serve primarily the people of Marin County, declared Roy Parks, bueau president. Also, he said, such a development would entail a large expense to the county in the construction of roads leading into the area.

Parks also contended that withdrawal of the lands from the tax rolls would constitute a hardship to Marin County taxpayers.

Another argument against it, he said, is the fact that the water supply in the Pt. Reyes area would need to be "terrifically" expanded to meet the needs of such a park.

Directors yesterday supported a proposed amendment to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control Act, which would make it possible for farmers to continue certain agricultural burning after a deadline of Oct. 31 previously set by the smog control district.

The amendment next will go to the board of the California Farm Bureau Federation. If approved there, it will be submitted to the Legisltaure, Parks said.

8 New Counts On Suspect In Illegal Surgery

Eight more women, all from outside Marin County, went to the Mill Valley office of Dr. Jack E. Willis to undergo illegal surgery during the past two years, according to testimony presented to the Marin County Grand Jury last night.

On the strength of the testimony by the eight women, some married and others single, the grand jury returned indictments on eight more counts of illegal surgery against Dr. Willis, who is already accused of another abortion.

The 41-year-old doctor and his wife, Josephine, are already under $2,500 bail each. They

Novato City Debate Centers On Report

A public debate last night over the proposed incorporation of Novato narrowed down to an attack and a defense of Governmental Research Associates of Oakland, which made a recent survey and reported incorporation would be feasible.

Declared Paul Brindel, consistent opponent of incorporation: "The Governmental Research report is no better than the man who made it. And this is a phony report."

Later, however, asked to read aloud the entire letter from the Oakland Better Business Bureau which he had used as a basis for his attack, Brindel read that William R. Zion, partner in the firm who made the Novato survey, "is a reputable and reliable individual."

Zion also was defended by incorporation proponent Donald J. Brazell, who reported the researcher has been named to direct a survey of the City of Fresno. "Certainly that is an indication of Mr. Zion's reputation," asserted Brazell.

Brazell and Fred R. Pechner, representing the Novato Home Rule Committee, which supports incorporation, faced Brindel and Capt. Charles Clarkson, opponents, in the debate at the Novato Community Clubhouse. About 40 persons attended the debate, which was arranged by the newly organized Novato Forum. William Luft, Novato High School teacher, was moderator.

A charge by Brindel that "Zion has probably never brought out any report against incorporation" failed to get an answer from the two proponents.

Clarkson protested that the Home Rule Committee is relying exclusively on Zion's report in arriving at its conclusions.

A report by the Coro Foundation several years ago, Clarkson declared, showed that taxes would increase by 44 cents within two years after incorporation took place. "The cost of government everywhere is going up," said Clarkson.

"Is it reasonable to suppose that we can start a new city and get by without a tax for four years, as the incorporation report of Mr. Zion claims?"

"Has the committee ever bothered to make a study in another city?" he asked.

"No," admitted Pechner. While Zion said it is possible Novato could be tax-free for four years, if incorporated promptly, based on the premise that $200,000 would accrue from state and county subventions, "this is not a propaganda gimmick by the Home Rule Committee," asserted Pechner.

"It would be foolish to try to fool the people into believing that they would have no taxes for four years," he said.

Questioned by a member of the audience, Pechner said: "We told Zion we wanted an unbiased report—that if it proved that incorporation was unfeasible, the whole thing would be dropped."

Brindel, who as a member of the Committee to Save Novato From City Taxes recently distributed a two-page mimeographed attack on incorporation, was backed into admitting that a statement in the handout was untrue.

Mrs. Paul F. O'Rourke confronted Brindel with a barrage of questions which Brindel protested were "irrelevant and immaterial."

"Where did you obtain your information," asked Mrs. O'Rourke, "that 'the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People is in favor of incorporation?' And why do you rank that group with what you call 'gyp' builders, promoters and speculators?"

"Well, no," stammered Brindell, "but what constitutes an organization if it's not the members?"

"Then you admit that the statement is untrue?" declared Mrs. O'Rourke.

'Big Circle' In Smoother Operation

As compared to yesterday's first day jam, traffic flow this morning was improved about 50 per cent, said Rawles. "But I'm making no promises what is going to happen at tonight's commuter rush," he added.

Mitchell Baird, city planner, suggested the one-way flow would probably improve as soon as drivers get used to using both lanes instead of sticking to one lane from force of habit. For example, northbound on Irwin street at Third, a car can stick to the right lane and make a right turn onto Third almost at will. In the same way, westbound on Third, cars can stick to the left lane and make a left turn onto Lincoln.

For the first few days, drivers tend to stick to one lane, Rawles noted.

Old Easement May Help In Road Extension

An old San Rafael map indicates that the city may have a 30-foot easement alongside the old Bathhouse property that could come in handy for the proposed Lincoln avenue extension, Public Works Supt. Norris Rawles disclosed last night.

In hopes that such an easement might save the city some money, the city council authorized Rawles to make a title search. Property owners in the area are asking the city to share in the cost of extending Lincoln avenue from Second street through the Little League ball park to Irwin street.

EASEMENT SHOWN

Rawles said an old map shows an easement from Second to Mahon Creek, about half the distance of the proposed Lincoln avenue extension. If the easement is located within city property, the city would gain nothing, but if a legal easement exists through private property, the city may not have to acquire so much land to make the extension.

City fathers also opened bids but did not award contracts for a one-ton pickup truck and a heavy duty dump truck chassis and cab.

DeLong Chevrolet, $2,316.45 for pickup and $2,078.75 for heavy duty truck; Bianco Motors, $2,464.72 and $2,453.25; Rossi Garage, $2,460 and $2,535 for International and $2,370 and $2,465 for Studebaker; Ames Ford, $2,350.55 and $2,283.92.

OTHER ACTION

In other action, the council:

1. Asked the city manager to see if the abandoned Roberts Dairy building at Fourth and Mary streets can be boarded up to prevent high school children from getting inside.
2. Asked the state for use of $50,000 of the state gasoline tax funds for land acquisition and survey for Third street widening.

PT&T Pact Extended As Talks Resume

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A second contract extension today protected the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and 17,400 employees from a showdown on their contract dispute.

Stalemated negotiators yesterday worked up to the 5 p.m. deadline set in the first contract extension and then agreed to continue the old pact until 5 p.m. tomorrow.

Tamalpais High School closed a six-week adult education course in investments last night with a talk by attorney Robert W. Scott of Kent Woodlands on "Estate Planning."

Room For Maid Approved After Long Discussion

Just as long as she doesn't have a window looking onto the street. And provided there's naught but opaque glass in the west side window.

NOT UNANIMOUS

It was not unanimous, at that.

The Conrad home, at 18 Leeward road, has only 20-foot frontage. In adding maid's quarters atop the carport, the Conrads' architect designed a structure which impinges on the five-foot sideline setback for a distance of between 14 and 30 inches, according to their attorney, Roderick P. Martinelli.

In recommending approval of the necessary variance, planning commissioners said the 20-foot frontage constituted unusual circumstances, making the impingement allowable. They attached the conditions about windows to satisfy complaints of neighbors.

NO OBJECTIONS

Mayor Ralph Meyers last night withdrew his objections to the variance: "I will accept the planning commission's judgment and their answer."

But Councilman H. Nordmark Williams dissented. Saying that "the basis of the ordinance is to protect the health, welfare and property values of the community as a whole," Williams said he had inspected the Conrad property and, without being an architect himself, had been able to devise "any number of other solutions that would not have required a variance."

Williams was outvoted 4-1.

Water Program Set To Roll, Says Brown

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced today that his long-awaited water program will begin rolling through the state Legislature this week.

Brown told a news conference that "I am waiting for the Southern California caucus to meet tomorrow to find out just how they feel," but in the meantime, "I have been talking with northern legislators. By Friday of this week, I think I'll know for sure and we'll start moving."

Brown was asked what his reasons were for expecting the break to come so quickly.

"I have talked with many senators," Brown said, "from both the north and south; they all seem to want the water program to move along.

"I haven't talked with the 120 legislators upstairs, but those I have talked with — those interested in water — seem interested in the state as a whole.

"When the time comes to move this program, they'll all give a little bit and that's all it will take."

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—Rail shares revived and joined industrials late this afternoon in an advance which seemed destined to put the stock market at another record peak. Trading was heavy.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4,900,000 shares compared with 4,210,000 yesterday.

Illinois Central jumped about three. New York Central and Baltimore and Ohio gained more than a point each. Moderate advances were made by Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and Chesapeake and Ohio.

Gulf Oil was up about four, Texas Co. around two and Standard Oil of New Jersey more than a point.

PIONEER'S PROGRESS AND PERFORMANCE

Contest Seeking Name For Plane

Personnel at Hamilton Air Force Base and other Air Defense Command bases are participating in a command-wide contest to select a name for an interceptor plane still being developed.

The craft, designated the F108, is being developed by North American Aviation Co. and is intended to "combine the unmatchable flexibility of a human brain with a mobile missile launching platform that will permit the atomic destruction far offshore of enemy aircraft or missiles approaching from sea level to extremely high altitudes," according to engineers working on it.

The name contest opened Sunday and closes March 31. The winner will receive a $500 savings bond and an expense-paid three-day trip for two to Las Vegas, Nev..

County To Hire 2 More Doctors Temporarily

Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, Marin County medical director, today asked the county board of supervisors for money to hire two more doctors, a medical social worker and a typist-clerk.

He also requested a pay raise for an obstetrician already employed and suggested a salary cut for a doctor employed to handle cases in the Novato area.

The supervisors agreed to make $500 available to hire the two additional doctors "to meet an emergency" during the current month.

They also approved the salary cut for the Novato doctor.

But they refused to provide funds for another medical social worker or for a pay raise for the obstetrician.

They also refused to make the new positions permanent, pending "complete study" of county medical services by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen. They took no action on the request for a typist-clerk.

Initially, Board Chairman Walter R. Castro and Supervisors William Gnoss and James A. Marshall had indicated their willingness to go along with Dufficy's requests. That was before Supervisor William D. Fusselman arrived at the meeting. (The latter's fourth vote was needed to effect the necessary transfer of funds; Supervisor Vera Schultz was absent.)

Fusselman renewed his criticism of Dufficy. "It looks to me like we are spending more and more for service we already have," said Fusselman.

Dufficy, who conferred briefly before the meeting with Castro, Gnoss and Marshall, was not present when his written request was considered.

Castro and Jensen pointed out to Fusselman that the Dufficy request was based on reported increase in case load and the threat of two doctors to resign if their work load were not lightened.

"The load hasn't increased as much as Dufficy's request for funds," Fusselman retorted.

Fusselman suggested action be delayed pending a "full investigation." Castro agreed that the county should consider employing full-time doctors in the medical department. (At present, they work only part-time.)

In the end Fusselman acceded to the "emergency" pleas of Castro and Jensen, agreeing to vote for a special appropriation for one month while investigation is made to see if more efficient and economical methods can be devised to provide medical care for indigents.

Planners Consider Apartment Project

Plans for a $350,000 luxury apartment project proposed for the Meadowsweet district, just south of Corte Madera, were laid before the Marin County Planning Commission last night.

A. H. Bacharach, Oakland developer, hopes to erect a 50-unit luxury apartment building on a 1.07-acre parcel along the south side of Meadowsweet drive. The site is near a commercial area south of Tamalpais drive.

Bacharach's plans call for a rectangular structure surrounding a 9,000-square-foot courtyard "leisure area." The courtyard would contain a swimming pool, badminton court, shuffleboard deck and gardens.

Three sides of the apartment building would have two stories. The fourth, fronting Meadowsweet drive, would have three stories. the lowest containing parking facilities.

The building site is in an area zoned for retail business uses, with special highway frontage regulations. Apartment construction is permitted under the zoning, subject to approval of architectural plans.

After briefly reviewing Bacharach's plans last night, the commission asked its staff to study the proposed parking plan with a view toward increasing the number of spaces. More precise density figures also were requested. The matter then was continued to the commission's next meeting on March 16.

I-J Aide Tours Nike Missile Units

Among the group making the "Operation Understanding" trip was Wishard A. Brown, business manager of the Independent-Journal.

Eddie Asks Debbie To Approve Nevada Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Debbie Reynolds today refused to consent to a "quickie" Nevada divorce sought by Eddie Fisher, saying, "I feel it would be embarrassing to my children to one day find out their father had two wives at the same time."

"I don't think my permission is necessary," she said.

Fisher moves to Las Vegas April 1 for a four-week stand at the Tropicana Hotel. It is assumed he will remain there an additional two weeks to establish residence, qualifying him for a divorce in that state.

Elizabeth Taylor, the "other woman" in Debbie's divorce suit, has rented a nearby estate (at $500 weekly) during Fisher's stay.

Broemmel Has Praise For His Staff—Including Holdovers

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel today voiced public praise for all the staff of the county assessor's office, including those who are holdovers from the regime of former Assessor George W. Hall.

Today Broemmel told the county board of supervisors that all assessor's office personnel had cheerfully endured inconveniences resulting from repainting and remodeling now in progress. He said everybody in the office continued to perform his duties diligently.

"At the risk of saying something which people might say was political, I would say you inherited a good staff," commented Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who favored Hall's re-election over Broemmel.

The new assessor grinned and responded, "We have installed all new procedure which the entire staff has approached with enthusiasm and willingness."

Corte Madera Mulls Easing Sign Ordinance

Corte Madera town councilmen last night tossed around the hot potato of sign ordinance enforcement after agreement that "discretion" would be necessary in pursuing remaining violators of the ordinance.

Councilman Walter S. Long said he learned there were still about 41 illegal signs, despite recent efforts which resulted in removal of 30.

Town Atty. John H. Ehlen, admitted that not all the violations had been prosecuted. He suggested the Council should review the advisability of strict enforcement.

BREATHING SPELL

Ehlen said some of the merchants in the Corte Madera Shopping Center were "just getting by" and needed a breathing spell.

He suggested the council declare a legal moratorium if the violators would agree to bring their signs into conformity within a definite time.

Long said he was not in favor of just "picking the businesses off one by one" and thought concessions should be made. If all 41 violators were taken to court, it might put Corte Madera in an unfavorable light as far as business was concerned, he said.

ALREADY COMPLIED

Mayor William Hansen questioned the relaxing of the ordinance when many merchants have already complied.

A motion by Hansen to have the planning commission consider possible changes in the ordinance for newly established business failed to receive a second.

The council finally approved a motion by Councilman Roger Morse to have Ehlen and Building Inspector William G. McBride prepare a plan for removal of the remaining illegal signs and to present it to the council at a future meeting.

The motion carried 3-to-0 with Hansen abstaining. Councilman Edward Colthurst was absent.

DESIGN APPALLS STAFF

Planners Approve 2 'Slum Buildings'

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday approved architectural plans for a pair of Los Ranchitos apartment houses which the planning staff predicted will be slums.

J. B. Williams, San Rafael builder, will erect the twin structures on the west side of Merrydale road, between North San Pedro road and Highway 101, north of San Rafael. They will contain 16 apartment units.

The staff report said the rezoning probably resulted from "lack of a comprehensive study of the basic planning principles involved and the lack of satisfactory zoning classifications."

"The unfortunate possibilities of this R-3 (apartment) district," the report continued, "quickly became obvious to even the most naive when, on June 2, 1958 . . . the commission prematurely considered the plans for the first two tenement houses. . . .

"After a long, vain discussion, the plans were approved with a token condition requiring a landscape plan in an attempt to soften the brutal environment proposed.

Predicting the apartments to be built by Williams will "probably be just as ugly," the staff report said the designs are "exceedingly poor" and the parking layout "too ludicrous to describe."

But, it concluded, the "proposed slum buildings are well within the standards set forth in the R-3 district, and since the architectural supervision procedure is merely an accident in this case . . . the staff would recommend that only a tree-planting plan be required —fast-growing trees."

Faced with no choice but to approve the plans because they conform with the zoning requirements, the commission did so by unanimous vote.

The planners also:

2. Approved plans of Desmond Mactavish for a 17-unit apartment house in a light industrial district on the Highway 101 frontage road just north of the Club Rio, Novato.

3. Established building standards for Marinwood subdivision Unit 6.

4. Continued to March 16 a public hearing on a resolution of intention to rezone Marin Golf and Country Club Estates near Loma Verde from a planned community district to a one-family residential district.

5. Continued to March 16 further consideration of plans by Laster and Co. for a 16-unit apartment house on the south side of Novato's Grant avenue, just east of Eighth street.

6. Granted a permit for an 83-square-foot sign at the Wilshire service station just north of Richardson Bay Bridge on the east side of Highway 101.

AGILE BURGLAR CLIMBS POLES, STEALS LIGHTS

Recreation Director Joseph Rodota discovered the loss when he sent electricians up to the top of two towers to check on the flood lights, which have not been used for several months. Rodota said he did not know when the bulbs were taken. Estimated loss is $170.

Civic Center Opponents To Organize Drive

A public meeting will be held in San Francisco tomorrow by a group of Marin County taxpayers who oppose the county's multi-million-dollar civic center project.

The session will be held in the staff meeting room of the Firemen's Fund Indemnity Co. at 11:30 a.m.

Among the civic center opponents are a number of Marin residents who commute daily to jobs at Firemen's Fund. One of these, John W. Gottschalk of 121 Marinda drive, Fairfax, estimated recently that at least 50 in the group are Firemen's Fund employees.

At tomorrow's session, the group plans to establish a formal organization and elect a chairman and secretary. All major San Francisco firms which employ large numbers of Marin residents have been sent notices of the meeting.

The session is expected to be followed by a night meeting in San Rafael within the next week.

While the anti-civic center movement started among commuters to San Francisco, leaders of the drive now claim widespread support of Marin County businessmen.

The opponents maintain the cost of the project, which is being financed with property tax revenues, is out of proportion to the county's needs and beyond the ability of the taxpayers.

David S. Watts Rites Tomorrow

Funeral services for David S. Watts of Fairfax will be held tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

Watts, 53, died of cancer Sunday in a local hospital. He was a resident of Marin for 38 years, having come here from San Francisco, where he was born. He resided at 126 Ridge road in Fairfax.

A carpenter, he worked for Edward J. Vacha, San Anselmo building contractor, for 22 years. For leisure, he turned to flowers, entering begonias and other varieties in flower shows at the Marin Art and Garden Center.

He was a charter member of Native Sons of the Golden West, Fairfax Parlor 307, and also belonged to Carpenters Union Local 35 and the San Rafael Elks Lodge.

Carlos Zunino Rites Tomorrow

A Requiem Mass for Carlos Zunino, brother of Mrs. Rose Figone of 122 Domingo avenue, Fairfax, will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at S.S. Peter and Paul's Church, San Francisco. Committal will be in Italian Cemetery, Colma.

Zunino, 75, died Sunday in San Francisco. He is survived by two sisters and a brother, Mrs. Figone, and Mrs. Desolina Freschi and Basilio Zunino in his native Italy.

The Rosary will be recited at the Chapel of Valente, Marini, Perata and Co., 649 Green street, San Francisco, tonight at 8 o'clock.

Koch Wins Suit To Fence Home

After almost three years of fight for a green fiberglass fence around his lot in Kent Woodlands, Harold M. Koch of 609 College avenue is now legally able to put up that fence.

The District Court of Appeals in San Francisco reversed a Marin Superior Court judge and decided that Koch is no longer bound by the original restrictions against such a fence since the Kent family, who formerly owned Kent Woodlands, sold the land and no longer have jurisdiction.

The Kent family sued Koch to prevent him from putting up the six-foot fence. Judge Thomas F. Keating upheld the Kents.

Koch then appealed to the District Court of Appeals in San Francisco, which ruled that the original restrictions do not apply any more because the Kents have no interest in any land to be benefited by the restrictions.

Koch said he now intends to put up his fence. The fiberglass fence is manufactured at the Koch plant in Corte Madera.

Warne Appointed To Fish-Game Post

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today appointed William E. Warne, 53, a former assistant secretary of the interior, as director of the state Department of Fish and Game.

Warne replaced Seth Gordon in the $16,000-a-year post. The selection requires State Senate confirmation.

Warne, now in Korea as economics coordinator for foreign aid, supervised the Fish and Wildlife Service in the interior department from 1947-49.

S.F. Supervisors Ask Delay On Tiburon Span

A resolution asking the Legislature to remove the proposed Tiburon bridge from the state freeway master plan was adopted yesterday by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

Offered by Supervisor Al Zirpoli, the resolution urged removal of the span until public hearings on the bridge problem have been held by the Legislature in San Francisco.

"Let us be heard before they start hiring engineers and proposing plans," Zirpoli said.

Traffic Tag 'Fixes' Alleged In Hub Ballot

Were traffic tickets canceled in wholesale lots to win "yes" votes for a San Anselmo ordinance setting up a retirement program for city employees?

An allegation that they were has been heard by a three-man San Anselmo City Council committee investigating the police department, it was learned today.

The matter may be brought up at a council meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at which time the committee plans to ask that Police Chief Donald T. Wood be ordered to rescind his rule that police cannot talk about department affairs to outsiders —even city councilmen.

McInnis Files For Re-Election

Mayor John F. McInnis, thus far unopposed in the April 13 San Rafael election, officially filed today to run for a second two-year term in office.

His petitions of nomination were filed with the city clerk. Candidates have until March 13 to file their petitions of nomination.

All incumbents have indicated they will run again for re-election. Contests have shaped up for city councilmen, police chief, city attorney and board of education.

DOCTOR

will not be re-arrested under the new indictments, said Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich, because they are already under bail.

When Dr. and Mrs. Willis appear for plea on the first indictment Monday, they will be presented with the eight new charges.

The eight women who told their stories last night testified they paid from $350 to $500 to Dr. Willis for their operations. In each case, the operation was successful. In five of the eight operations, Mrs. Willis helped the doctor, according to testimony given by the women.

In three cases, the doctor worked alone. All operations were performed at the doctor's office at 17 Throckmorton avenue, Mill Valley, the women testified.

"We've hardly scratched the surface," said Weissich. "But I feel we now have enough evidence to show that the operations were not isolated incidents."

Inspector Donald E. Midyett and Investigators William H. Bemiss and Antoan W. Adam tracked down the eight women through medical records confiscated by the district attorney in the arrest on Feb. 3.

Weissich said his investigators would be working on the case indefinitely if they were to try to dig up all the cases where illegal operations are suspected.

shake. The Independent-Journal received excited calls from Sausalito, Tiburon, Corte Madera, San Rafael, San Anselmo and Fairfax. It was felt also in the Independent-Journal building. However, a Lucas Valley resident reported the temblor was not felt there.

The shock sent an earthslide across State Highway 156 about five miles east of Watsonville, blocking the road.

Pipes were buckled and light bulbs popped in a Hollister ice plant. In Alameda, the shock set off a number of burglar and fire alarms. In San Francisco, there were some broken window panes and a few wall cracks.

Meeting On Merger

The Corte Madera and Larkspur Merger Study Committees will meet in joint session again tonight at 8 o'clock in the Larkspur City Hall.

Shot By Wife Saves Husband In Gang Attack

When sheriff's deputies arrived about 10:30 p.m. a group of about 25 youths were milling about the parking area of the drive-in, but the participants had left. Deputies D. L. Greeson and William Brust gave this account of what apparently happened:

Johnnie Merritt, 17, of 67 Molino avenue, Mill Valley, was at the drive-in when two youths started pushing him around. Merrit went back and told his brother-in-law, Bennie C. Patterson, 24, a soldier, who also lives at 67 Molino avenue.

Patterson, his wife, Elaine, and Merritt went back to the drive-in. Patterson got out to ask what the trouble was, and two youths attacked him from both sides. One cut him with a can opener, opening a one and one-half inch gash on his right eyelid.

The frightened Mrs. Patterson seized her husband's pistol and fired one shot into the ground. The attackers fled.

Officers said one of the attackers was about 18, was about 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighed about 180 pounds, and wore a black leather jacket and blue jeans.

No one was arrested. The gun was seized as evidence.

9 Children Drown On School Bus

TIFTON, Ga. (AP)—A school bus hit a rut in a road and overturned in a farm pond today, drowning at least nine children. Rescuers said possibly two or three other bodies may be found in the half submerged bus.

The bus, carrying approximately 60 Negro children, plunged into the pond about 8 a.m., on the farm of Raleigh Coarsey, a mile southwest of Brookfield. The scene is about eight miles from Tifton in south Georgia.

Two white men, Carl Lowry and Charles Ahrens, helped pull several children from the bus after breaking windows on the side remaining above water. Those who were unconscious were laid on the side of the bus. When other help arrived, artificial respiration saved 10 or 12 of these children.

Witnesses said the bus was traveling about 30 miles an hour when it careened into the pond.

AIRPORT

have followed their planes out of the county, with others indicating similar intent, Nelson said, "Most people don't realize the importance of the airplane to the mobile, modern type of light industry. The County of Marin has shown little interest in locating this type of business —so there goes another attraction."

ONE OR TWO

With the closing of his airport, Nelson said, Marin becomes one of two metropolitan counties in the state without municipal airport facilities.

D. K. Pischel Jr. of Sleepy Hollow, whose real estate and agricultural interests require the use of an airplane to cover the state, said today it "seems fantastic that in this age of flight we cannot offer aviation facilities in Marin County."

Also bemoaning the lack of airport facilities in Marin was James Rusch, who managed the San Rafael airport during most of its existence.

"The county," said Rusch, seems to realize it has a real need for light industry, but it effectively prohibits a favorite method of transportation for these industries."

In January, the board of supervisors refused to grant a use permit for an airport which Robert DeYoung wanted to build on the Smith brothers' Santa Venetia ranch. DeYoung proposed to install a 3,000-foot runway for use by light planes only. The facilities would have been provided without cost to the taxpayers.

In rejecting the plan, the supervisors overrode a favorable recommendation by the county planning commission.

STUDY COMMITTEE

The board has since named a special airport committee to study the possibility of county lease of William Quinby Wright's airport property in Novato. Under consideration is lease of 35 acres from Wright, with the county to hold an option to purchase the land after 10 years or renew the lease. The proposal calls for the use of some $24,000 in aviation gas tax money refunded to the county by the state.

When Nelson has wound up all business matters at his airport in San Rafael he will move with his wife and five children to Lake Tahoe to go into business there.

It was noted that in this area there are no major differences of opinion between the county master plan and Scheuer's alternate plan.

Plans for Unit 1 call for 29 one-family homes, nine two-story garden apartment buildings and eight two-story "maisonette" apartmene houses.

The homes will be sold at prices ranging from $12,000 to $15,000. There will be 36 two-garden apartment units, four in each building. These will be rented for $65 to $85 a month. Each of the eight "maisonette" structures will have two three-bedroom apartments, which will rent for $105 a month.

Council Hopes For Smoother Budget Sessions This Year

Corte Madera's town councilmen will huddle Saturday night at the home of Mayor William R. Hansen to decide on the format for this year's town budget.

Last year, budget hearings went on and on, with the budget format revised and re-revised during the sessions. The council, hoping to avoid a repetition of that experience, voted last night to review a proposed new format in the informal atmosphere of the mayor's home before considering it at the next meeting.

Hansen announced the appointment of two new members to the park and recreation commission. They are Morton J. Simon of 21 Lakeside drive and Charles W. Garrison of 8 Echo avenue.

The council deferred acceptance of several miles of freeway frontage roads which the state has announced it plans to relinquish to the city. Councilman Walter S. Long said he wanted to check what effect acceptance would have on the town's "tight budget."

The Corte Madera council also:

1. Agreed to send a letter to the Corte Madera Sanitary District reminding its directors that annexation of Paradise Cay subdivision would make possible merger of the town and district more difficult.

2. Introduced an ordinance creating a joint city-county disaster plan.

3. Approved a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. request for placing street lights in a new section of Mariner's Cove subdivision at a monthly power rate of $53.

4. Requested Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow to send letters to the town treasurer and auditor requesting them to be present at the April 6 council meeting to discuss town bookkeeping methods.

5. Approved sending a letter to the board of supervisors asking for county aid in a $35,000 reconstruction of Paradise drive.

FERRET FINDS FRIENDLY FELLOW

Mark Hansen rather gingerly pets European ferret held by S. Thompson Walker, Junior Museum of Marin manager, during visit to the museum where the ferret is a great favorite. The Junior Museum board today placed in the mail letters asking funds to support the county-wide project in San Rafael. The mail appeal will be the only one undertaken this year, they said. Developer Involved In 2 San Rafael Problems

San Rafael city councilmen ran up against two major problems last night and discovered both are related to Fairhills developer Lloyd Grandi.

One is a big slide that endangers Fairhills drive near the intersection of Valley View avenue. A $400 survey made by Woodward, Clyde Sherard and Associates of Oakland shows that the "slide probably occurred as a result of removing the lateral support when the bench was cut below the road." The cut reportedly was made by Grandi several years ago when he carved out a lot below Fairhills drive.

The city council asked Norris Rawles, public works director, to dig up factual data showing when the excavation was made, by whom, and whether the city gave the excavator a permit. This information is necessary before legal responsibility can be fixed, said City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw.

Both Rawles and City Clerk W. L. Morgan pointed out that the city's records are in such a "mess" that it is almost impossible to dig up records dating back a few years. The records are stuffed in boxes in the city hall basement, and there is no quick way to refer to specific documents, they said. But Rawles will try to find what records he can.

The second problem arose when a property owner, who identified himself as Paul Wells, demanded a building permit to erect a home at the end of Quarry road. Wells said he had bought the lot next to Mosher Brothers property, but the building inspector refuses to issue a permit on grounds the city feels the sewer line is inadequate.

San Rafael and Grandi are in a court wrangle over jurisdiction of the sewer line along Quarry road. The city contends that the Quarry road line is a private line never accepted by the city.

Since the lower 300 feet leaks, the city says new lines cannot be added to the old line. If Grandi would bring the 300 feet of six-inch line to city standards, the city would accept it, and new extensions would be granted to serve Mosher Brothers and Wells. Cost of the 300 feet is estimated at $1,000.

The council asked City Manager Dan E. Andersen to confer with property owners along the line to see if they would pay for replacing the 300-foot line. Councilmen said the city cannot pay for the line because that would set a precedent—the city paying for a private sewer line.

Balm To Drivers: Shorter Trains

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Legislation designed to aid the motorist who is caught behind a seemingly endless freight train has been introduced in the Senate by Sen. George Miller Jr. (D-Martinez).

Miller's proposal, submitted yesterday, would limit the length of freight trains to 4,000 feet and that of passenger trains to 1,200 feet.

Other bills introduced in the Legislature would:

Make it a crime to falsely report that a bomb has been hidden in a public place (SB845, Teale).

Reduce the number of jurors in civil cases from 12 to eight (SCA12, Regan).

Russ Lead European Sweep Of Skiing Championships

SQUAW VALLEY (AP)—North Americans, shut out of the victory circle in the North American Nordic Skiing Championships, had a chance for a title today in the unique biathlon competition.

In the event, the final one on the list of trials for this site of the 1960 Winter Olympic Games, skiers race 20 kilometers (12½ miles) shooting at four target ranges en route.

The field of 20 for the biathlon listed only two foreigners, Klas Lestander of Sweden and Norman Shutt of Newport, Shropshire, England. Half the field is on the U.S. Army team.

A pair of Russians, Pavel Kolchin and Dmitri Kochkin, won their country's first victories yesterday and completed European domination of the North American Nordic skiing event.

Kolchin, a 116-pounder, beat Finland's veteran Veikko Hakulinen in the 15-kilometer (9.3 mile) special cross-country race. Kolchin was timed in 54 minutes 10.7 seconds for a victory margin of three and one-half seconds. Finland's Kalevi Hamalainen placed third in 54:45.2. No United States skier placed in the first 10.

Kochin, a stocky 25-year-old, placed 10th in the 15-kilometer which, with his first in the 60-meter jumping, gave him the title in the competition combining those two events.

In the European sweep, Finland's Kalevi Karkinen won the 80-meter jump with a best leap of 290 feet, 4 inches. Here again the United States took the runner-up spot with Duluth's Gene Kotlarek having a best of 287 feet.

Sweden's Sixteen Jernberg took the 30-kilometer cross-country title in another event where North Americans made no showing. Suffering from a cold, Jernberg was fifth in the 15 kilometers yesterday.

Skating titles in the weekend of international competition also went to Europe. Norway's Knut Johannesen won both the 5,000 and 10,000-meter races, his teammates, Alf Gjestvang, took the 500, and Finland's Juhani Jarvinen broke the world record for 1,500 with 2 minutes, 6.3 seconds.

Stoneham Expects His Sophomores To Do Even Better This Year

CONNOLLY

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Many a true word is spoken in jest, as the boys say downtown, and Horace Stoneham, Giant boss, came aboard with a ton of truth the other afternoon when he said:

"This ball club could grow up together!"

No training camp these old eyes have gazed upon is more fraught with excitement than the 1959 Giants. From the clubhouse boy up to the top brass the spirit of conquest is contagious.

"That's bunk in the raw," Stoneham says. "Why we expect our kids to be better this year than last year because they have gone through the wringer year. I'll wager Cepeda, Davenport, Schmidt, Alou and Kirkland improve in the coming season. And if they do we can't do anything but make our fans happier than they were last year.

"Stu Miller ought to be a better pitcher than he was in 1958; Antonelli is looking forward to a great year; Mike McCormick, I think, will be a sensation. You know, this is his third season as a Giant, and he has picked up the fine points, slowly but surely.

Jack Sanford we're counting on to return to his 1957 pitching form. Now, if we can just have one more starter in the pitching ranks, we might never look back."

"THE GIANTS," Stoneham maintains, "made enough runs and got enough hits in '58 to win the pennant. But we were, as the horse handicappers say, 'a little short.' This year we're set and will go the distance."

Make no mistake about the Giants. Stoneham is the boss. His word is first, last and final. He trusts certain duties to certain men and expects them to deliver. He never second guesses and he isn't afraid to speak up and say his piece. But when he does, it's taken in the same fashion as it is passed out . . . strictly in a constructive way.

Rigney's doctors might have advised him about not donning a uniform until later in training. But the doctors didn't have to impose any such orders. Stoneham told his manager, on the phone, before he left for camp, that he could stay home if he didn't want to look at the training from the stands.

"We need Rigney to be in good health, after the flag chase begins," says Stoneham. "Now he can watch and wait and advise. We want him to be the push button type of field general for awhile before he dons the uniform. He has all the help, and competent help, he needs, so why expose himself unnecessarily?"

The Giants may well "grow up together" as Stoneham remarks, jokingly, for so far the makeup of the club, regulars, is a bit under 27 years of age. If the team as it is supposed to be as of this date takes the field, Darrell Spencer will be the oldest in the lineup and he is not yet 29.

"We spotted every club at least two runs per game last season, skipper Rigney maintains.

"We got enough runs but our defenses crumbled at crucial moments. And by that I mean, our pitching was hot and cold. At times our fielding was poor. But you got to expect that from a young and hustling ball club.

"Spencer, I am sure, will maker fewer errors at second base than he did at shortstop. Most of his miscues last year were from bad throws, and hurried throws. At second base, he will not have to make the long throw."

RIGNEY IS MORE than highly pleased with his infield throwing. Every one of the players from Cepeda to Spencer to Rogers to Davenport are cannon throwers. The outfield is rated as a "dream outfit" because of its speed, defensive strength and power at the plate.

'Brandt in leftfield, Mays in centerfield and Alou in right have all the requisites of a 'Branch Rickey perfect outfield'," Rigney says.

"They got the power, the throwing ability and all of 'em can fly on the bases."

There are many baseball observers here who think Alou is faster than Willie Mays. And it may take a foot race or an expert timer to clock 'em in a matchc race around the bases.

ONE THING is certain between Mays and Alou. And that is Alou may out-throw him. Willie's arm still is better than average in the National League but it has petered out a bit the last few years. According to close observers, he is not as accurate as he used to be.

As far as the Giants have gone in training, everything seems quite rosy. And I'm just "busher" enough to think they are pennant conscious. But I'd like to see them a few weeks after the race gets under way before I can predict, with any degree of accuracy, whether they can make it.

All I can say right now is the boys are hustling and are out to give the rest of the league a merry fight for the top berth, come next October.

Giants Bonus Pitcher Perry Looks Sharp

PHOENIX (AP) — Bill Rigney, the San Francisco Giants' manager, agrees that $90,000 bonus pitcher Gaylord Perry looks sharp in his training camp mound work.

But neither Rigney nor his coaches will risk an opinion this early on the rookie who won nine and lost five last year for St. Cloud, Minn., in the Class C Northern League.

Perry, a 6-foot-1 righthander, smoked several fast ones by outfielder Leon Wagner yesterday as the Giants readied for their first exhibition game Saturday with Cleveland. The game will be played in Tucson.

Rigney said he needed another starting pitcher for the 1959 campaign.

"But there are still several weeks of training during which we'll take a look at everyone in camp," he added.

Jack Sanford and Billy Muffett, two pitchers the Giants picked up in trades, get their chances today. Sanford was 10-13 with Philadelphia last year and Muffett was 4-6 with St. Louis.

The Giants pitching problem has been complicated by the holdouts of Ramon Monzant, who was 8-11 with the Giants, and Al Worthington, who was 11-7.

Writers Again Name Newell Coach Of Year

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Pete Newell, whose California Bears are expected to wrap up their third straight Pacific Coast Conference title against Oregon State this weekend, has been named "Coach of the Year" for the third time by the Northern California Basketball Writers and Broadcasters Assn.

The following players were named to the all-Northern California squad:

First Team—Neumann, Laroy Doss, St. Mary's; Leroy Wright, College of Pacific; Denny Fitzpatrick, California; Darrall Imhoff, California, and Frank Sobrero, Santa Clara (Imhoff and Sobrero finished in a tie for a first team berth, boosting the quintet to six men).

Second Team—Dick Sigaty, St. Mary's; Dave Klurman, COP; Tom Meschery, St. Mary's; Al Buch, California, and Fred Lacour, University of San Francisco.

UPI Names All-America Cage Team

NEW YORK (UPI)—Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati whose 33.6-point scoring average represents only a small part of his varied basketball talents, led the voting today for the 1959 United Press International All-American team

Named with Robertson by the direct vote of 290 sports writers and radio-TV broadcasters throughout the nation were: Bailey Howell of Mississippi State, Bob Boozer of Kansas State, Jerry West of West Virginia and Don Hennon of Pittsburgh.

Gaels Try For Perfect Mark Tonight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. Mary's Gaels try for a perfect West Coast Athletic Conference season tonight against Santa Clara at San Jose Civic Auditorium.

Unbeaten in their first 11 WCAC games, the Gaels have already pocketed the title and a berth in the Western Regional NCAA playoffs at the San Francisco Cow Palace March 13-14.

They beat Santa Clara Coach Bob Feerick's Broncs 65-54 Jan. 17. But the Broncs, 7-3 in the league and winner of five of their six games, are out to clinch second place, the spot they now hold. They meet San Francisco in a finale Saturday.

At Fullerton last night, Humboldt State lost a 63-52 contest with Whittier in the NAIA District 3 Basketball Tournament. Whittier meets Pasadena College tonight for the championship. Pasadena beat Westmont 83-72.

Northern California Pacific Coast Conference teams were idle, but at Eugene, Ore., Idaho beat Oregon 64-58.

Drake Basketball Dinner Thursday

Drake High School's varsity and Class B basketball squads will be honored by the Drake Benchwarmers Thursday night at the annual team banquet to be held at Sleepy Hollow School, it was announced yesterday.

Lopes Is Favorite

NATIONAL BASKETBALL

Robertson Breaks 3 School Records

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Cincinnati and Bradley cleared decks today for their showdown battle for an NCAA tournament berth, but down in the Border Conference the tourney selectors are simply "fit to be tied."

Oscar Robertson smashed three school records as he tallied 44 points in leading Cincinnati to a 95-64 romp over North Texas State last night at Cincinnati to clinch at least a share of the Missouri Valley Conference championship.

But Bradley kept its faint title hopes flickering by beating Houston, 74-60, as Bobby Joe Mason scored 18 points.

Now Cincinnati, 12-0 in the league, meets Bradley (11-3) Saturday. For Bradley to wind up in a title tie, it must beat Robertson and Co. in this one and then hope St. Louis can do the same next next Monday night.

But the Border Conference race to an NCAA berth wound up last night in a triple tie among Texas Western, New Mexico State and defending champion Arizona State U., each with a 7-3 league record. This state of affairs came about when New Mexico State lost to West Texas State, 83-75, and Texas Western dropped an overtime, 58-57, decision to Hardin-Simmons. A win for either contender would have settled the crown.

Now two playoff games must be held to break the deadlock.

Robertson went on a rampage as Cincinnati scored its 16th straight win to tie a school record. He tallied 11 baskets for a career total 628, breaking Jack Twyman's school mark of 622, and also set school marks of 22 free throws in the game and a string of 23 straight free throws in the last two games.

St. Louis was eliminated from the rugged Missouri Valley race despite an 83-55 victory over Tulsa as Bob Ferry scored 27 points. However, the Billikens are considered a cinch for a bid to the National Invitation Tournament.

Three berths were left unfilled in the 12-team NIT today with the announcement that Butler (18-8) has accepted a bid to the carnival which opens at New York's Madison Square Garden March 12.

Moment Of Glory

MERCED (UPI)—Willy Moon of San Francisco was called in as a last-minute substitute last night in a middleweight bout at Merced Fairgrounds. Woody Winslow of Merced knocked him out in one minute of the first round.

Cage Tournament Pairings Listed

NEW YORK (AP)—The UCAA has announced pairings for two regional basketball tournaments at Madison Square Garden in New York and Lexington, Ky., March 10.

The New York triple-header opens with the Yankee Conference champion meeting an at-large team which probably won't be selected until late in the week. In the second game Navy will play the Atlantic Coast Conference champion while West Virginia, champion of the Southern Conference, plays the Ivy League titleholder in the finale.

49ers To Meet Eagles And Browns In League Schedule

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers will open their National Football League season at home on Sept. 27 against Coach Buck Shaw's Philadelphia Eagles, it was announced.

The 49ers also are scheduled to make their first appearance in Cleveland since 1953 when they meet the Browns there on Nov. 29, club officials said.

The Baltimore Colts will play at Kezar Stadium on Saturday, Dec. 5, in a nationally televised contest.

The schedule:

Sept. 27—Philadelphia; Oct. 4—Los Angeles; Oct. 11—at Green Bay; Oct. 18—at Detroit; Oct. 25—Chicago Bears; Nov. 1—Detroit Lions; Nov. 8—at Los Angeles; Nov. 15—Chicago Bears; Nov. 22—at Baltimore; Nov. 29—at Cleveland; Dec. 5—Baltimore; Dec. 13—Green Bay.

HANLEY'S REPORT

Rigney Popular With Reporters

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

PHOENIX, Ariz. — There is no doubt about it. Bill Rigney is a popular man, not only with his Giant ball players and coaching staff but with sports writers and photographers who have been on the baseball beat many years.

This is our first tour with the Giant club and we just sat back and listened when Rigney checked into training camp during the weekend.

As he greeted each writer and cameraman by name, including several from New York who dropped into camp to say hello, he did so with a personal touch that had a sincere flavor to it.

Rigney's doctor admonished him to speak softly so as not to disturb his wired jaw, but he purposely raised his voice so all present in a Hotel Adams conference room would be sure to hear him, especially one writer who wears a hearing aid.

"Can you hear me all right," he almost shouted across the room to the writer dependent on mechanical hearing assistance.

"Just fine, Bill, just fine," said the writer.

"That's right. I had to make a deal with the doctor not to disturb his handiwork."

Rigney's jaw, broken in three places when he fell asleep at the wheel of his automobile, will remain wired "until opening day in San Francisco." That's April 14. Even the doctor knows it would be unreasonable to expect Rigney to speak softly once the 1959 pennant chase opens.

COACH SALTY Parker, boss of the Giant training camp during Rigney's hospitalization and recuperation, said:

From all corners of the room came echoing comments of "You can say that again," "Include me in on that," "That goes for all of us, Bill."

Rigney obviously felt the warmth of the greetings. His response was spontaneous and tinged with a bit of emotion. It seemed to be directed not only to his well-wishers but also the Big Boss for sparing his life and that of his wife.

"Im not only glad to be here, I'm mighty thankful too," he said, adding that Mrs. Rigney, injured with him in the accident, "was coming along fine although she will be in the hospital another three weeks or a month."

Getting to the subject of baseball, Rigney said he will be a push-button bleacher manager for the next couple of weeks before seeing if his uniform still fits him. Unquestionably it will because he has been on an osterized food diet.

"MY LITTLE girl told me: 'Daddy, you should eat in your room because you're kind of a messy eater.'"

Unless he skipped lunch on the plane flying from San Francisco to Phoenix, the Giant skippers table manners have improved because there wasn't one spot on his natty red sweater or neatly pressed tan slacks.

Despite his immobile jaw, Rigney's sense of humor still is as sharp as ever. He chuckled as much as he could when he saw the welcome gift Adams Hotel Manager Jack Kane sent to his suite—a huge bowl of old-fashioned candy jaw breakers, pop-corn and several of the hardest and greenest apples he could find.

PEPPERBALL WARMUP FOR PHILLIES

Lane Tells A. L. To Gang Up On Yankees

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Frank Lane, blunt-spoken general manager of the Cleveland Indians, has made a frank exhortation to the other American League clubs to join him in all out warfare against the New York Yankees.

"We should all have one common objective," declared the fiery Lane. "That is to do everything in our power—on the field, of course—to prevent the Yankees from winning again.

"I feel we can do it," he added, "if we get together and make up our minds to throw only the best pitchers against the Yankees. If we all concentrate on that I'm willing to bet this season will be remembered as the year the Yankees did not win the pennant.

"The trouble with some of the other clubs is that they have draped a cloak of invincibility over the Yankees. We must destroy this illusion. The Yankees are good but they are not an outstanding club by any means. They are benefitting from a certain momentum, a carryover from previous winning clubs."

Lane's latest blast at the Yankees came in the nature of a parting shot. A St. Petersburg, Fla., resident, he left immediately for the Indians' training camp at Tucson, Ariz.

"The Yankees wouldn't have won last year if Bob Turley and Ryne Duren hadn't come through," Lane said. "And Duren was a distinct surprise. They certainly didn't win because of their hitting.

"They don't figure to be any better this year. When a Yankee team goes into spring training with three players 40 years old and over, that's an indication they are hurting."

Lane did not say so outright but he indicated certain clubs last year assumed a defeatist attitude when playing the Yankees.

"Some clubs figured why use their best pitchers and take a chance on losing when Whitey Ford was scheduled to pitch for the Yankees," he said. "A weak club is next so they saved the best for an almost certain victory. We must adopt a gang-up policy on the Yankees this year.

"Don't think this type of opposition didn't prove successful against the Dodgers in 1951. That was the year Brooklyn was riding roughshod over the other National League clubs.

Charlie Dressen, who was manager then, rubbed it in. He infuriated the rest of the league to such an extent that the other clubs went out of their way to beat him.

"That was the year the Giants overcame a 13½-game lead in mid-August and went on to defeat the Dodgers in the playoffs."

U.S. Jumpers May Surprise In Olympics

SQUAW VALLEY (AP) — The U.S. ski jumping team's coach predicted today that Nordic countries, always strong in that graceful sport, would be in for a surprise at the next Winter Olympics.

"Gene Kotlarek is an example of our progress," Lloyd Severud declared yesterday. "I feel our prospects are better than ever before."

The best an American ever has done in Olympic jumping is a fifth place scored in 1948 by Gordon Wren.

Severud, a jumper for 33 of his 43 years, figures Kotlarek has a chance to win the event. The 18-year-old Duluth, Minn. collegian came in second in the North American Championships off Squaw Valley's new and spectacular Olympic hill.

He jumped 85 and 87½ meters (278.8 and 287 feet). The winner, Kalevi Karkinen, a Finn, soared 85 and 88½ meters (278.8 and 290.3 feet).

The next American, Roy Sherwood of Salisbury, Conn., was seventh. But Severud said he didn't think his candidates were jumping to their capabilities.

NATURAL INRUN

Severud, whose home is at Chetek, Wis., said the Americans were not used to the natural inrun, since most of them jump from artificial slides. They felt that they were going faster than they actually were, he said. Jumpers on the 80-meter (262-foot) hill hit speeds up to 56½ miles per hour on takeoff.

"What really pleased me," Severud said, "is the way Kotlarek outformed Karkinen. We've always been low on form, trying for distance instead.

"Now maybe we'll do both."

Along with Kotlarek, he listed as top prospects for next year's team, former Olympians Keith Wegemen of La Canada and Art Tokle of Rockaway, N.Y., ninth and 10th in the North American; Sherwood, and national champion Willie Erickson, Kingsford, Mich., who fell and finished 36th.

Kotlarek used the Finnish "torpedo" style—hands down and dive rather than hands out and spring—and Finnish observers here said he is the first American to master the technique.

Severud said the other Americans are experimenting with other versions of the Finn style.

Williams Eager To Try For 3rd Straight Batting Title

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI) — Ted Williams, as eager and seemingly fit as a man half his age, said today he was "lucky to play at all last season" because of an ankle ailment.

Williams had just line two batting practice drives over the 360-foot right field wall and was in such good humor that he even joked with old sparring mates in the press corps.

"All I want is peace and quiet," kidded Williams. "I hit .388 in 1957 after a good spring training period and I figure a good spring is all I need to make a fine showing this year."

Williams turned just a trifle petulant when a reporter asked him if he might win a third straight batting title this year—a feat no American Leaguer has performed since Ty Cobb.

"I really did it once anyway," He said. "Three years ago I led the league but they wouldn't allow it because I hadn't been to bat enough times."

TED MISTAKES

An examination of the record book disclosed, however, that Williams was mistaken. He thought he was referring to the 1956 season, but actually had confused it with the 1954 campaign. Ted hit .345 in both seasons but in 1954 did not qualify for the title because he went to bat only 386 times. He batted the required 400 times in 1956 but was beaten out of the title by New York Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle's .353 average.

Williams did not lead the league in either 1953 of 1955 so his argument actually was incorrect on all counts.

Little Leaguers To Sign Up In Ross Saturday

Signups for the Ross Little League will be held Saturday of this week, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., at the Ross Town Hall, it was announced today by President Charles Doyle.

Eligible are Ross boys from the third grade in school through 12 years of age, Doyle said. Each boy must be accompanied to the signups by a parent and bring proof of age, he said.

Tryouts are scheduled March 21.

Four New Members Elected By Belvedere Tennis Club

Four new members were elected to the board of directors of the Belvedere Tennis Club at the first annual membership meeting of the club, recently held at the Belvedere Community Hall. The new directors are Lewis Vogler, Belvedere; Harry Wagner, Strawberry; Michael Khourie, Kentfield, and William Brewer, Sausalito.

In a report to the membership, President Walter Machette of Belvedere revealed that planning is underway for the construction of a building which will provide changing rooms, a common room and simple facilities for food preparation. This structure, which will fulfill the needs of the Belvedere Tennis Club until construction of a permanent clubhouse, will be movable and adaptable for other use in the future.

During a review of the objectives and accomplishments of the club since its establishment a little more than a year ago, Machette pointed out that all plans for the year had been fulfilled exactly as outlined. This included the construction of the first three courts at the anticipated cost. Also, Machette reported that during the first year the club reached a total of 76 members, as against a goal of 75.

An organizational meeting of the new board of directors was held immediately following the annual meeting. Machette was re-elected to a second term as president, and W. D. Cuthbertson, Tiburon, was re-elected to a second term as vice president. Jack Welisch, Belvedere, was re-elected to the post of treasurer and Wagner was elected to the newly created post of assistant treasurer. Vogler was elected sercetary of the organization.

Mariners To Meet All-Star Squad Next Friday Night

Seven players today were named to the Golden Valley Conference All-Star basketball squad that will oppose the champion College of Marin Tars this Friday night at Kent field, it was reported by Marin Athletic Director Harry Pieper.

They are Bob Wright, Tim Burke and Terry Banderas of Sierra College, Al Smith and Joe Brouillard of Shasta, and Harry Broumas and Russ Mayfield of Yuba J.C.

Other teams in the conference also will send their two or three outstanding players to the Marin All-Star game, Pieper said, but he has not yet received the selections.

Proceeds of the game, to start at 8 o'clock, will be used to help defray the Marin team's expenses for the trip to Santa Monica and the state junior college championship in March, Pieper explained.

Bolivian Chief Seeks To Calm Anti-U.S. Mobs

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Seeking to calm enraged mobs which stoned the U.S. Embassy, Bolivian President Hernan Siles said last night American officials have denied a Time magazine story that touched off the anti-American outburst.

The Time article quoted an unidentified U.S. Embassy official as suggesting Bolivia, because of its economic problems, should be abolished as a country and "its neighbors divide the country and its problems."

BURN U.S. FLAG

Siles took to the streets and the radio after the rioting resulted in the fatal shooting of a 15-year-old student. At one point mobs burned the U.S. flag but there were no reports of injuries to Americans.

In a radio appeal, Siles said the U.S. charge d'affaires had told him the Time magazine article did not correspond to statements made by an American diplomatic official.

The quote in question appeared in the current hemisphere edition of Time, which circulates in Latin America, but not in the U.S. edition.

BURN MAGAZINE

Angry mobs burned issues of Time in front of the embassy. A police cordon was thrown around the building and along neighboring streets, but about 200 youths broke through.

Later, stone-throwing mobs broke many of the windows in the embassy. Others stoned the offices of the U.S. Information Service two blocks away and broke into the USIS library, destroying books and magazines.

Macmillan, In Moscow Goodby, Decries Force

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan warned the Russians in farewell today against a resort to force in the Berlin crisis. Premier Nikita Khrushchev, wishing him bon voyage, said, "We are in favor of solving all disputed issues only by peaceful negotiations."

A joint communique, a Macmillan news conference and parting exchanges at Moscow's Vnukovo Airport summed up the positions of Britain and the Soviet Union on world issues as determined in talks over the past 10 days.

Macmillan told a news conference the Berlin situation has "dangerous implications" which must be settled by negotiation and not by force.

"Unilateral action can only lead to danger," Macmillan said. "We must avoid unilateral action and agree to negotiate together."

Earlier, Macmillan and Khrushchev had admitted in a communique summing up their talks that they had been unable to agree on political and legal aspects of a World War II peace treaty with Germany.

But the two government heads said they had had useful talks.

They had agreed, Macmillan and Khrushchev said, that the problems of Germany must be settled, and that early negotiations must get under way.

The communique said the two premiers also agreed on a common objective of ultimate prohibition of nuclear weapons under an international system of inspection and control.

Discoverer's Fate Still In Doubt

INGLEWOOD (AP)—The status of Discoverer I—the rocket the Air Force hoped would achieve polar orbit — was still very much in doubt today.

Official hopes of an orbit were raised yesterday on the basis of radio signals picked up in Alaska. But early today searchers failed in effort to find the missile by bouncing a radio signal off it.

RADIO SIGNAL

At the Standard Oil Co. research center in Cleveland, Ohio, sensitive radio receivers were to pick up any reflected signals, but none was received.

Dr. A. L. Jones of the Cleveland facility said he was reasonably certain his equipment would have picked up a reflected signal if the Discoverer had been where it was supposed to be.

SIGNALS HEARD

An Air Force spokesman said last night that signals picked up by a tracking station in Alaska tended to substantiate previous belief that orbit had been achieved.

The official announcement from the Ballistic Missile Division said the signals, sporadic bursts of from four to six seconds duration, lasted for a period of approximately six minutes.

The 1,300-pound rocket was launched from Vandenberg Air Force Base, 175 miles north of Los Angeles, on Saturday.

U.S. Cautious On New Russ Reply To West

WASHINGTON (AP)—American officials said today the Soviet Union has removed some, but by no means all, of the road blocks to a negotiated settlement of the German crisis.

These officials cautiously welcomed a new Soviet note accepting the West's proposal to hold a foreign ministers conference on the critical issues. But their first intensive examination of the 10-page note, received here yesterday, turned up several fishhooks.

ONE CONCESSION

They saw one concession: Kremlin agreement to a foreign ministers meeting at Geneva or Vienna next month.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev had said in a Moscow speech last Tuesday that a foreign ministers meeting would be a waste of time, so why not get on immediately with a summit conference. Now, the Soviets were agreeing to a foreign ministers meeting, limited to three months.

LINE REPEATED

American officials also saw a repetition of a previous Soviet line—that German reunification was a matter for the East and West Germans, and nobody else, to settle.

Some other demands and pre-conditions in the note would have to be explored in requests to Moscow for clarification.

U. S. consultations with Britain, France and West Germany are scheduled to start at Bonn next Tuesday.

One major cause of relief was Moscow's apparent de-emphasis of May 27 as a critical deadline. This was the date set by Khrushchev for turning East Berlin over to East Germany if no East-West talks were under way by then.

Cubans Protest Acquittal Of 43 'War Criminals'

SANTIAGO, Cuba (AP)—Demonstrators ranged through this provincial capital last night, shouting protests against a military tribunal's acquittal of 45 Cuban airmen charged with mass murder bombings of rebel villages in Oriente province.

The demonstrations abated after the prosecutor, Lt. Antonio Cejas, appealed the verdict and it was announced that a new trial would start before a different tribunal. The airmen were kept in jail.

The court had held the charges had not been proved. The airmen were accused of bombing and strafing civilians as part of former President Fulgencio Batista's campaign against Fidel Castro's rebels.

The defendants claimed they deliberately dropped their bombs in open country to avoid killing civilians.

EASTER PARADE

Crippled Children's Society To Be Focus Honor Group

Twenty-four fashionable outfits each telling a spring success story will be "Sealed in Easter Style" and marked perfect for the Easter parade and after by the R and M Style Shops at next Tuesday's popular Fashion Focus luncheon at Rickey's.

Appropriately "Sealed in Easter Style" will honor the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., whose own spring success story will best be told when donations begin to pour in from the 40,000 Easter seal envelopes which have been mailed to Marin families. The Easter Seal success story began 17 years ago and because of thousands of handicapped children and adults have been given a new lease on life.

Since the story of the Crippled Children's Society is a happy story, next Tuesday's "Fashion Focus" luncheon will be an especially happy one. A group of handicapped citizens in their wheel chairs will enjoy their first fashion show luncheon as the guest of John Rickey and will enthusiastically applaud the attractive models who will represent the Society and its affiliates, the Recreation Unit, the Hobby Unit and the Friends of Arequipa

The "Fashion Focus" guests next Tuesday will not only have a chance to do their Easter looking without budging from a coffee cup, but they can brighten up their lapel with a charming bouquet of Easter lilies made by the Friends of Arequipa.

Escorting the models in their accessorized outfits by R and M will be theme boy of the Easter Seal campaign, Tim Cain, and last year's theme girl Pamela Schmidt, who no longer needs her crutches but runs and plays like every other young girl her age.

The fashion success story for spring is a deft individual touch to make every woman happy in the Easter parade regardless of age or figure. Since fashions don't come in "one" look this spring, and fashion show guests don't come in "one" size, it is this individuality that R and M will emphasize. Suits, dresses, costume outfits, spring hats, jewelry and handsome bags will all point up one important fact! it's a season to have an unlimited choice in finding an Easter outfit that is "Sealed in Easter Style," and right for the misses, junior, mature or half-size figure.

Hair styles to blossom under R and M spring hats will be created by Tone's House of Beauty in Corte Madera, with Beauty Counselors adding the proper blend of coordinated make-up.

The popular luncheon series is open to the public. Reservations may be made by calling Rickey's Rancho Rafael. Luncheon is at 12:30 and the fashions at 1 o'clock.

Alpha Delta Pi Sets Benefit Bridge Party

April 14 has been set as the date of the Alpha Delta Pi benefit telephone-bridge party. Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults wil be the recipient of certain equipment bought with proceeds from the affair.

It is planned to hold dessert-bridges at five home simultaneously throughout the county. There will be an award for top score at each home, and a grand award—as befitting the name of the benefit—a colored telephone, for the top score as telephoned into chairman Mrs. Glen Widdows by each hostess.

The following Marin Alumnae have opened their homes for this function: Mrs. Robert Armington of San Rafael, Mrs. Martin Seaver of Mill Valley and Mrs. George Fay on Ricardo road, Strawberry. The new Greenbrae home of Mrs. William Hagler will host another group. Also, inviting those from north Marin to her home is Mrs. Dorothy Waterman of Terra Linda. Reservations are being handled by Mrs. Widdows and the above hostesses.

These final plans were discussed at the ADPi February meeting held recently at the Marin County Crippled Children's and Adult's Center at Fairfax. Those alumnae attending to help with work on the Easter Seal Drive were the Mesdames Robert Armington, Bradford Muse, John Rossi,Jr., Marjorie Hedden and James Ricksecker of San Rafael; Alton Fountain of Novato; Mesdames William Bentinck, Jack Van Wart and Donald Guild, Larkspur; William Hagler, Greenbrae. From Southern Marin, Mesdames George Fay, Robert Lashly and Martin Seaver. Also attending were Mesdames Don McCaw, Louis Demartini and Robert Zasso, all of San Anselmo. The latter is a recent addition to the Marin organization, having moved to the County from San Fracisco. Mrs. Frederick Coholan of Fairfax, another ex-San Franciscan who recently joined the Marin ADPi's, was also present to assist.

During the business meeting Mrs. Armington, president, explained the qualifications for National Alpha Delta Pi Outstanding Alumna Award. Mrs. Lillian Seaver was unanimously chosen to represent the Marin group. For the past two and one-half years Mrs. Seaver has been interested in the activities of the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults and is presently a member of the Board of Trustees. She has been a member and officer of the Marin Alpha Delta Pi Alumnae organization for eight years, and is one of its charter members. Lillian also has assisted many other county organizations in their fund-raising campaigns. Recently, she became a candidate for master's degree in English at Dominican College, having received her bachelor degree in Journalism from the University of California at Berkeley. While there she was a member of the sorority's Psi chapter. Among Mrs. Seaver's other accomplishments are her former news reporting stints with the San Francisco Chronicle, the Honolulu Star Bulletin and Mexico City Herald. Several years were spent in Tokyo with her husband where she was a historian for the U.S. Department of the Army. Before returning to her native Marin she continued traveling around the world. Lillian resides in Mill Valley with her husband, Martin, an attorney, and eight-year old daughter, Kevin.

Presbyterial Meeting Set On March 9

"We Unite and Declare Our Oneness" is the theme for the 70th annual Redwoods Presbyterial meeting to be held on Monday, March 9 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo. Mrs. Dan Pratt of Vallejo, president of the Presbyterial, will preside over the meeting.

Three guest speakers will highlight the activities. Miss Elizabeth Manuel, western area secretary for the Board of Christian Education will speak in the morning on "Accent on Leadership." Mrs. Varner Jerald, president of the California Synodical Society, will deliver the afternoon message and speaking in the evening on "The Gospel Goes to College" will be Dr. John Hadsell, director of the Westminster Foundation of Northern California and university pastor at San Francisco State College.

Meditation, music, a "Make it Yourself Tea" and a tour of the San Francisco Theological Seminary are other events planned for all interested people who wish to attend.

MISS KEMPF IS BETROTHED

The engagement of Carmela Marie Kempf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Kempf of Sausalito and Jay William Ruby of Malibu Beach is being announced by her parents.

Carmela Marie is an alumnae of Dominican Convent Upper School and received her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of California at Berkeley where she a member of the Kappa Gamma Sorority. She has one sister, Andrea, also of Sausalito.

Jay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ruby of Chicago, Illinois. He attended Wheaton College in Northeastern Illinois and the University of California in Los Angeles.

Plans for the wedding of the young couple are as yet indefinite.

Carpenters Auxiliary Hosting Irish Dinner

A corned beef and cabbage dinner is being given by the Carpenters Auxiliary No. 495, on March 17, at the Carpenters Hall, 647 Lindaro, San Rafael. The public is invited.

Recently the Auxiliary celebrated its eleventh anniversary with dinner and dancing at the Green Mill in Cotati. Attending were Messrs. and Mesdames A. B. Reeves, W. F. Scovill, Holdworth, Leard, E. L. Ellingson, Gartell, Hooper, George Haskin, C. L. Haskin, L. E. Wessel, O. P. Breist, C. W. Hammock, A. F. Borges, Ned Miller, Gus Kard, Edward Griffin, Ben Fowler, Mesdames Geraldine Riley, Anabelle Jones, Elsie Livesay, Manuel Andrade, J. P. Cornwell, Cullie Manning, and Mr. Henry Sanders.

Charm 'N Farmers To Sponsor Class

The Charm 'N Farmers Square Dance Club is sponsoring an adult beginners class starting Thursday March 19 at E Street School, 8 to 10 p.m. Larry Twist is the instructor and everyone is welcome.

Plans are under way for the April 4 party night. Music will be furnished by the Westernaires and Larry Twist will be the caller. Mrs. Milt Adams is chairman.

Several couples from the Fiddle Footers visited Tuesday night workshop to claim their guest book, which was taken to encourage visits from neighboring clubs.

A reminder is given that March 10 is the last night the Charm 'N Farmers will meet at Santa Venetia School. Tuesday dances will be held at Davidson School after that date.

Triple C Plans Lunch Tomorrow

"Drama and the Church—the Three Marys" will be presented as the program for tomorrow's luncheon meeting of the Community Church Club, according to Mrs. H. W. Symmes, program chairman.

Following the 12:30 p.m. luncheon this medieval mystery play will be enacted by a cast of members under the direction of Mrs. William B. Allen.

For the reading section program on March 18, at 2:30 p.m., Mrs. Norman Freman will review "A Single Pebble" by John Hersey and "The U.S. and China" by John Fairbank.

Tea will be served following the program.

Child care will be provided for both meetings.

Israel Topic For Hadassah

The regular meeting of Marin Hadassah has been cancelled so that members can attend the tea being given by Santa Rosa Chapter on Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Alexander Dushkin will be the honor guest and speaker. Mrs. Dushkin, who was national vice president of Hadassah, has lived in Israel since 1949 and is a member of the government's committee on agricultural education and also represents Israel on the nutrition committee of the Home Economics College. Mrs. Dushkin will tell of what has been accomplished in Israel and outline plans for its future.

Members of the Petaluma and Vallejo chapters have also been invited to the tea. Mrs. Philander Beadle is making arrangements for transportation of the Marin members and forming car pools. Reservations should be made with her.

Reading Arts Section

The Reading Arts Section of the American Association of University Women will meet Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. R. DePue, 115 Vista Grande, Greenbrae. Mrs. R. I. Christensen will lead the group in a discussion of "Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys," by Max Shulman and "The Organization Man" by William H. Whyte, Jr. Co-hostess for the evening will be Mrs. John Schmitz.

NO OTHER CLOTHES DRYER CAN DRY SO FAST...SO QUIETLY...SO GENTLY AS

Hamilton

TWIN AIR-STREAMS

Twin Air-Stream drying is the big difference in clothes dryers today! All dryers use a stream of air—which should be soft enough for drying gentleness, fast enough for drying speed. Other dryers try to do these two different jobs with just one air-stream—which can't be right for both.

Only Hamilton clothes dryers give you Twin Air-Stream drying. Two separate air-streams—a feather-soft Cradling-Current for drying gentleness, a business-like Carrier-Current for drying speed.

SEE WHAT A WONDERFUL DIFFERENCE TWIN AIR-STREAM DRYING MAKES!

Some dryers use "tornado" air systems. Air is whipped in and out of the dryer—windstorm-fast, but hard on clothes.

Other dryers use "lazy air" systems. Air slowly drifts in and out of the dryer—easy on clothes, but maddeningly slow.

Functions At College Marin To Be Tea-Style Show Theme

"Functions at College of Marin" is the theme chosen by the Associated Women Students for this year's annual Tea and Fashion Show tomorrow at the College. Spring styles, for both the college man and coed, will be as varied as the activities of the busy collegians.

They will include fashions for the beach, for the campus and classroom, for sports events and for the prom. The clothes will be from Modern Eve and Swartz Brothers Store for Men in San Rafael.

The 1959 theme also will be carried out in the decorations which will feature posters depicting campus activities.

The tea will be held in the art-lecture room of the art building from 2 to 4 p.m. followed by the fashion show from 4 to 5 p.m. in Olney hall.

Guests of honor will be the seniors girls of Marin's high schools. Invitations also have been extended to the following high school deans.

Misses Gwendolyn Gibson, Tomales; Florence Abraham, San Rafael; Alice Dolan, Tamalpais; and Mesdames Ruth Mayo, Novato; Emma Jean Walzen, Redwood; Harriett Crabb, Drake; and Sister Superior Carletta Marie, Marin Catholic.

High school counselors invited to the tea and fashion show are Misses Eunice Reader, director of counselors of the Tamalpais Union High School District; Frances Parks, Bobbie Powell, Elizabeth Harper, Drake; Mary MacDermott, Louise Abbott, Lillian Roth, Tamalpais; and Mrs. John B. Jennings Jr., head mistress of Katherine Branson School. Barbara Traeger is head of the invitation committee.

COLUMNIST DR. BARBOUR WILL SPEAK IN MARIN MARCH 13

Dr. Richmond Barbour, widely read columnist, will speak on "Male versus Female" in the Sir Francis Drake High School gymnasium Friday night, March 13, starting at 8 o'clock. The guidance counsellor's concise answers to reader's questions appear regularly in his column in the Independent-Journal.

Parent-teacher organizations of eight elementary schools are sponsoring the lecture, according to Mrs. W. L. Tierney of Brookside School, chairman of the event. There are Central, Manor and Deer Park of Fairfax; Wade Thomas, Yolansdale, Isabel Cook and Brookside of San Anselmo, and Greenbrae.

"This is not a sex talk," Dr. Barbour said in letter to Mrs. Tierney. "It is a discussion of boys' problems and girls' problems and what we can do about them."

Baby Is Honored By Ruth Circle Of Novato Church

The recent meeting of the Ruth Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Novato Community Church was combined with a surprise baby shower for John Henry Harmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Harmon.

The women met at the Church and proceeded to the Harmon home on Plaza Hermosa. After gifts were presented, a short business meeting was followed by games.

Tamalpais Druids Hold Dinner, Sale

Recent activties of the Mill Valley Tamalpais Circle of Druids No. 183 included a potluck dinner for members and their friends at the Odd Fellows Hall in Mill Valley and a bake sale on Friday and Saturday at the Purity Store.

Card games followed the potluck dinner.

Proceeds from both events will go to the Circle's project of assistance to the school for Retarded Children in Alto.

Coleman School P-TA Style Show Planned March 12

A very pleasant evening is in store for families and friends of Coleman School when they view hand fashioned apparel modeled by those who knit or sew, on March 12 at 7:30 p.m. at the cafeteria of San Rafael High School.

There will be a business meeting and installation of officers for the next year at 7 o'clock.

Unique decor is being arranged and made by Mrs. Richard V. Bettini. Assisting her are Mesdames Robert Hauge, James Marr, Francis Burns, Hugo Rinaldi, Chester Sipkin. Mrs. Alfred Thomson is handling publicity and music.

Mrs. George Melansen will arrange for the dessert, assisted by Mesdames Irving Blabon and Robert Nelson. Those desiring to make reservations may call Mrs. Richard Albert. Proceeds will be used for equipment for the school.

Larkspur Girl Has Seventh Birthday Fete

Waving his magic wand, "Zoran" captivated the guests at the party given for Peggy Johnson to celebrate her seventh birthday by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnson of Larkspur. The youngsters were facinated by the performance and were greatly excited when "Zoran" took a white rabbit out of what had seemed to be an empty box and they were allowed to pet the little animal.

Youngsters celebrating with Peggy were her sisters, Dolores and Linda Johnson, and Lynne Volk, Debbie Morris, Nancy Bowman, Teri Harder, Marlyn Keppel, Vera Casci, Renee Mistron, Debbie Kinney, Judy Orchard and Gary Kasprzak all of Larkspur; Ronnie, Rusty, Judy and Carol Cagle of Healdsburg.

Assisting with serving refreshments and in the games were Peggy's grandmother, Mrs. Josie L. Cox and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cagle, all of Healdsburg.

Tamalpais Group Of Rainbow Girls Holds Initiation

Tamalpais Assembly No. 191, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, held an initiation recently with Sandra Frier, worthy advisor, presiding. Four candidates were initiated. They were Valerie Bramson, Gail Reynolds, Mariane Gustofson and Hilary Winkler.

After initiation there was a party celebrating the Assembly's first birthday and the members of the board were honored. The members are Wesley Smith, chairman, Jeanne Schwab, Audrey Mathis, Eva Cowles, Frieda Ehrer, Pearl Corvello, Charles Kelley and William Hanley. Also present were Genevieve Underwood, mother advisor, Elsie Bundy, deputy to the supreme inspector of the State of California and parents. The tables were decorated with favors and centerpieces fashioned to represent birthday cakes. Each member of the board was given a plant.

During February there was a Valentine dinner followed by a meeting. During the month the girls stuffed envelopes with Easter Seals for the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults as a service project.

One hundred and fifty boxes of candy were sold by the girls and the proceeds will be used to benefit the Assembly.

There will only be one meeting this month, on March 10, when Fathers will be honored.

The Grand Assembly of the State of California will be held in Fresno during Easter week and several girls from the Assembly will attend.

Junior League Meets

Tomorrow morning at 10:30, Marin Unit, Junior League of San Francisco Inc., will meet at the Kentfield home of Mrs. Frank Barsocchini. The agenda will include election of officers. The musical program will be provided by Barry Mineah of Mill Valley.

International Songs And Dances Flavor Brownie Party At Center

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. C. Anderson, the program was planned so that all the girls were able to participate, as well as be entertained by the other acts. Mrs. G. L. Daum, neighborhood chairman, announced the program. Miss Lois Little, field director of the Marin County Girl Scout Council, was a special guest.

Girl Scouts of Troop 135 conducted the Color Ceremony for the younger girls, presenting the American, World Association, Girl Scout and Brownie flags. Under the direction of leader Mrs. Standish Green, the color guard was comprised of Bonnie Whitman, Penny Ingraham, Barbara Green and Laurie Schwartz, with Brownies Diane Short and Karen Lonsford assisting. Warren Talley was the caller.

Troop 202 made a "birthday cake" of cardboard, decorated with pink crepe paper roses. The contributions for the World Friendship Fund were dropped into the cake by each troop on their way to the stage.

Corte Madera Troop 125 opened the program wearing Brazilian costumes and sang the Brownie "Hello" song in Portuguese. Wearing "Carmen Miranda" type hats were Denise Burt, Anne Carroll, Helen Collier, Eva Cunha, Elizabeth De Mello, Linda Henderson, Mary Kearney, Linda Durham, Rosemary Pedone, Anita Short, Terry Wagstaff, Linda Walsh and Jean Wieder. Their leaders are Mrs. Albert De Mello and Mrs. Phil Kearney.

CORTE MADERA

Choosing Austria as their country, the members of Corte Madera Troop 5 wore long dresse and danced a Viennese waltz. Under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Vogel and Mrs. A. G. Mee, the dancers were Ruth Brinton, Charlene Cummings, Shirley Janke, Barbara Johnson, Sharon Lang, Cliva L. Mee, Linda Moore, Shelly Morgan, Carol Murata, Janine Nilsen, Lynn O'Neil, Mary Pendleton, Ayn Perry, Karen Vogel, Suzanne Vogel and Lynda Yager.

The South Acerican countries were represented by Corte Madera Troop 199, whose members formed a Conga Line and also sang "La Cucuracha." The girls who danced and sang were Charlotte Carlson, Kathleen Hodges, Lorna Keane, Christine Larsen, Lauren Massoletti and Nancy Pridmore, with Mrs. J. C. Larsen and Mrs. Jack Pridmore, leaders.

White Dutch caps topped the curls of the Brownies of Larkspur Troop 98 as they sang the Dutch song, "In Our Little Wooden Shoes," while Jackie De Gregory demonstrated the "clip-clop" of her wooden shoes. The Dutch girls: Nusi Dekker, Dawn Eager, Cynthia Easter, Marie Fogarty, Dolores Johnson, Linda Lannert, Joanne May, Mary Louise McCarty, Virginia Nelson, Peggy Schnell, and Vicki Sudlow, and their leaders are Mrs. Joseph Johnson and Mrs. William Schnell, with Mrs. G. M. May at the piano.

American Brownies Carol Benson and Karen Lonsford of Corte Madera Troop 169 taught the "Virginia Reel" to representatives of other countries: Louise Burke, Denmark; Gail Campbell, Hawaii; Tamara Holmon, Japan; Sheiia James, China; Penny Long, Spain; Sharon Melendy, Ireland; Kathy Peterson and Lyn Scholz, Denmark; and Pamela Silkworth, Austria. Mrs. Carl Benson and Mrs. Robert Scholz are leaders.

LARKSPUR TROOP

With a flutter of fans and wearing colorful Japanese kimonas, Carol Ann Finston, Cristine Gondak, Judy Land, Mary Ann Monroe, Coleen Nightingale, Lynn Sloan, Christine Smith and Karen Smoot, members of Larksur Troop 202, entertained the audience with a Japanese song and dance entitled "Spring Is Here." Their leaders are Mrs. J. R. Smoot and Mrs. C. R. Gondak, with Mrs. George Murata directing the dance.

Introduced by Austrian "boy" Claudia King, the members of Corte Madera Troop 57 chose an international theme for their offering. Singing the "Children's Marching Song" were Christine Anderson, Mary Louise Elliott, Linda Long, Kathy Mahood, Beth Penny, Janice Rippe, Mary Ann Schultz, and Diane Short. Their leaders are Mrs. A. A. Schulz and Mrs. Howard Kling.

BETROTHAL CEREMONY AT CHURCH

An impressive Old World religious custom was revised when a betrothal ceremony was conducted at St. Emydius Church in San Francisco for Kathleen Slevin and Ashton Hutchins Jr. The Rev. Nicholas Farana of Salinas officited at the ceremony and blessed the engagement ring.

A cocktail party at the home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Slevin of San Francisco, followed the ceremony. It was also a celebration of Mr. Slevin's birthday. The young couple will be married at a nuptial mass at St. Emydius Church in August and will reside in Marin.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Star of the Sea High School in San Francisco is now studying for a teaching credential at Dominican College and will be graduated in May. She is the sister of Phyllis Slevin of San Francisco and George Slevin Jr. of San Anselmo.

The future benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hutchins of Santa Venetia, was gradated from Sacred Heart High School in San Francisco, and attended St. Mary's College and College of Marin. He is now a stereotyper at the Independent - Journal. His younger brother is David Hutchins.

St. Cecelia's Guild Plans Communion

In keeping with the Lenten season there will be corporate communion for women preceding tonight's meeting of St. Cecelia's Guild of the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Saviour.

Afterward members will go to Hammond Hall, where the Rev. D. Murray Hammond will explain the meaning of communion. Refreshments will be served.

The communion service will be held at 8 p.m.

'PARENTS WITHOUT PARTNERS' ORGANIZE MARIN-S.F. CHAPTER

The formation of a chapter of "Parents Without Partners" composed of San Francisco and Marin residents is completed and meetings are being held regularly in the Hall of the Good Shepherd, 1290 Potrero street, San Francisco. Next meeting will be on Thursday night commencing at 7:30.

The group is composed of mothers and fathers who have no spouses. Purpose is to bring them together so they may find congenial activities for themselves and their children. Mrs. Mickey Stevens of Fairfax, founder of the group, says: "Single parents in a group can feel the stimulus of being able to accomplish what they could not do as individuals."

The Institute of Social and Personal Relations of Oakland assisted in the organization. An East Bay chapter has also been formed and its meetings are the second and fourth Thursday nights. The San Francisco-Marin groups meet on the first and third Thursdays. With this schedule members of each chapter can attend meetings of the other.

Monte Carlo Party Set By Alpha Phis

"A Night in Monte Carlo" is being planned by Alpha Phi Alumnae as a fund raising event for for the benefit of the heart fund, a philanthropy sponsored nationally by the sorority.

All alumnae are invited to meet at the home of Mrs. A. Philip Cramp, 62 Arguello Circle, Villa Real, San Rafael, on Tuesday, March 10 at 10 a.m. to discuss plans for the party.

Mrs. Edward G. French of San Rafael is general chairman for this event, which will be held at Bob's of Marin at 7 p.m. on Saturday, April 4. A cocktail hour will precede dinner, and afterward there will be a program with awards going to the lucky winners.

On Wednesday, March 4, at 10 a.m., Alpha Phis will assemble streptococcus kits at the Marin County Health Department Fourth and Grand avenue, San Rafael. These kits are used by Marin County doctors in making tests to determine whether or not streptococci are present in an infected throat. The work is done once each month by Alphi Phi volunteers.

Spinning Spurs Party

The Spinning Spurs are hosting a mid-term party for their beginners class tomorrow night at Santa Venetia School from 8 o'clock until 10:30. Mr. and Mrs. Don Myers, who are in charge of refreshments, are being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Young and other members. The beginners class will meet as usual tonight.

Sack Dress Is The Rage In Australia

By DOROTHY ROE

The sack dress may be dead in America, but it's all the rage right now in Australia.

Authority for this bit of incidental information is Herbert Bijur, American Pattern Co. executive, who has just returned from a tour of the land down under, accompanied by three of New York's most glamous models, a photographer and an assortment of home sewing experts. Says he:

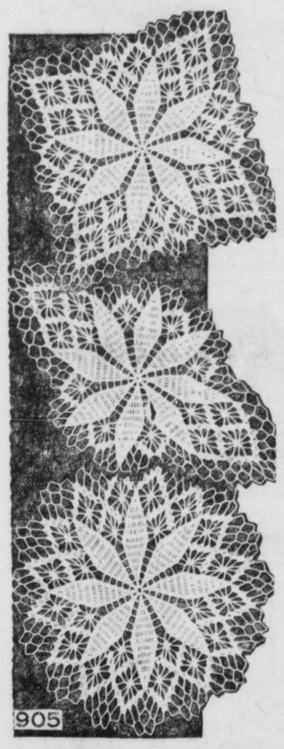

"Australia is about eight months behind the United States in fashion, so the chemise is at its peak there right now. Everybody's wearing it—all the women, that is—and somehow it looks right on them."

Australians look to America, rather than to Paris, for fashion trends, says Bijur, and most of them make their own clothes. Out of a population of 10 million, 7 million homesewing patterns were sold there last year. This, he says, is because readymade clothes are not available there in either the quality or the quantity common to America.

Australians were eager to meet the three models who went along on the tour, says Bijur, but were disappointed when the glamor girls showed up wearing voluminous muumuus bought in Hawaii and no makeup.

"They said they wanted to rest their faces," says Bijur ruefully. "I guess you can understand that, but it was a blow to the Ausies, who were all set to be bowled over by New York's beautiful cover girls.

MARIE MARTEL

Leading Style Photographer Tells Of Work Behind Lens

But there's also plenty of cash, even if less glamor, in clicking the camera on the Suzy Parkers and Ann St. Maries. And, the photographer has another advantage; the public doesn't tire of the face behind the lens.

Miss Martell said fees for one of those full-page pictures featuring a leggy female in the newest bathing suit, will run from $750 on up. Some few shots cost as much as $10,000.

The smaller sum, she said, is for the uncomplicated picture; the cost goes up when the photographer has to work in some "atmosphere" or "mood."

Cost also is determined by whether a picture will appear editorially and confined to one publication, or includes some product—say a new car— and is for an advertisement to be used in several publications. These latter shots are the costliest.

Miss Martel figures that in a busy but uncomplicated day at her studio she can do a picture an hour. But sometimes, she will spend a whole day for just one color shot, and still find re-takes are necessary. Often, she is "on location"—loading camera equipment, clothes, models and assorted aides on a plane to other parts of the world for background.

For those girls who aspire to model, the pay is excellent if you're as good as Miss Parker or Miss St. Marie. The camera-women said that a photogenic face and figure are worth $50 to $60 an hour. But it isn't always gravy. "The public soon wearies of a face," she said. "And the years take a toll. The camera is ruthless . . . it catches every line."

Miss Martel, born in Paris of Venezuelan parentage, has been wed for 20-odd years to Marshall S. Mundheim, a New York investment banker. They have two children in college.

Prosperous Californians Pay Highest Taxes In Nation

First, Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget for the state is the highest budget ever proposed in any state in the Union at any time. Although we have about a million fewer people than New York State, our record budget of $2,188,000,000 for 1959-60 is millions above New York's for the same period.

At the same time, statistics released by the federal Census Bureau in Washington tab California as the taxingest state in the Union. Local and state taxes here total $238 for each man, woman and child in the state. That compares with only $229 for New York; other states lag way behind.

These figures apparently jolted Governor Brown. He had his statisticians go to work and figure out that although California may have the highest per capita, it ranks only 27th per $1,000 of personal income. California's income is so high, that the percentage its residents have to pay in taxes is well down the list proportionately, he pointed out.

This is a peculiar line of reasoning. It suggests a state government should be operated not to provide the services the people demand, but to use up a particular proportion of the taxpayers' income. This theory we can not accept.

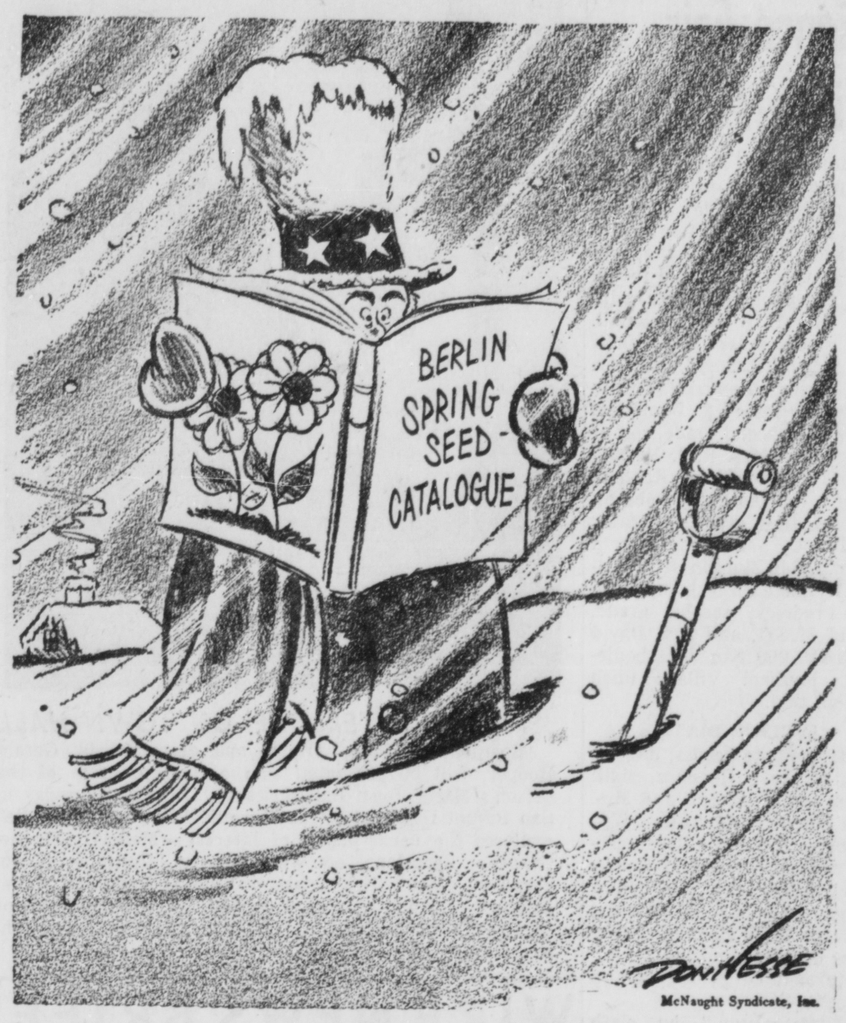

It seems to us that the higher the personal income, the less government should cost. Welfare, for example, takes a big chunk out of local tax dollars. When the average income is high, welfare payments should be low. The same for unemployment benefits. Crime should be less, so enforcement should be less expensive. There are many other places where prosperous Californians should need fewer handouts than more needy residents of other states.

It seems to us that Governor Brown's statistics only go to emphasize the fact that California, one of the most prosperous states in the Union, charges its residents the highest per capita taxes in the U.S.A.

And worse than that, although he has cracked down on minor frivolities in his departments, the governor is asking for 256 million dollars more to meet his record spending plans. There is not a single major cutback or elimination of a single state service or department suggested to help balance the budget.

You've heard the man, he wants more taxes.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

ONE WAY TO WORK FOR PEACE

For four years this resolute individual, Alfred E. Roach, has appeared for a daily10-minute vigil, just before 10 a.m., across from 10 Downing street.

The police who guard the residence have been tolerant and friendly towards Roach. Said one of them, "He's become a fixture here. He never bothers us and we never bother him. Who knows? He might be doing some good."

Few people manifest their devotion to peace in such a public way. But no matter when, where or how you may choose to pray and work, the important thing is to do something positive and constructive towards harmony among all people.

Whatever you do, be assured that your slightest efforts will count. Christ Himself, Who came from heaven to bring "peace on earth to men of good will," will bless and strengthen you.

"Blessed are the peace-makers: for they shall be called the children of God."
(Matthew 5:9)

Allow me to be Your instrument, O Lord, in bringing divine peace to all men.

Man, Blessed With Prosperity, Still Keeps Himself Miserable

Man has one talent that separates him from the other animals — the art of making himself miserable.

He is the only animal that will turn his back on joy and make himself deliberately unhappy.

He is the only animal that invents his own troubles, manufactures unnecessary woes, and makes an industry out of feeling sorry for himself.

He is the only animal for whom too much is never enough.

Man survives the earthquake and the tornado, then lets himself be gnawed to death by mental gnats.

Times erodes man less than he frets himself away.

One of the things he yearns for most — prosperity — is the thing he seems least able to stand.

Certainly prosperity, more than conscience, makes cowards of us all today. No nation in history has known a greater, deeper, more widespread prosperity than the American nation has now.

But prosperity has made us petulant rather than content, uneasy rather than confident. Instead of confirming us in our strength, it has tended to make us more fearful of another's power. We doubt ourselves in ways we shouldn't.

The curse of prosperity isn't that we can't take it with us when we go. It is that prosperity doesn't seem to make us happy here, while we have it.

AS A PEOPLE WE FEEL a bit betrayed and cheated because of an amazing discovery: "Money isn't everything." We always said aloud we knew this, but in our hearts we secretly felt that if we just had enough money we would have just about everything we needed.

We can pull a handle and see an icebox full of more food than we can eat. We can push a button and change the indoor climate from cold to warm. We can turn a knob and hear the world's finest (and worst!) music, and watch the world's highest paid entertainers.

But it is not enough. Something is missing.

WHAT DO WE MISS? What is the meaning we have lost? How can we regain it? We set out to build a paradise and instead fashioned a prison, bar by bar.

How can we get out?

Perhaps it would help if we all went out, one by one, into a hillside orchard, sat for a whole day under an apple tree in bloom, and thought the problem of life all through again.

Parents Neglect Duty To Children

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

After thinking about the juvenile delinquency problem of Marin, one thought came to mind. Some parents are obviously neglecting their duties to their children.

The main duty of parents is to see that their children are brought up to be good American citizens. In Marin County, juvenile delinquency is so intense that it is quite evident that many parents do not teach their children to be good and decent. Juvenile delinquency is so bad in Marin that it has made the headlines several times.

In conclusion, I think parents should take a good look in the mirror and see if they have neglected to teach their children properly. If so, there's no crime in starting now.

Sausalito Sandspit Should Be Park

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your excellent editorial last Thursday on the need to bring into public ownership the McNear's Beach property and the Paradise Cove park area leads me to suggest a third site — the Sausalito sandspit.

The sandspit is owned by the city but is under lease to a private firm for 29 years. To date the public has been permitted to use the property freely. However, this evening the City Council will be asked to allow a restaurant and parking lot to be built—which would be the end of public use and enjoyment of the finest park location in the City.

In my opinion the way to correct the situation is to purchase the lease. Unfortunately, the impression has been created that the lease is so valuable the city does not have the means to buy it. This impression is based on inadequate information. For example, according to county records, the firm itself in July of 1958 considered the true value of the lease to be less than 37 per cent of the figure commonly quoted.

I believe it is possible to buy the lease without a bond issue and with no financial strain. Through good management, Sausalito is in an enviable position. It has no bonded indebtedness. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1958, the city not only met all operating expenses out of normal income, but was able to spend $116,164.57 on real estate and capital improvements. Even after paying such a large sum for these worthwhile purposes, the city still had $100,793.29 in cash on hand July 1, 1958.

In view of these facts, I think it is realistic to say the people of Sausalito can afford to establish a park on the sandspit.

Mental Health Is Spiritual Problem

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I would like to comment on the letter written by Fritzie W. Watland in the Independent-Journal.

I think her comments about the strange attitude in Marin is interesting. It is interesting to know that there is less suspicion in the East or Middle West. I wonder why there is so much suspicion in Marin?

I am very interested in the problems of mental health. At one time, I was in the Mental Health Society. There is certainly a lack of understanding of the mentally ill. The problem seemed to be that the sick can't help the sick!

My experiences with the Mental Health Society were something I would hate to see any other person have to experience. My experiences with supposedly qualified persons have shown me that mental health is a spiritual problem.

I met a lot of individuals who were seeking spiritual guidance in the Mental Health Society. They were looking for answers in every conceivable direction.

Many of the doctors were treating patients with methods that are merely theories. The most outstanding individuals and leaders in the mental health field were leveling the individual to a material level.

I think that materialism is unhealthy. The next step is being taken over — having our minds taken over by creeping Communism.

If the people working for change are materialists, the general public has the right to be alarmed. When people sense that their rights are being invaded they become emotional about it. That is only human.

I for one am glad that enough individuals in this county sense creeping Communism and are afraid of it. I think this shows that the people in Marin are aware of what is taking place more than in other parts of the United States. It is better to retire than to make mistakes. While not taking an active part one has a chance to study and think rather than to waste time in the wrong direction.

A church, individual, society or group of people lacking in spiritual guidance might be encouraging Communism and not even be aware of it.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

If You Don't Get Your Tax Bill You Have To Pay On Time Anyway

What happens if you fail to pay your county taxes on time because the tax collector neglects to send you a bill?

You pay the piper, that's what—in the form of a 6 per cent penalty!

This was brought home hard last week to a Marin taxpayer named Walter Louis.

Louis' property tax bill was not mailed to him because, he said, the tax collector's office claimed it did not have his address. The deadline for payment of the first installment came and went, and he found to his dismay he was being socked the delinquency penalty prescribed by law.

THE TAX BILL, it appeared, had been sent to the previous owner of the property. Louis protested to the assessor and other county officials that, as new owner, he should receive the bills.

His plight was called to the attention of the board of supervisors, which asked County Counsel Leland H. Jordan for a ruling.

Jordan ascknowledged that Louis' position "presents a very equitable case for the cancellation of penalties." Then Jordan related the cold, hard facts which bar such action.

"Unfortunately . . . the revenue and taxation laws, as they relate to local property taxes, are rather harsh under certain circumstances," Jordan said, "and frequently require the payment of taxes or penalties in situations which appear to be quite inequitable."

HE DESCRIBED Louis' plight as "just such a situation."

The state Revenue and Taxation Code, said the county counsel, provides that "a mistake in the name of the owner or supposed owner of real estate does not render invalid an assessment."

In view of this code section, Jordan said, the assessment of Louis' property was valid.

"Furthermore," he added, "the law does not require the mailing of tax bills by the county tax collector. The mailing of such tax bills is purely a matter of courtesy on the part of the county.

"The validity of the assessment and the requirement that taxes be paid before the delinquency date is not affected by failure to mail tax bills or by failure of the taxpayer to receive such a bill.

"ALTHOUGH VIRTUALLY every taxpayer relies upon the receipt of a county tax bill to advise him of taxes due, it is nevertheless the law of this state that the burden rests upon the taxpayer to ascertain the taxes due on property owned by him.

"If he fails to determine what these taxes are and to pay them prior to the delinquency date, the tax collector has no alternative but to apply the penalty to the unpaid tax and to insist upon payment thereof."

AT THE TAG END of a press release received by the I-J last week from the Novato Methodist Men's Club was this interesting paragraph:

"All Methodist men and their friends are cordially invited to the meetings. In connection with this invitation, attention is drawn to the inviolable club rule that all ladies found on the (church) premises during meeting hours will not be permitted to leave until the dishes have been done."

Khrushchev Says Reason For Differences Lies In Social Systems

You well know how hard it is, in any American sports contest, to tell the players without a scorecard.

It's the same with the cold war. You can't tell what the Soviet players are saying without a special three-way dictionary: Russian-into-English-into-meaning.

And the trouble deepens when the Soviets decide to muddy the field, as in Moscow when, after an apparently candid exchange of views with Harold Macmillan, Premier Khrushchev waits until Macmillan is on an isolated trip 70 miles out of Moscow to drop a whole series of "nyets" which he had kept back from the British Prime Minister.

BUT THERE IS another Khrushchev statement which needs a careful compass. It is this bland remark in the middle of what was described as a "warm and friendly" speech at the British Embassy in Moscow:

"We understand that the reason for our differences lies in our social systems."

What does a statement like that mean? And is it true?

First, we have to look at what the "differences" between us are and at what Soviet actions created the tensions we would like to reduce.

THERE WOULD BE no cold war today if the Kremlin had not absorbed by force the independent nations of Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia, imposed Moscow-dominated regimes throughout Eastern Europe while violating the Yalta agreements to hold free elections, tried to drag Greece behind the iron curtain, kept Germany divided, and abetted the aggression against South Korea.

Is Khrushchev saying that these actions were inevitable with a Communist government and that the Soviet Union just had to do these things because of its social system?

There would be no cold war today if the free world did not have so much evidence that the Soviet Union is determined to hold by force what it has acquired by force — Hungary is a grim example — and that the Kremlin acts to spread Communism by every device it believes can be made to work.

Is Khrushchev saying that the use of force and subversion is an essential part of the Communist "social system?"

I WOULD THINK that most Western-minded people would believe that the compulsion to try to dominate other peoples and other nations by force does not have to be an automatic part of the Soviet-Communist "social system." When he has been addressing exclusively a Western audience, as in his CBS-TV show a couple of years ago, Premier Khrushchev actually said that as between Communism and Western Democracy: "Let the people decide."

But the fact is that the Soviets have never been willing to let the people decide — neither in Russia nor in Hungary nor in East Germany nor anywhere else.

THERE WOULD BE no cold war today if Khrushchev really believed in "letting the people" decide what kind of government or "social system" they wanted.

But Nikita Khrushchev knows more about Communism than any non-Communist Westerner. We better take it that he is right when he says that Soviet foreign policy is an extension of the Communist social system.

Khrushchev is a dedicated Leninist and it was Lenin who said that the whole world must choose between Communism and Democracy, that it will be "one or the other, there is no middle course."

How To Control A Teen-Ager? Whipping, Scaring Don't Work

How do you control your teen-ager? Do you still try to whip him or scare him into being good? You'll get into real trouble that way. Other controls are better. Here are suggestions for parents of teen-agers.

Do your criticizing in private, not in public. When other people are around, your youngster will have to save face. He'll fight back and you will lose your point. Wait until the two of you are alone. He'll be more apt to listen.

Encourage self-control. Remember, he has a conscience. He knows what's right and what's wrong. Talk over things ahead of time. Have him suggest the answers. There are some problems which cause arguments in every home like hours, dates, clothes, use of the car. Try to work out rules about them in advance and write them down. Make sure they aren't too different from the rules his friends observe. Then give him the chance to live up to them. If the rules are reasonable, he'll try. He won't always succeed. But you have a right to expect some mighty good reasons when he violates them.

Most parents punish teen-agers by restricting them. It's almost the only punishment possible, and often it doesn't work. Make your restrictions come as natural consequences of the mistake. If your boy is obnoxious in a movie theater, no more movies for him for a time. Most youngsters can accept and learn from such punishment. They grumble, but they get the point.

Expand his freedom as fast as he proves himself responsible. A 17-year-old should have much more leeway than a 13-year-old. By the time they're 18 or 19 they're grown. Then you can begin to relax. They'll be on their own at last.

'SPANISH INTERLUDE' ON TOWN HALL

"Spanish Interlude," filmed and described by Gerald Hooper, will be presented as the final program of the season's Marin Town Hall series at 8:15 p.m. Thursday in San Rafael High School auditorium. "Spanish Interlude" explores the usual places of interest — Madrid, Seville, Granada, Barcelona, etc. — as well as "first-time photographed" places. Tickets are on sale at Redwood Travel Advisors and will be sold at the door. Photo above is of Giralda Tower of Cathedral of Seville, furnished by Spanish National Tourist office.

Marin City Reassured On Questionnaires

Marin City residents were told yesterday that answers to a housing questionnaire delivered to all residents in the past few days will help insure building of the proper number of homes in the redevelopment program.

This was emphasized at the monthly meeting of the Marin County Redevelopment Agency and Housing Authority in response to a complaint that the questionnaire asked for income and other personal information.

"This questionnaire is designed to eliminate as much guesswork as possible," E. Morton Schaffran, deputy executive director, said.

"The information is confidential and is the same as if you were applying for a bank loan. The data from these forms will be compiled to determine what type of houses or apartments are wanted by Marin City residents, how many are wanted and how many families will be in a position to buy or rent."

Chairman George C. Goheen pleaded for early cooperation on the questionnaire by residents, asking them to call at the housing office for interviews as soon as possible.

The commissioners asked Executive Director Bert Klahn and Schaffran to study the problem of providing housing for newly married couples when the bridegroom is a virtual "native" of Marin City.

Several audience members pointed out that there are an increasing number of marriages involving young men reared on the project who wish to remain under redevelopment. However, present policy forbids accepting any new tenants due to redevelopment needs. This situation, they complained, might mean loss of entry after redevelopment.

The commissioners also:

1. Decided to advertise for kerosene and gasoline bids for the coming year.

2. Approved a grant deed to the Sausalito School District for approximately six acres of land for school enlargement, with the stipulation that apartments now on he land are o remain until no longer needed.

3. Set for March 17 at 10 a.m. a special meeting to open bids on the sale of $759,000 in temporary loan notes for first stage financing of the low-rent housing project.

4. Approved designation of W. Robert Miller of Sausalito as negotiator for the commission in the sale of privately owned property within the project boundaries.

5. Authorized redeveloper James H Scheuer to proceed with completion of the redevelopment plan approved yesterday by the county planning commission.

2 Chamber Boards To Meet Tonight

Problem of mutual interest in the growth of Marin County will be discussed at tonight's joint meeting of the boards of directors of the San Anselmo and Greater San Rafael Chambers of Commerce.

The meeting will begin at 6 p. m. at the Ranch House restaurant in San Anselmo. Arrangements were made by Paul Leahy, president of the San Rafael chamber and A. Von Rotz, president of the San Anselmo chamber. Leahy will preside.

Four agenda items include (1) state highway from San Rafael to Point Reyes Station, (2) Golden Gate Authority, (3) visitor business, and (4) possibility of reviving the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Marin.

Adventurers Write Of Trip Into Wilds

Four young adventurers in search of the lost mission of Santa Isabel in Baja California so far have discovered mainly that their truck's axle is prone to breakage.

That is the word received by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Nicol, operators of Red Robin catering service in Kentfield, from their chef, Donald Darling, and his wife Edith, two of the four adventurers. The others are Keith Pope of Sacramento and Lawrence Craig, a San Francisco restaurant chef.

Although the four have managed to film some footage, their letters tell mostly of the trials and tribulations connected with their means of conveyance, a four-wheel drive truck with a trailer.

Pope flew home on Feb. 21 after spraining an ankle in a landslide while he was filming some ruins at Loretto, once the headquarters of Jesuit missionaries on Lower California.

The party, now reduced to three members, is expected to return by mid-March. They departed Jan. 30.

Fate Of Orphaned Kids Still Pends

Two youngsters in Homestead Valley, made orphans by murder-suicide committed by their father, will not know where they will finally go until a hearing set for Friday in Marin Juvenile Court.

Mrs. Clementina Clayton, supervising probation officer, has placed Ludene Willson, 9, and Russell Willson Jr., 5, in a Novato foster home temporarily. The youngsters will either become wards of the court or will be turned over to the care of relatives who are able and willing to give them a proper home.

Recreation Budget Goes Up $3,000

The proposed recreation budget for San Rafael for the 1959-60 fiscal year is $41,048, about $3,000 more than for last year.

San Rafael Recreation and Park Commission approved the new recreation budget, submitted by Recreation Director Joseph Rodota, last week. It will go to the city council and the San Rafael Board of Education for approval. City and school district share the cost of recreation.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Queen Mother Chided

LONDON (AP)—A British Protestant organiation today wrote Queen Mother Elizabeth that it doesn't like the idea of her calling on Pope John XXIII next month.

The Protestant Truth Society said in the letter that the visit "would be inconsistent with your position as mother of the Queen who has declared herself by oath to be a faithful Protestant."

The Queen Mother plans a six-day visit to Rome April 20-26 on her way back from the African tour.

Typhoon Hits Samoa

HONOLULU (AP)—An estimated 400 homes were destroyed and coconut, breadfruit and banana crops knocked out for at least a year last week when the worst typhoon in 44 years hit the Manuan Islands in the Samoa group.

Delayed dispatches from Pago Pago, the capital of American Samoa, to the Honolulu Star-Bulletin say 50 m.p.h. winds flattened three villages and injured many people but caused no deaths.

Boy's Topic: 'Crude'

YUKON, Okla. (AP) — A student's speech on prostitution has a high school speech teacher on the carpet today in this small central Oklahoma farming community.

The speech was given by a high school junior in a class conducted by Larry Kirkland last Friday. Parents complained.

Supt. Ralph Myers, who discussed the matter for two hours last night with Yukon's Board of Education said, "It was a little crude for high school."

Kirkland, in his first year of teaching at Yukon, said the speech was a regular part of his assigned classwork but the topic was of the student's own choosing. Kirkland declared he didn't think it out of order.

Miscegenation Allowed

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Idaho removed its ban on interracial marriages yesterday.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie signed a bill passed by both houses of the Legislature which repeals the so-called "antimiscegenation" law.

Lana Walks Out

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A dispute between Lana Turner and Director Otto Preminger has caused the actress to withdraw from a choice role in Preminger's movie, "The Anatomy of a Murder."

Miss Turner said last night she was withdrawing because of Preminger's temper. But the director-producer said the dispute was over costumes she was to wear in the movie.

Shooting is scheduled to begin March 23 and Preminger says there will be no delay. "I'll take an unknown for the part and make her into another Lana Turner," he said.

GOP Site Meet Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee will select a site for the party's 1960 national convention on April 11, GOP national chairman Meade Alcorn announced today.

A-Power For Antarctic

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—The United States is planning to light and heat its antarctic bases within three years with atomic power, Rear Adm. George Dufek, on his way home after commanding the U.S. program in the antarctic, told a news conference.

His request for atomic power had been approved although the money has not yet been appropriated, he said.

Panama 'Plot' Crushed

PANAMA (AP)—Panama's military chief said last night a plot to seize control of the country had been uncovered and crushed.

Col. Bolivar Vallarino said a group known as the Liberation Movement was doing the plotting. About 20 members of the National Guard are being held, and five civilians are under arrest or being hunted, he said.

Singer 'Honors' Allen

FERRIDAY, La. (AP)—Singer Jerry Lee Lewis' 5-day-old son has been named Steve Allen Lewis in honor of the television star.

Lewis said yesterday that Allen helped his career actually and by inspiration.

Proxmire Supported

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mail has flooded the office of Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) since his well publicized Senate speech last week in which he criticized the Senate leadership of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.).

Proxmire says the mail is running 30 to 1 in support of his criticism. Some of the minority comment came in letters postmarked Texas.

Marshall 'Alert'

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall continued in serious condition today.

A late medical report said there was no change from yesterday when Marshall, 78, was described as being "a little more alert" but still seriously ill.

5 In Car Die In River

LOS EBANOS, Tex. (UPI)—A taxicab plunged off of a ferry last night and carried five women to their deaths in icy waters of the Rio Grande River.

Four of the bodies were recovered when a young Mexican stripped to his shorts and braved the frigid waters and swift current twice to secure a chain around the car.

Luis Montelongo, driver of the car, escaped through a window and swam to shore. Montelongo and the five victims were returning to their homes in San Miguel, Mexico.

Fine Reduced On String Of Tickets

Robert W. Edison, Sausalito artist who was haled into San Francisco Traffic Court for a string of traffic fines totalling $145, had his fine reduced to $40 after telling his sad story to the judge.

Edison had a notarized paper showing that last March 24 he had turned over a 1950 convertible to Ed Newman of Mill Valley, who was to complete the payments. Newman, in turn, transferred the car to a San Franciscan. The car began accumulating traffic tickets in San Francisco while Edison, on a trip to Mexico, was oblivious to it all. But he was still the registered owner of the car.

TREASURY PARADOX

Inflation's Enemies Helping To Create It

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Treasury is promoting inflation of the money supply just as surely as if it were printing paper greenbacks.

The Treasury doesn't like this, of course, because it could lead to inflation of the whole economy. At the moment, however, it sees no clear way out.

Investor fears of rising interest rates and inflation have made it difficult—if not impossible—for Uncle Sam to borrow needed billions on a long term basis, or even for an intermediate period like five years. As a result, he has had to concentrate on getting short term loans which are much more inflationary.

PARADOX CREATED

Many of these loans, which come due in three months to three years, are kissing cousins or greenbacks and they create a paradox.

Uncle Sam has trouble getting less-inflationary long term loans, partly because of inflation fears. So he borrows on a short term basis and thus reinforces the very fears which are compounding his problem.

For Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, this is a bitter irony. Anderson is so vocal a foe of inflation that Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) recently accused him of being obsessed on the subject.

The Treasury chief is acutely aware that he, through his department, is helping to increase the inflation potential he decries. The secretary's dilemma stems from the fact that the banks are the principal source of short term loans.

TREASURY LECTURE

Anderson has made a point of acquainting a number of recent visitors with the relationship between bank loans and inflation. He has done so in hopes of gaining missionaries for a balanced budget, which he regards as part of the basic solution to his problem.

The secretary begins by asking the visitor's opinion on "monetization of the debt." He has found that a surprising number of government and business leaders are puzzled by the term. In such cases, he launches into a simple explanation.

HOW IT'S DONE

Assume the Treasury borrows a million dollars from a Washington bank. What is involved?

The Treasury gives the bank a piece of paper—a government security—which says Uncle Sam has borrowed a million dollars and will repay in so many years at a fixed rate of interest. Because the worth of this piece of paper is vouched for by Uncle Sam, it assumes real value and is listed among the bank's assets.

On the liability side of the bank's ledger is written an offsetting entry. The bank sets up a new deposit of one million dollars against which the government can write checks to pay its bills.

WHERE'S MONEY?

Anderson asks, where did the the bank get this million dollars? Did it take the cash out of someone else's account and give it to the Treasury?

The answer is that it got the money from no one. It created one million dollars worth of credit on the strength of the Treasury's I.O.U.

At this point the visitor is apt to comment, "That's just like printing greenbacks, and I'm against that."

Carrying the illustration further, as soon as the government writes checks against that deposit, money which didn't exist before goes into circulation.

Monetization of debt doesn't have to be bad. Bank credit—another term for it—should expand in line with the growth of the economy. Otherwise there might not be enough money around to finance essential business operations and construction.

However, if bank credit outpaces economic growth, inflationary pressures build up.

Has this happened?

The active money supply is measured in terms of the total amount of cash plus deposits in checking accounts. At the end of 1958, the figure was just over 143 billion dollars compared with about 138½ billions a year earlier.

This was an increase of about 3¼ per cent and was approximately in line with economic growth, as measured by the gross national product.

HOPEFUL VIEW

On a longer range basis, developments in this sphere have been even less alarming from the standpoint of inflation potential. Since 1955, cash and checking deposits have increased 3½ per cent while the national product has advanced more than 7 per cent.

The picture could change for the worse this year, however, if the Treasury continues to do most of its borrowing on a short term basis. The "greenbacks" could get out of hand.

Theft Of Time

BAILEY'S CROSSROADS, Va. (AP)—Fairfax county police raided a dice game and arrested eight men on a misdemeanor. One, however, was also charged with grand larceny. He had stolen a watch from an arresting officer.

DUPLEX
Here it is! A really DRAMATIC 2 bdrm. DUPLEX, designed by ED HAGEMAN for maximum convenience & minimum maintenance, located at 323 Laurel Place, San Rafael. The large ELL shaped living room and dining room is bordered on one side by a compact G.E. equipped kitchen with oodles of cabinets finished in a soft butternut stain, and on the other are sliding glass doors leading to the redwood deck for the best in outdoor living. Entrance hall and 2 walls of the living rm. are paneled in butternut stained mahogany blending dramatically with the huge fireplace. The lower unit has an unfinished area which could be a hobby room for a teen-ager. You may assume a $24,500 loan payable at $160 per mo. A joy to show at $38,500.

2 Reach Scholar Contest Finals

Two seniors at Sir Francis Drake High School have reached the finals of the 1958-59 National Merit Scholarship program and have been awarded certificates of merit, according to Principal Harold Allison.

Mary Cummings and Douglas Holmes have received the certificates, which attest to their high academic promise.

Allison said the seniors distinguished themselves by their high scores on the two college aptitude tests used in the National Merit Scholarship competition. About six-tenths of 1 per cent of the seniors in each state received the awards.

Some 700 of the 10,000 finalists will be named Merit Scholars this spring. They, and the colleges they have chosen, will share in three and one-half million dollars in Merit Scholarship funds offered by more than 80 organizations and individuals. The winners will be determined by the results of final judging now being conducted. The winners will be announced about May 1.

Weinberger Has Radio Program

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Former Assemblyman Caspar W. Weinberger has begun a three-times-a-week news commentary program on radio station KNBC.

The program, called "People in Politics," is sponsored by Republican Action Committee, Inc.

Madrigal Singers To Give Concert

The Dominican College of San Rafael will present the University of Southern California Madrigal Singers in public concert at 8 o'clock tonight in Angelico Hall.

The Madrigal Singers, under direction of Dr. Charles C. Hirt, is a chamber group which has received national recognition for its choral achievements and the manner in which it brings to life the spirit of rarely heard choral chamber music from the Renaissance to the present.

The 16th Century saw the flowering of an informal kind of music, unsurpassed in beauty and grace, and designed to bring pleasure to the singer as well as to the listener. The usually merry, sometimes melancholy, songs of the madrigals were first heard in the banquet halls of great estates when family and friends sang by candlelight around the table after dinner. The Southern California Madrigal Singers recreate such a scene, singing usually in the original language of the composer.

Insurance Plan Topic For Tiburon Firemen

The Tiburon Volunteer Fire Department will have their insurance program explained at tomorrow night's 8 o'clock meeting at the firehouse, according to Ray F. Coombes, president of the organization.

Leroy F. Wilkie, San Rafael insurance broker, will outline the volunteers' insurance coverage carried by the district, Coombes said.

WINNER — Cheryll Lynn, San Rafael High School student and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Lynn of 237 Humboldt avenue, San Rafael, is winner of the United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth speech contest conducted by the district Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges. She will compete in an area contest this month for a trip to U.N. headquarters in New York. Subject of her winning speech was "My Community and World Affairs."

School Sets Adult Class In Driving

The final adult driver instruction class to be offered at San Rafael High school this year will start tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Robert R. Royle, director of adult classes at the high school, said an enrollment fee of $14 is payable upon registration at the school's main office. Size of the class will be limited, with applications accepted in order of presentation until the class is filled.

The course will have two parts, driver education and driver training, Royle said.

Driver education will consist of six weeks of classroom study on Monday and Wednesday nights. Subjects will include rules of the road, sound driving practices, street and highway driving, mental and physical qualities of the driver and expert driving skills. A series of psycho-physical tests also will be given.

Driver training will consist of behind-the-wheel instruction in classes of four persons. They will receive training in a dual-control car. To qualify for this portion of the course, each student must have a basic kuowledge of the California Vehicle Code.

Oscar Show Signs Both Liz, Debbie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor and Debbie Reynolds—the two women in singer Eddie Fisher's life—will both appear on the annual Academy Awards show April 6.

Producer Jerry Wald says he plans to spot them an hour apart. He hasn't decided yet what each will do.

Debbie labeled Liz as the other woman in her broken marriage with Fisher. Miss Taylor is among those nominated for the top actress award.

What may be the first monument erected in honor of an American woman is located at Haverhill, Mass. It shows Hannah Duston with a tomahawk in her hand. She was captured by Indians in 1697 and, together with another woman and a boy, reputedly killed 10 of the redskins while escaping.

Host Of Stars In TV Tribute To 'A Friend'

NEW YORK (AP) — There's something fascinating about a host of stars devoting 90 minutes of prime television time to paying tribute to a man whom the general public scarcely knows.

Yet that's what happens tonight when NBC-TV presents "Some of Manie's Friends" (KRON, Channel 4, at 7:30 p.m.)

CHARITY CASE

The purpose is worthy. Every one is performing for the minimum fee allowed by union regulations and donating the difference — totalling around $100,000 — to the Emanuel Sacks Foundation for Medical Research in Philadelphia.

The complications in organizing this show were enormous. A sponsor was found before either the content of the program or who would appear on it was worked out. Nearly everyone appearing in the show had to iron out conflicting commitments.

STARS TO PERFORM

Those who will perform tonight include Sid Caesar, Rosemary Clooney, Nat King Cole, Perry Como, Eddie Fisher, Betty Grable, Bob Hope, Harry James, Tony Martin, Dinah Shore, Frank Sinatra, Kay Starr, Danny Thomas, Jack Webb and Jane Wyman.

Each feels he was aided in some way by Manie Sacks. There are many others who feel the same.

NICE GUYS WIN

Basically, however, he was a discoverer of talent—a decisive voice who said, "let's try it." From wide experience in the recording industry and show business he had an uncanny knack of picking the better from the worst.

The first balloon ascension in the United States took place at Philadelphia in 1793.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Personal, Dependency Credits Explained

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Peter J. Wikel

A single person may claim an exemption of $2,000.

A single person who was the head of household may claim an exemption of $3,500.

If an individual or his spouse dies during the taxable year, the allowable personal exemption is $3,500. You file a joint return.

If husband and wife file separate returns, the joint personal exemption of $3,500 may be taken by either or divided between them, but if the tax of one spouse is determined from the optional tax table the other may claim only $1,750 personal exemption.

A taxpayer or his spouse who is blind at the end of the taxable year may claim an additional exemption of $500.

A head of household is a person who is not married on the last day of the taxable year and who has furnished more than one-half of the cost of maintaining a home which is his principal place of residence and which he has shared throughout the taxable year except for temporary absences, with any other person whom he is entitled to claim as a dependent, or an unmarried child, grandchild or stepchild. You cannot claim the dependency credit and also the head of household status for the same dependent.

You are not considered single and eligible for head of household status if your spouse died during the year or if you are separated by a decree of separate maintenance or an interlocutory divorce, as you are considered married and file as a married person.

You are entitled to credit for dependents as follows:

A credit of $400 may be claimed for each person closely related to you (other than husband or wife) receiving more than one-half of his or her support from you during 1958.

If you are head of a family only because of dependents for whom you would be entitled a credit under the above, $400 credit is allowed for each of such dependents except one.

Credit for dependents can be claimed only if you actually furnish more than one-half of the dependent's support, or if you furnish over 10 per cent of the cost of the support of a dependent and can get a written multiple support agreement signed by the other contributors (same as the federal).

State Supervision Asked For Health, Welfare Funds

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Assemblyman Thomas M. Rees (D-Los Angeles) says company-administered health and welfare funds should be under state supervision.

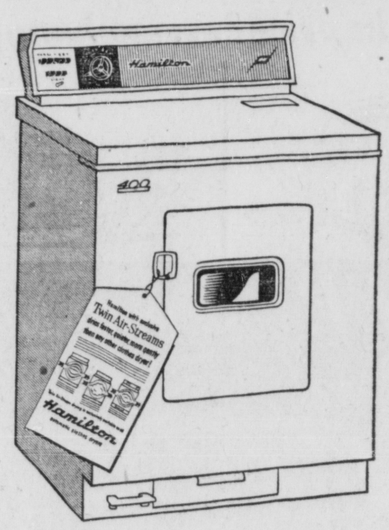

Rees predicted yesterday that management would strongly oppose his views, incorporated in a bill to extend the Rees-Doyle Health and Welfare Supervision Act of 1957.

The act has been interpreted to apply only to funds resulting from labor-management negotiations. Rees said that exempted a large majority of the funds, which are administered by the management.

ACLU Sets Two-Day Conference To Discuss Civil Liberty Issues

Should we celebrate religious festivals in the public schools?

Can we protect our children from the worst of the pornographic literature without imposing a censorship which would prevent adults from reading adult literature?

What can we do when our government limits our right to know by restricting non-classified information?

These and other civil liberties issues will be discussed at a public conference sponsored by the Marin Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union Friday and Saturday at the Marin Country Day School in Corte Madera.

Workshop sessions will provide "thrashing out" time on five important types of issues.

The kick-off will be at 8 p.m. Friday, with a talk by Rev. Harry Scholefield, minister of the First Unitarian Church of San Francisco, on "The Kind of Heretics We Need." At 9 a.m. Saturday, registration for the workshops will begin. An orientation period will start at 9:30, and the workshops themselves at 10 a.m. Conferees may take their lunch (coffee provided), or may have lunch at nearby restaurants. The workshops will resume at 1:15 p.m. and continue until 3 o'clock, when there will be a brief "summing-up."

Experts for the five workshops include Paul Williams, researcher for the California Chamber of Commerce; E. C. Vanderlaan, retired teacher; Steven Warshaw, reporter for the San Francisco News; Ernest Besig, executive director of the Northern California Branch, American Civil Liberties Union, and Dr. Samuel N. LeCount, director of adult education, College of Marin.

Corte Madera Stands Firm On Fire Truck

The Corte Madera Town Council last night turned a deaf ear to a plea by one of its members for a special meeting to reconsider the purchase of a $20,000 fire truck.

Councilman Walter S. Long moved to hold a special council session prior to the council's March 16 meeting at which bids on the 1,000-gallon pumper will be opened.

The motion failed to receive a second.

Long again insisted the council should defer the purchase because of the possibility of merger with Larkspur.

Mayor William R. Hansen said the 95 signers of a petition presented at the Feb. 20 meeting, which asked the purchase be delayed will have the opportunity of being present at the meeting when the bids are opened.

Questioned by Councilman Roger F. Morse as to the source of his information that the 1,000-gallon pumper was unneeded, Long (who is an insurance man) said he had been told by "fire-eaters." He declined to name the "fire-eaters."

Purchase of the pumper was authorized at the Feb. 2 meeting after extensive study by a committee of volunteer firemen. Chief Frank L. Nelson said he felt the truck might help the town move into a better fire rating, thus reducing property owners' insurance costs.

Widow Promises To Forgive Woman Who Stole Child

ONTARIO (UPI)—A 35-year-old widowed mother today tearfully promised forgiveness to a female kidnaper in return for her ailing 9-week-old baby.

"She must love children an awful lot," said Mrs. Ruth Flores of the kidnaper who stole her child last Friday after posing as a friendly church worker and volunteering to babysit.

"If she will return Eric, I am willing to forgive her," said the mother of six children as she stood looking down at the half empty baby carriage where Eric's twin brother, Aaron, slept peacefully.

Garbage Issue Puzzle To Town Attorney

Town Atty. John B. Ehlen said he has been attempting to interpret the legal meaning of the town's franchise agreement with Mill Valley Garbage Co. after receiving a complaint from the firm that an unidentified Corte Madera Center business was having its garbage hauled away by Mel and Ray's Janitorial Service of Petaluma.

Ehlen said what puzzled him was that the business apparently was paying its regular fee to the garbage company as well as paying to have the trash hauled away by the janitorial service.

"Maybe there is some intrinsic value in garbage," Ehlen commented.

Ehlen said he thought businesses had certain discretionary powers to dispose of trash, but that he was not sure whether it was legal to have trash hauled away by another collector.

He said he will present an opinion at the March 16 council meeting.

Council Cracks Down On San Rafael Joe's

A wooden shack used for dishwashing and storage behind San Rafael Joe's restaurant on Fourth street is a public nuisance and must be corrected or abated within 30 days, the San Rafael City Council decided last night.

City fathers took the action by unanimous vote after learning that no progress had been made for correction by either the owners or tenants of the building.

Berwyn A. Rice, attorney for the restaurant operators, announced two weeks ago that his clients would buy the restaurant and liquor license at the nearby Brick Lodge. Rice indicated San Rafael Joe's could then close its bar and move all other facilities into the bar area, thus vacating the rear shed which the city has declared a nuisance.

But last night, Rice disclosed that his clients want to keep the liquor license at both the Brick Lodge and San Rafael Joe's.

Many buildings on Fourth street are in much worse condition than the shed behind San Rafael Joe's, said Rice. He said the restaurant owner is willing to make minor repairs inside the shed, but will not rebuild the exterior for the owner.

He said his clients still have 17 months lease to run on the building, which is owned by Carl and Aaron Schwartz.

Air Attack Slated On Mosquitoes

If you see an airplane flying low over marshlands near Black Point and Corte Madera during the next two days, don't be alarmed.

The pilot won't be out for a joy ride. He will be "buzzing" the marshlands with DDT spray to kill mosquitoes that are breeding in the salt marshes.

G. Paul Jones, manager of the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District, announced that a plane will be flying low over some 800 acres of marshland in the Black Point-North Novato area from 7 a.m. tomorrow.

On Thursday about 7 a.m., the plane will spray about 300 acres in east Corte Madera, north of Marina Village.

The mosquito district has hired Medlock Dusters of Davis to spray the marshland for $45 per hour. Pilot will be Jim Malay of Davis. Jones estimated that the plane may be in the air an hour or two each day for the two days.

Three New Houses In Corte Madera

Valuation of building permits issued last month in Corte Madera totaled $51,969, as compared with a $61,922 for the same month last year, William G. McBride, building inspector reported.

Permits were issued for construction of three single family dwellings. Total fees collected by the building office was $658.95.

In Canal Zone Exercise

Army 1st Lt. Carleton Coulter III, 26, son of Mrs. Sally C. Coulter, 23 Wellington avenue, San Anselmo, participated Feb. 19-21 with the 20th Infantry in Excercise Banyan Tree, a joint Army-Air Force maneuver conducted in the Canal Zone.

U.S. Aid For City Streets Loses In Vote

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill to extend federal highway funds to certain city streets failed to get approval of an Assembly committee yesterday, despite support from spokesmen for Modesto, Bakersfield, Napa and San Francisco.

The Transportation and Commerce Committee voted 6-5 against the measure by Assemblyman Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley). Rumford said he might try to revive it when four absent committeemen are present.

Principal opponent of the bill is the State Public Works Department, which believes it would slow down the state's freeway program. The money devoted to city streets would better be devoted to freeways, the department claims.

"It would slow up highways in the very cities and counties which want the funds," said Robert E. Reed, attorney for the department.

But City Manager Ross Miller of Modesto said:

"A freeway system not only must have the trunk but the branches, if it is going to work."

Richard Carpenter, spokesman for the League of California Cities, said present policy has made the federal program for farm-to-market roads a "farm to city-boundary-line program."

There were 64,754,000 telephones in use in the United States as of June 30, 1958.

HAFB Youth Give Hospital Program

Teen-agers from Youth Center at Hamilton Air Force Base entertained an audience of 300 patients at Sonoma State Hospital Sunday. A 12-act variety show titled "Tops in Teens," wsa prepared by the young people with assistance of the center's director, Mrs. Alice Roth, and Mrs. Benjamin McConnell, welfare chairman for the Officers' Wives Club.

The young people volunteered to give the program which was a repeat of one developed for their first anniversary in January. Many dozens of homemade cookies were also taken to treat the patients.

Bill Lutz was master of ceremonies.

Solon Asks Say In U.S. Projects

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. Fred S. Farr (D-Carmel) introduced a resolution yesterday asking the President and Congress to allow local authorities to study and comment on proposed federal projects in their areas.

In Monterey County, he said, the Navy is planning to put up housing at Big Sur along Highway 1 without consulting county authorities who won't allow a private party to so much as put an address plate on his home without approval.

Prize Turns To Ashes

10 Catholic High Students Are Bank Award Winners

Ten Marin Catholic High School seniors have been selected as school winners in the 1959 Bank of America Achievement Award competition, Rev. Lawrence A. Ryan, principal, announced today.

Two of the 10 will receive engaged trophy plaques and will go through additional screening to determine who will advance to zone competition April 23 in San Francisco.

They are David M. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. Wilson of 56 Laura lane, Fairfax, winner in liberal arts, and Deanna Denman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Denman of 19 Pine street, San Rafael, in vocational arts.

Eight others will receive certificates of merit for outstanding records in specific subjects. They are:

Paul Strausbauch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent S. Strausbach of 11 Latham street, San Rafael, mathematics; William Ferlatte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Ferlatte of 27 Vineyard drive, San Rafael, laboratory science; James Pulskamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius A. Pulskamp of 12 Inman avenue, Kentfield, English; Richard Del Tredici, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Del Tredici of 329 Laurel avenue, San Anselmo, foreign languages; Gay Leonardi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Leonardi of 366 Forbes avenue, San Rafael, laboratory science; Melinda Krause, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Krause of 37 Lakeside drive, Corte Madera, English; Patricia Liebert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Liebert of 15 Oak avenue, Kentfield, social science, and Rose Bernasconi, daughter of Mrs. James Daley of 20 Hawthorne avenue, San Anselmo, foreign languages.

It sounds like science fiction: traveling across the continent in 4½ hours, New York to London in 6½, cutting airline schedules almost in half.

Yet these are routine for jet liners in the jet age — an era people at Standard's research laboratories have been working toward since the day seventeen years ago when we fueled the first U. S. jet flight.

Since then our scientists have worked with the armed forces to perfect fuels and special lubricants for planes that fly faster than sound, or cruise nonstop around the world. They've also helped engine designers solve problems of heat and cold; aided airlines with faster airport fueling systems.

The sum of these years of development has been to add hours to the traveler's day, days to the tourist's week. In helping to harness time, as well as putting petroleum to many other uses for you, the people at Standard are planning ahead to serve you better.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's first artificial planet soared steadily today toward a brief rendezvous in space with the moon on its way into orbit around the sun.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said that at 11 a.m. PST its Pioneer IV had traveled 107,900 miles, much farther than any other U.S. rocket. Its speed was 5,675 miles an hour.

Space administration scientists said nothing short of a direct hit from a meteor can now prevent the 13.4-pound gold-plated package from becoming planet No. 11. No. 10 is Russia's Lunik, launched Jan. 2.

Pioneer IV was launched by a 60-ton Juno II Army rocket from Cape Canaveral, Fla., last night.

Pioneer I, launched by the Air Force Nov. 11, had traveled only 71,300 miles before falling back to earth, and the Army's first moonshot attempt, launched Dec. 6, reached only 63,580 miles.

Although slightly off course, the satellite was expected to pass within 35,000 miles of the moon—a miss of 20,000 miles of the moon—a miss of 20,000 miles from the planned trajectory. Its closest approach to the moon is expected at 11 a.m. PST tomorrow, when its speed will have been cut to 3,500 miles per hour.

But space administration scientists said the space vehicle has ample velocity to go into an orbit around the sun.

Its speed at launching from Cape Canaveral at 9:10 p.m. PST was 24,890 miles per hour. This was 305 miles per hour more than needed to escape the pull of earth's gravity and the tug of the moon's gravity field.

The scientists said Pioneer IV will go into a solar orbit somewhat larger and more elongated than that of the earth's. The space vehicle, like the earth, they said, will take about a year for each trip around the sun.

Scheuer's Plan For Marin City Passed By Unanimous Vote

The much-debated "alternate" plan for Marin City redevelopment was unanimously approved by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday after a five-hour public hearing.

James H. Scheuer, private developer selected to rebuild the housing project, submitted the alternate proposal in the form of amendments to the county-approved Marin City master plan.

The commission's 6-0 vote will be reported to the county board of supervisors next Tuesday at 2 p.m. The board then will set a date for a final public hearing on the Scheuer plan.

FORESEES SEGREGATION

Approval was given by the planners despite a forecast by Planning Director Mary Summers that racial and economic segregation within Marin City is likely under the alternate proposal.

Her contention was disputed by George C. Goheen, chairman of the county redevelopment agency, and Nathaniel Colley, Negro attorney on Scheuer's staff and chairman of the West Coast legal section of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

During their afternoon session yesterday, the planners went on to approve the tentative map of the first Marin City redevelopment unit. Again the vote was unanimous.

SEVERAL CONDITIONS

Approval was subject to a string of conditions, including one requiring integration of drainage in the first unit with an over-all Marin City drainage plan. Another requires submission of grading and tree planting plans to the commission for approval. Nine exceptions to the county subdivision ordinance were granted on the recommendation of the commission's staff.

Unit 1 will be a pilot development of one-family homes and apartment buildings in a

Jolt Felt Here As Earthquake Hits Big Area

Marin caught the edge yesterday of a rolling earthquake shock that blocked a highway with a slide near Watsonville, buckled pipes in Hollister and shook plaster from ceilings in Gilroy and Santa Cruz.

The 3:28 p.m. quake was felt over a 150-mile strip of California from below Holister to above Sebastopol. Its epicenter, according to a University of California seismologist, was 65 to 70 miles south of Berkeley.

SERIES OF SHOCKS

The shake was felt for brief seconds in Marin, for "a full minute" in some parts of San Francisco. Actually, it was a series of shocks lasting 12 minutes, said Don Tocher, U. C. seismologist, but only the strongest was felt here.

It was followed by an aftershock at 11:24 p.m. which was too light to awaken Marinites.

The first shock, at 3:27:38 p.m., registered 5.5 points on the Richter scale at U.C.—two-tenths of a point higher that the March 22, 1957, quake that shook down houses in Daly Ciy and tumbled grocery displays in Marin.

LITTLE DAMAGE

This time, however, there was little damage. None was reported in Marin, although a Tiburon resident said "the whole house shook" and Mrs. E. Moya Del Pino at 1005 Irwin street, San Raafel, said it felt "as heavy as the one two years ago."

Most of the county felt the

Protection Demanded For Yanks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States today expressed "grave concern" to Bolivia over anti-American demonstrations in La Paz. It demanded all possible measures to protect American lives and property.

The State Department also said that the 700 Americans in La Paz, including most of the U.S. Embassy employees and their dependants, "are being concentrated in suburban areas where military protection is better."

There are about 200 Embassy employees and dependents.

The State Department said U.S. concern was expressed this morning to Bolivian Ambassador Manuel Berrau, who was summoned to the department for a talk with Assistant Secretary of State Roy R. Rubottom.

The department also denied that any official in the U.S. Embassy had made a remark attributed to him which set off anti-American rioting. The alleged remark reported in a Time magazine article was to the effect that Bolivia would be better off if it and its problems were divided among neighboring countries.

The Bolivian ambassador told the State Department that he was "very much shocked" by events and would communicate the concern of the United States to his government. (See story on page 8.)

Mother Saves Girl From Drowning

The child was revived by her mother and by Tiburon volunteer firmen, who operated their resuscitator for 45 minutes.

The youngster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hernan, 1 Hilarita circle, and granddaughter of Former Belvedere Mayor Eric L. Pedley, fell in the lagoon after climbing over her yard fence to "dangle her feet in the water," her mother said.

A competent swimmer under normal circumstances, she evidently panicked and was unable to swim to the nearby ladder, Mrs. Hernan said.

Discovering her daughter floating unconscious, Mrs. Hernan leaped, fully clothed, to the rescue, dragged her to the bank and applied artificial respiration.

A neighbor called the Tiburon Fire Department and a resuscitator crew consisting of Chief Jack Ishmael and George Mantegani responded.

The child was taken to Marin General Hospital for observation. She was expected home today, her mother said.

Owner Closes Airport At San Rafael

Huge white crosses were painted on the runway at San Francisco Bay Airport in San Rafael to signify the end of air traffic at the 13-year-old facility.

Easily visible from the air, the crosses announce to transient fliers that planes no longer may land on the 1,800-foot paved runway.

The airport was closed by owner A. Walter Nelson as a result of burgeoning construction activity in the immediate area and the need for power lines to serve the new buildings. The lines, a hazard to aircraft, could not be installed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. while the airport remained in existence.

OFFICIAL CLOSING

Nelson, who fought to keep the planes flying as long as possible, notified the Federal Aviation Agency last month that March 1 would be the official closing date.

Most of the 25 private planes based at the San Rafael airport already have been moved by their owners to other Bay Area points, including Novato, Petaluma, Santa Rosa, Napa and Oakland. Five or six planes cannot be moved until necessary mechanical work is done or the owners return from out-of-state trips.

To Nelson, the white crosses signified not only the closing of his airport, but also "the end of an era of private and executive aviation in Marin, as well as the elimination of $200,000 of tax base." He based the figure on the value of aircraft being moved out of the county.

Nelson and his partner, Charles Kleinclaus, opened the airport in 1946 on a site between Francisco boulevard and the bay. It was used for general aviation purposes and afforded what Nelson termed "an important link between Marin County and the rest of the state and nation."

48 PLANES

Last year 48 planes were stationed at the airport during the height of operation. The number gradually tapered off as the future of the facility became increasingly uncertain.

Nelson said aircraft were based at the field by members of the construction, lumber, entertainment, chemical, photographic, fabricating and ceramic industries. He said the planes were "useful tools of the trade for these businesses."

Belvedere Man Enters Tam Trustee Race

Marshall, who has worked in Tam high tax increase and bond election campaigns, said that "the difficulty of passing these elections plus the rapidly increasing high school population in Marin indicates a growing need for public support of the schools."

Marshall added that if elected he "will do his utmost to make the high school district one which will deserve the enthusiasm and support of the public."

He is the third announced candidate for the trusteeship held by Howard I. McGill, whose term ends June 30. Harry Leff of Corte Madera and Tom McDougall of Mill Valley have already filed for the post for the May 19 trustees' election.

Marshall, a 12-year-resident of Marin County, was educated in Atlantic City, N.J., public schools and received his degree in electrical engineering from Cornell University in 1940. In the past three years he has taken courses at the University of California school of business administration.

During World War II he was an engineer in the Navy's Bureau of Ships in Washington, D. C., working under Rear Adm. Hyman Rickover.

Koch Firm Sues To Recover County Taxes

H. Koch and Sons, Corte Madera luggage manufacturer, today filed suit to recover $32,342.70 in Marin County real property taxes for 1958-59, alleging the assessment roll adopted by the county board of supervisors was illegal.

The complaint, filed in Marin Superior Court by Morris M. Grupp of San Francisco as attorney for the Koch firm, alleges the board of supervisors, county appraisal commission and county board of equalization "violated 12 separate provisions and sections of the Revenue and Taxation Code of the State of California."

It charges the supervisors "wrongfully usurped the powers of the assessor of the county" in preparing the assessment roll. It charges that by removing the assessor's equipment, it made it impossible for him to prepare the roll

(The board last April, in an upshot of a dispute over use of new International Business Machines equipment, had Assessor George W. Hall's Addressograph equipment removed from his office.)

Koch's suit contends that the board of supervisors "prepared its own assessment roll, presented the self-prepared assessment roll to itself and then voted approval of its own assessment roll."

2 Big Steps Taken To Solve Belvedere Sewage Problem

Belvedere City Councilmen last night authorized an engineering and cost study pointing to treatment and disposal of city sewage by the Tiburon Sanitary District.

The Tiburon Sanitary District board, meeting, separately, resolved to enter into negotiations with the city to the same end.

These were giant steps toward solution of a problem that has harassed the City of Belvedere for years. The city has always dumped its raw sewage into San Francisco Bay, resulting in numerous complaints, lawsuits and wrangles with the regional Water Pollution Control Board.

The city has engaged the engineering firm of Brown and Caldwell to make a study at a cost not to exceed $3,300. It is expected to be completed within six months.

Councilmen voted unanimously a resolution of intention to hook its sewer lines into the Tiburon district, although the study calls for examination of other solutions.

City Manager Britton Rey said he hoped passage of the resolution would persuade the Water Pollution Control Board to drop for now its requirement that the city undertake expensive pollution checks of bay waters near the point of present sewage discharge. City officials have expressed the view that until the city has facilities for sewage treatment, the checks prove nothing and entail needless expense.

65-Mile Speed Limit Approved

SACRAMENTO (AP)—An Assembly-passed bill fixing the maximum speed on California highways at 65 miles an hour cleared the Senate Transportation Committee today with one dissenting vote. An effort to raise it to 70 was turned down.

The measure by Assemblyman Walter I. Dahl (R-Oakland) was cleared by the Assembly two weeks ago. It conforms with Gov. Edmund G. Brown's request for a rigid limit of 65 to replace the present flexible 55 m.p.h. top.

Hawaii Statehood Goes To Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee today unanimously approved and sent to the Senate a bill to make Hawaii the 50th state.

Committee Chairman James E. Murray said he believed the bill would be brought to the Senate floor "very quickly."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), floor manager for the bill, said he would be ready to open debate by March 16 if Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) gives the word.

Farm Bureau Opposes Pt. Reyes Park Plan

Directors of the Marin County Farm Bureau stand opposed to developement of 28,000 acres in the Pt. Reyes area as a federal recreation park.

The directors, meeting at the county farm bureau office in Novato yesterday, unanimously voted a resolution to oppose the park plan after county supervisor James A. Marshall reported that a survey last summer by rangers at the Tomales Bay State Park showed more than 90 per cent of the visitors there were from the East Bay.

The farmers contend that any such park ought to serve primarily the people of Marin County, declared Roy Parks, bueau president. Also, he said, such a development would entail a large expense to the county in the construction of roads leading into the area.

Parks also contended that withdrawal of the lands from the tax rolls would constitute a hardship to Marin County taxpayers.

Another argument against it, he said, is the fact that the water supply in the Pt. Reyes area would need to be "terrifically" expanded to meet the needs of such a park.

Directors yesterday supported a proposed amendment to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control Act, which would make it possible for farmers to continue certain agricultural burning after a deadline of Oct. 31 previously set by the smog control district.

The amendment next will go to the board of the California Farm Bureau Federation. If approved there, it will be submitted to the Legisltaure, Parks said.

C Of C Backs Incorporation Of Novato

The vote was 64 to 14, with only 78 of the chambers approximately 170 members casting ballots.

The chamber included an item of $500 in its 1959 budget to supplement funds raised by public subscription to place the incorporation question before Novato voters.

However, last month, directors decided to poll the membership on their wishes as to use of the funds and support of the incorporation proposal. Ballots were opened and tabulated at noon today.

8 New Counts On Suspect In Illegal Surgery

Eight more women, all from outside Marin County, went to the Mill Valley office of Dr. Jack E. Willis to undergo illegal surgery during the past two years, according to testimony presented to the Marin County Grand Jury last night.

On the strength of the testimony by the eight women, some married and others single, the grand jury returned indictments on eight more counts of illegal surgery against Dr. Willis, who is already accused of another abortion.

The 41-year-old doctor and his wife, Josephine, are already under $2,500 bail each. They

'Big Circle' In Smoother Operation

As compared to yesterday's first day jam, traffic flow this morning was improved about 50 per cent, said Rawles. "But I'm making no promises what is going to happen at tonight's commuter rush," he added.

Mitchell Baird, city planner, suggested the one-way flow would probably improve as soon as drivers get used to using both lanes instead of sticking to one lane from force of habit. For example, northbound on Irwin street at Third, a car can stick to the right lane and make a right turn onto Third almost at will. In the same way, westbound on Third, cars can stick to the left lane and make a left turn onto Lincoln.

For the first few days, drivers tend to stick to one lane, Rawles noted.

Novato City Debate Centers On Report

A public debate last night over the proposed incorporation of Novato narrowed down to an attack and a defense of Governmental Research Associates of Oakland, which made a recent survey and reported incorporation would be feasible.

Declared Paul Brindel, consistent opponent of incorporation: "The Governmental Research report is no better than the man who made it. And this is a phony report."

Later, however, asked to read aloud the entire letter from the Oakland Better Business Bureau which he had used as a basis for his attack, Brindel read that William R. Zion, partner in the firm who made the Novato survey, "is a reputable and reliable individual."

Zion also was defended by incorporation proponent Donald J. Brazell, who reported the researcher has been named to direct a survey of the City of Fresno. "Certainly that is an indication of Mr. Zion's reputation," asserted Brazell.

Brazell and Fred R. Pechner, representing the Novato Home Rule Committee, which supports incorporation, faced Brindel and Capt. Charles Clarkson, opponents. In the debate at the Novato Community Clubhouse. About 40 persons attended the debate, which was arranged by the newly organized Novato Forum. William Luft, Novato High School teacher, was moderator.

A charge by Brindel that "Zion has probably never brought out any report against incorporation" failed to get an answer from the two proponents.

Clarkson protested that the Home Rule Committee is relying exclusively on Zion's report in arriving at its conclusions.

A report by the Coro Foundation several years ago, Clarkson declared, showed that taxes would increase by 44 cents within two years after incorporation took place. "The cost of government everywhere is going up," said Clarkson.

"Is it reasonable to suppose that we can start a new city and get by without a tax for four years, as the incorporation report of Mr. Zion claims?"

"Has the committee ever bothered to make a study in another city?" he asked.

"No," admitted Pechner. While Zion said it is possible Novato could be tax-free for four years, if incorporated promptly, based on the premise that $200,000 would accrue from state and county subventions, "this is not a propaganda gimmick by the Home Rule Committee," asserted Pechner.

"It would be foolish to try to fool the people into believing that they would have no taxes for four years," he said.

Questioned by a member of the audience, Pechner said: "We told Zion we wanted an unbiased report—that if it proved that incorporation was unfeasible, the whole thing would be dropped."

Brindel, who as a member of the Committee to Save Novato From City Taxes recently distributed a two-page mimeographed attack on incorporation, was backed into admitting that a statement in the handout was untrue.

Mrs. Paul F. O'Rourke confronted Brindel with a barrage of questions which Brindel protested were "irrelevant and immaterial."

"Where did you obtain your information," asked Mrs. O'Rourke, "that 'the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People is in favor of incorporation?' And why do you rank that group with what you call 'gyp' builders, promoters and speculators?'"

"Well, no," stammered Brindell, "but what constitutes an organization if it's not the members?"

"Then you admit that the statement is untrue?" declared Mrs. O'Rourke.

Course Winds Up

Tamalpais High School closed a six-week adult education course in investments last night with a talk by attorney Robert W. Scott of Kent Woodlands on "Estate Planning."

Old Easement May Help In Road Extension

An old San Rafael map indicates that the city may have a 30-foot easement alongside the old Bathhouse property that could come in handy for the proposed Lincoln avenue extension, Public Works Supt. Norris Rawles disclosed last night.

In hopes that such an easement might save the city some money, the city council authorized Rawles to make a title search. Property owners in the area are asking the city to share in the cost of extending Lincoln avenue from Second street through the Little League ball park to Irwin street.

EASEMENT SHOWN

Rawles said an old map shows an easement from Second to Mahon Creek, about half the distance of the proposed Lincoln avenue extension. If the easement is located within city property, the city would gain nothing, but if a legal easement exists through private property, the city may not have to acquire so much land to make the extension.

City fathers also opened bids but did not award contracts for a one-ton pickup truck and a heavy duty dump truck chassis and cab.

DeLong Chevrolet, $2,316.45 for pickup and $2,078.75 for heavy duty truck; Bianco Motors, $2,464.72 and $2,453.25; Rossi Garage, $2,460 and $2,535 for International and $2,370 and $2,465 for Studebaker; Ames Ford, $2,350.55 and $2,283.92.

OTHER ACTION

In other action, the council:

1. Asked the city manager to see if the abandoned Roberts Dairy building at Fourth and Mary streets can be boarded up to prevent high school children from getting inside.
2. Asked the state for use of $50,000 of the state gasoline tax funds for land acquisition and survey for Third street widening.

PT&T Pact Extended As Talks Resume

Stalemated negotiators yesterday worked up to the 5 p.m. deadline set in the first contract extension and then agreed to continue the old pact until 5 p.m. tomorrow.

Room For Maid Approved After Long Discussion

Just as long as she doesn't have a window looking onto the street. And provided there's naught but opaque glass in the west side window.

NOT UNANIMOUS

It was not unanimous, at that.

The Conrad home, at 18 Leeward road, has only 20-foot frontage. In adding maid's quarters atop the carport, the Conrads' architect designed a structure which impinges on the five-foot sideline setback for a distance of between 14 and 30 inches, according to their attorney, Roderick P. Martinelli.

In recommending approval of the necessary variance, planning commissioners said the 20-foot frontage constituted unusual circumstances, making the impingement allowable. They attached the conditions about windows to satisfy complaints of neighbors.

NO OBJECTIONS

Mayor Ralph Meyers last night withdrew his objections to the variance: "I will accept the planning commission's judgment and their answer."

But Councilman H. Nordmark Williams dissented. Saying that "the basis of the ordinance is to protect the health, welfare and property values of the community as a whole," Williams said he had inspected the Conrad property and, without being an architect himself, had been able to devise "any number of other solutions that would not have required a variance."

Williams was outvoted 4-1.

Water Program Set To Roll, Says Brown

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced today that his long-awaited water program will begin rolling through the state Legislature this week.

Brown told a news conference that "I am waiting for the Southern California caucus to meet tomorrow to find out just how they feel," but in the meantime, "I have been talking with northern legislators. By Friday of this week, I think I'll know for sure and we'll start moving."

Brown was asked what his reasons were for expecting the break to come so quickly.

"I have talked with many senators," Brown said, "from both the north and south; they all seem to want the water program to move along.

"I haven't talked with the 120 legislators upstairs, but those I have talked with — those interested in water — seem interested in the state as a whole.

"When the time comes to move this program, they'll all give a little bit and that's all it will take."

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—Rail shares revived and joined industrials late this afternoon in an advance which seemed destined to put the stock market at another record peak. Trading was heavy.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4,900,000 shares compared with 4,210,000 yesterday.

Illinois Central jumped about three. New York Central and Baltimore and Ohio gained more than a point each. Moderate advances were made by Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and Chesapeake and Ohio.

Gulf Oil was up about four, Texas Co. around two and Standard Oil of New Jersey more than a point.

PIONEER'S PROGRESS AND PERFORMANCE

Contest Seeking Name For Plane

Personnel at Hamilton Air Force Base and other Air Defense Command bases are participating in a command-wide contest to select a name for an interceptor plane still being developed.

The craft, designated the F108, is being developed by North American Aviation Co. and is intended to "combine the unmatchable flexibility of a human brain with a mobile missile launching platform that will permit the atomic destruction far offshore of enemy aircraft or missiles approaching from sea level to extremely high altitudes," according to engineers working on it.

The name contest opened Sunday and closes March 31. The winner will receive a $500 savings bond and an expense-paid three-day trip for two to Las Vegas, Nev..

County To Hire 2 More Doctors Temporarily

Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, Marin County medical director, today asked the county board of supervisors for money to hire two more doctors, a medical social worker and a typist-clerk.

He also requested a pay raise for an obstetrician already employed and suggested a salary cut for a doctor employed to handle cases in the Novato area.

The supervisors agreed to make $500 available to hire the two additional doctors "to meet an emergency" during the current month.

They also approved the salary cut for the Novato doctor.

But they refused to provide funds for another medical social worker or for a pay raise for the obstetrician.

They also refused to make the new positions permanent, pending "complete study" of county medical services by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen. They took no action on the request for a typist-clerk.

Initially, Board Chairman Walter R. Castro and Supervisors William Gnoss and James A. Marshall had indicated their willingness to go along with Dufficy's requests. That was before Supervisor William D. Fusselman arrived at the meeting. (The latter's fourth vote was needed to effect the necessary transfer of funds; Supervisor Vera Schultz was absent.)

Fusselman renewed his criticism of Dufficy. "It looks to me like we are spending more and more for service we already have," said Fusselman.

Dufficy, who conferred briefly before the meeting with Castro, Gnoss and Marshall, was not present when his written request was considered.

Castro and Jensen pointed out to Fusselman that the Dufficy request was based on reported increase in case load and the threat of two doctors to resign if their work load were not lightened.

"The load hasn't increased as much as Dufficy's request for funds," Fusselman retorted.

Fusselman suggested action be delayed pending a "full investigation." Castro agreed that the county should consider employing full-time doctors in the medical department. (At present, they work only part-time.)

In the end Fusselman acceded to the "emergency" pleas of Castro and Jensen, agreeing to vote for a special appropriation for one month while investigation is made to see if more efficient and economical methods can be devised to provide medical care for indigents.

Planners Consider Apartment Project

Plans for a $350,000 luxury apartment project proposed for the Meadowsweet district, just south of Corte Madera, were laid before the Marin County Planning Commission last night.

A. H. Bacharach, Oakland developer, hopes to erect a 50-unit luxury apartment building on a 1.07-acre parcel along the south side of Meadowsweet drive. The site is near a commercial area south of Tamalpais drive.

Bacharach's plans call for a rectangular structure surrounding a 9,000-square-foot courtyard "leisure area." The courtyard would contain a swimming pool, badminton court, shuffleboard deck and gardens.

Three sides of the apartment building would have two stories. The fourth, fronting Meadowsweet drive, would have three stories. the lowest containing parking facilities.

The building site is in an area zoned for retail business uses, with special highway frontage regulations. Apartment construction is permitted under the zoning, subject to approval of architectural plans.

After briefly reviewing Bacharach's plans last night, the commission asked its staff to study the proposed parking plan with a view toward increasing the number of spaces. More precise density figures also were requested. The matter then was continued to the commission's next meeting on March 16.

I-J Aide Tours Nike Missile Units

Among the group making the "Operation Understanding" trip was Wishard A. Brown, business manager of the Independent-Journal.

Eddie Asks Debbie To Approve Nevada Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Debbie Reynolds today refused to consent to a "quickie" Nevada divorce sought by Eddie Fisher, saying, "I feel it would be embarrassing to my children to one day find out their father had two wives at the same time."

"I don't think my permission is necessary," she said.

Fisher moves to Las Vegas April 1 for a four-week stand at the Tropicana Hotel. It is assumed he will remain there an additional two weeks to establish residence, qualifying him for a divorce in that state.

Elizabeth Taylor, the "other woman" in Debbie's divorce suit, has rented a nearby estate (at $500 weekly) during Fisher's stay.

Broemmel Has Praise For His Staff—Including Holdovers

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel today voiced public praise for all the staff of the county assessor's office, including those who are holdovers from the regime of former Assessor George W. Hall.

Today Broemmel told the county board of supervisors that all assessor's office personnel had cheerfully endured inconveniences resulting from repainting and remodeling now in progress. He said everybody in the office continued to perform his duties diligently.

"At the risk of saying something which people might say was political, I would say you inherited a good staff," commented Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who favored Hall's re-election over Broemmel.

The new assessor grinned and responded, "We have installed all new procedure which the entire staff has approached with enthusiasm and willingness."

Koch Wins Suit To Fence Home

After almost three years of fight for a green fiberglass fence around his lot in Kent Woodlands, Harold M. Koch of 609 College avenue is now legally able to put up that fence.

The District Court of Appeals in San Francisco reversed a Marin Superior Court judge and decided that Koch is no longer bound by the original restrictions against such a fence since the Kent family, who formerly owned Kent Woodlands, sold the land and no longer have jurisdiction.

The Kent family sued Koch to prevent him from putting up the six-foot fence. Judge Thomas F. Keating upheld the Kents.

Koch then appealed to the District Court of Appeals in San Francisco, which ruled that the original restrictions do not apply any more because the Kents have no interest in any land to be benefited by the restrictions.

Koch said he now intends to put up his fence. The fiberglass fence is manufactured at the Koch plant in Corte Madera.

Warne Appointed To Fish-Game Post

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today appointed William E. Warne, 53, a former assistant secretary of the interior, as director of the state Department of Fish and Game.

Warne, now in Korea as economics coordinator for foreign aid, supervised the Fish and Wildlife Service in the interior department from 1947-49.

S.F. Supervisors Ask Delay On Tiburon Span

A resolution asking the Legislature to remove the proposed Tiburon bridge from the state freeway master plan was adopted yesterday by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

Offered by Supervisor Al Zirpoli, the resolution urged removal of the span until public hearings on the bridge problem have been held by the Legislature in San Francisco.

"Let us be heard before they start hiring engineers and proposing plans," Zirpoli said.

Traffic Tag 'Fixes' Alleged In Hub Ballot

Were traffic tickets canceled in wholesale lots to win "yes" votes for a San Anselmo ordinance setting up a retirement program for city employees?

An allegation that they were has been heard by a three-man San Anselmo City Council committee investigating the police department, it was learned today.

The matter may be brought up at a council meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at which time the committee plans to ask that Police Chief Donald T. Wood be ordered to rescind his rule that police cannot talk about department affairs to outsiders —even city councilmen.

McInnis Files For Re-Election

Mayor John F. McInnis, thus far unopposed in the April 13 San Rafael election, officially filed today to run for a second two-year term in office.

His petitions of nomination were filed with the city clerk. Candidates have until March 13 to file their petitions of nomination.

All incumbents have indicated they will run again for reelection. Contests have shaped up for city councilmen, police chief, city attorney and board of education.

will not be re-arrested under the new indictments, said Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich, because they are already under bail.

When Dr. and Mrs. Willis appear for plea on the first indictment Monday, they will be presented with the eight new charges.

The eight women who told their stories last night testified they paid from $350 to $500 to Dr. Willis for their operations. In each case, the operation was successful. In five of the eight operations, Mrs. Willis helped the doctor, according to testimony given by the women.

In three cases, the doctor worked alone. All operations were performed at the doctor's office at 17 Throckmorton avenue, Mill Valley, the women testified.

"We've hardly scratched the surface," said Weissich. "But I feel we now have enough evidence to show that the operations were not isolated incidents."

Inspector Donald E. Midyett and Investigators William H. Bemiss and Antoan W. Adam tracked down the eight women through medical records confiscated by the district attorney in the arrest on Feb. 3.

Weissich said his investigators would be working on the case indefinitely if they were to try to dig up all the cases where illegal operations are suspected.

Shot By Wife Saves Husband In Gang Attack

When sheriff's deputies arrived about 10:30 p.m. a group of about 25 youths were milling about the parking area of the drive-in, but the participants had left. Deputies D. L. Greeson and William Brust gave this account of what apparently happened:

Johnnie Merritt, 17, of 67 Molino avenue, Mill Valley, was at the drive-in when two youths started pushing him around. Merrit went back and told his brother-in-law, Bennie C. Patterson, 24, a soldier, who also lives at 67 Molino avenue.

Patterson, his wife, Elaine, and Merritt went back to the drive-in. Patterson got out to ask what the trouble was, and two youths attacked him from both sides. One cut him with a can opener, opening a one and one-half inch gash on his right eyelid.

The frightened Mrs. Patterson seized her husband's pistol and fired one shot into the ground. The attackers fled.

Officers said one of the attackers was about 18, was about 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighed about 180 pounds, and wore a black leather jacket and blue jeans.

No one was arrested. The gun was seized as evidence.

9 Children Drown On School Bus

TIFTON, Ga. (AP)—A school bus hit a rut in a road and overturned in a farm pond today, drowning at least nine children. Rescuers said possibly two or three other bodies may be found in the half submerged bus.

The bus, carrying approximately 60 Negro children, plunged into the pond about 8 a.m., on the farm of Raleigh Coarsey, a mile southwest of Brookfield. The scene is about eight miles from Tifton in south Georgia.

Two white men, Carl Lowry and Charles Ahrens, helped pull several children from the bus after breaking windows on the side remaining above water. Those who were unconscious were laid on the side of the bus. When other help arrived, artificial respiration saved 10 or 12 of these children.

Witnesses said the bus was traveling about 30 miles an hour when it careened into the pond.

Council Hopes For Smoother Budget Sessions This Year

Corte Madera's town councilmen will huddle Saturday night at the home of Mayor William R. Hansen to decide on the format for this year's town budget.

Last year, budget hearings went on and on, with the budget format revised and re-revised during the sessions. The council, hoping to avoid a repetition of that experience, voted last night to review a proposed new format in the informal atmosphere of the mayor's home before considering it at the next meeting.

Hansen announced the appointment of two new members to the park and recreation commission. They are Morton J. Simon of 21 Lakeside drive and Charles W. Garrison of 8 Echo avenue.

The council deferred acceptance of several miles of freeway frontage roads which the state has announced it plans to relinquish to the city. Councilman Walter S. Long said he wanted to check what effect acceptance would have on the town's "tight budget."

The Corte Madera council also:

1. Agreed to send a letter to the Corte Madera Sanitary District reminding its directors that annexation of Paradise Cay subdivision would make possible merger of the town and district more difficult.
2. Introduced an ordinance creating a joint city-county disaster plan.
3. Approved a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. request for placing street lights in a new section of Mariner's Cove subdivision at a monthly power rate of $53.
4. Requested Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow to send letters to the town treasurer and auditor requesting them to be present at the April 6 council meeting to discuss town bookkeeping methods.
5. Approved sending a letter to the board of supervisors asking for county aid in a $35,000 reconstruction of Paradise drive.

QUAKE

shake. The Independent-Journal received excited calls from Sausalito, Tiburon, Corte Madera, San Rafael, San Anselmo and Fairfax. It was felt also in the Independent-Journal building. However, a Lucas Valley resident reported the temblor was not felt there.

The shock sent an earthslide across State Highway 156 about five miles east of Watsonville, blocking the road.

Pipes were buckled and light bulbs popped in a Hollister ice plant. In Alameda, the shock set off a number of burglar and fire alarms. In San Francisco, there were some broken window panes and a few wall cracks.

Meeting On Merger

The Corte Madera and Larkspur Merger Study Committees will meet in joint session again tonight at 8 o'clock in the Larkspur City Hall.

Corte Madera Mulls Easing Sign Ordinance

Corte Madera town councilmen last night tossed around the hot potato of sign ordinance enforcement after agreement that "discretion" would be necessary in pursuing remaining violators of the ordinance.

Councilman Walter S. Long said he learned there were still about 41 illegal signs, despite recent efforts which resulted in removal of 30.

Town Atty. John H. Ehlen, admitted that not all the violations had been prosecuted. He suggested the Council should review the advisability of strict enforcement.

BREATHING SPELL

Ehlen said some of the merchants in the Corte Madera Shopping Center were "just getting by" and needed a breathing spell.

He suggested the council declare a legal moratorium if the violators would agree to bring their signs into conformity within a definite time.

Long said he was not in favor of just "picking the businesses off one by one" and thought concessions should be made. If all 41 violators were taken to court, it might put Corte Madera in an unfavorable light as far as business was concerned, he said.

ALREADY COMPLIED

Mayor William Hansen questioned the relaxing of the ordinance when many merchants have already complied.

A motion by Hansen to have the planning commission consider possible changes in the ordinance for newly established business failed to receive a second.

The council finally approved a motion by Councilman Roger Morse to have Ehlen and Building Inspector William G. McBride prepare a plan for removal of the remaining illegal signs and to present it to the council at a future meeting.

The motion carried 3-to-0 with Hansen abstaining. Councilman Edward Colthurst was absent.

have followed their planes out of the county, with others indicating similar intent, Nelson said, "Most people don't realize the importance of the airplane to the mobile, modern type of light industry. The County of Marin has shown little interest in locating this type of business —so there goes another attraction."

ONE OR TWO

With the closing of his airport, Nelson said, Marin becomes one of two metropolitan counties in the state without municipal airport facilities.

D. K. Pischel Jr. of Sleepy Hollow, whose real estate and agricultural interests require the use of an airplane to cover the state, said today it "seems fantastic that in this age of flight we cannot offer aviation facilities in Marin County."

Also bemoaning the lack of airport facilities in Marin was James Rusch, who managed the San Rafael airport during most of its existence.

"The county," said Rusch, seems to realize it has a real need for light industry, but it effectively prohibits a favorite method of transportation for these industries."

In January, the board of supervisors refused to grant a use permit for an airport which Robert DeYoung wanted to build on the Smith brothers' Santa Venetia ranch. DeYoung proposed to install a 3,000-foot runway for use by light planes only. The facilities would have been provided without cost to the taxpayers.

In rejecting the plan, the supervisors overrode a favorable recommendation by the county planning commission.

STUDY COMMITTEE

The board has since named a special airport committee to study the possibility of county lease of William Quinby Wright's airport property in Novato. Under consideration is lease of 35 acres from Wright, with the county to hold an option to purchase the land after 10 years or renew the lease. The proposal calls for the use of some $24,000 in aviation gas tax money refunded to the county by the state.

When Nelson has wound up all business matters at his airport in San Rafael he will move with his wife and five children to Lake Tahoe to go into business there.

DESIGN APPALLS STAFF

Planners Approve 2 'Slum Buildings'

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday approved architectural plans for a pair of Los Ranchitos apartment houses which the planning staff predicted will be slums.

J. B. Williams, San Rafael builder, will erect the twin structures on the west side of Merrydale road, between North San Pedro road and Highway 101, north of San Rafael. They will contain 16 apartment units.

The staff report said the rezoning probably resulted from "lack of a comprehensive study of the basic planning principles involved and the lack of satisfactory zoning classifications."

"The unfortunate possibilities of this R-3 (apartment) district," the report continued, "quickly became obvious to even the most naive when, on June 2, 1958 . . . the commission prematurely considered the plans for the first two tenement houses. . . .

"After a long, vain discussion, the plans were approved with a token condition requiring a landscape plan in an attempt to soften the brutal environment proposed.

Predicting the apartments to be built by Williams will "probably be just as ugly," the staff report said the designs are "exceedingly poor" and the parking layout "too ludicrous to describe."

But, it concluded, the "proposed slum buildings are well within the standards set forth in the R-3 district, and since the architectural supervision procedure is merely an accident in this case . . . the staff would recommend that only a tree-planting plan be required —fast-growing trees."

Faced with no choice but to approve the plans because they conform with the zoning requirements, the commission did so by unanimous vote.

The planners also:

1. Denied a permit for a 100-square-foot free-standing sign proposed in front of the new Minimax building at 4190 Redwood highway, opposite Terra Linda.
2. Approved plans of Desmond Mactavish for a 17-unit apartment house in a light industrial district on the Highway 101 frontage road just north of the Club Rio, Novato
3. Established building standards for Marinwood subdivision Unit 6.
4. Continued to March 16 a public hearing on a resolution of intention to rezone Marin Golf and Country Club Estates near Loma Verde from a planned community district to a one-family residential district.
5. Continued to March 16 further consideration of plans by Laster and Co. for a 16-unit apartment house on the south side of Novato's Grant avenue, just east of Eighth street.
6. Granted a permit for an 83-square-foot sign at the Wilshire service station just north of Richardson Bay Bridge on the east side of Highway 101.

AGILE BURGLAR CLIMBS POLES, STEALS LIGHTS

Recreation Director Joseph Rodota discovered the loss when he sent electricians up to the top of two towers to check on the flood lights, which have not been used for several months. Rodota said he did not know when the bulbs were taken. Estimated loss is $170.

Civic Center Opponents To Organize Drive

A public meeting will be held in San Francisco tomorrow by a group of Marin County taxpayers who oppose the county's multi-million-dollar civic center project.

The session will be held in the staff meeting room of the Firemen's Fund Indemnity Co. at 11:30 a.m.

Among the civic center opponents are a number of Marin residents who commute daily to jobs at Firemen's Fund. One of these, John W. Gottschalk of 121 Marinda drive, Fairfax, estimated recently that at least 50 in the group are Firemen's Fund employees.

At tomorrow's session, the group plans to establish a formal organization and elect a chairman and secretary. All major San Francisco firms which employ large numbers of Marin residents have been sent notices of the meeting.

The session is expected to be followed by a night meeting in San Rafael within the next week.

While the anti-civic center movement started among commuters to San Francisco, leaders of the drive now claim widespread support of Marin County businessmen.

The opponents maintain the cost of the project, which is being financed with property tax revenues, is out of proportion to the county's needs and beyond the ability of the taxpayers.

It was noted that in this area there are no major differences of opinion between the county master plan and Scheuer's alternate plan.

Plans for Unit 1 call for 29 one-family homes, nine two-story garden apartment buildings and eight two-story "maisonette" apartmene houses.

The homes will be sold at prices ranging from $12,000 to $15,000. There will be 36 two-garden apartment units, four in each building. These will be rented for $65 to $85 a month. Each of the eight "maisonette" structures will have two three-bedroom apartments, which will rent for $105 a month.

Stinson Unit To See Proposed Chapel Plans

Plans for the proposed chapel of the Stinson Beach Community Center will be presented at tonight's meeting of the Stinson Beach Progressive Club at 8 o'clock at the Community Center.

Colored slides of travel in the southwest will be shown by Joe Lawrence after the business meeting, said president Alvin A. Eustis.

David S. Watts Rites Tomorrow

Funeral services for David S. Watts of Fairfax will be held tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

Watts, 53, died of cancer Sunday in a local hospital. He was a resident of Marin for 38 years, having come here from San Francisco, where he was born. He resided at 126 Ridge road in Fairfax.

A carpenter, he worked for Edward J. Vacha, San Anselmo building contractor, for 22 years. For leisure, he turned to flowers, entering begonias and other varieties in flower shows at the Marin Art and Garden Center.

He was a charter member of Native Sons of the Golden West, Fairfax Parlor 307, and also belonged to Carpenters Union Local 35 and the San Rafael Elks Lodge.

Carlos Zunino Rites Tomorrow

A Requiem Mass for Carlos Zunino, brother of Mrs. Rose Figone of 122 Domingo avenue, Fairfax, will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at S.S. Peter and Paul's Church, San Francisco. Committal will be in Italian Cemetery, Colma.

Zunino, 75, died Sunday in San Francisco. He is survived by two sisters and a brother, Mrs. Figone, and Mrs. Desolina Freschi and Basilio Zunino in his native Italy.

The Rosary will be recited at the Chapel of Valente, Marini, Perata and Co., 649 Green street, San Francisco, tonight at 8 o'clock.

Developer Involved In 2 San Rafael Problems

San Rafael city councilmen ran up against two major problems last night and discovered both are related to Fairhills developer Lloyd Grandi.

One is a big slide that endangers Fairhills drive near the intersection of Valley View avenue. A $400 survey made by Woodward, Clyde Sherard and Associates of Oakland shows that the "slide probably occurred as a result of removing the lateral support when the bench was cut below the road." The cut reportedly was made by Grandi several years ago when he carved out a lot below Fairhills drive.

The city council asked Norris Rawles, public works director, to dig up factual data showing when the excavation was made, by whom, and whether the city gave the excavator a permit. This information is necessary before legal responsibility can be fixed, said City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw.

Both Rawles and City Clerk W. L. Morgan pointed out that the city's records are in such a "mess" that it is almost impossible to dig up records dating back a few years. The records are stuffed in boxes in the city hall basement, and there is no quick way to refer to specific documents, they said. But Rawles will try to find what records he can.

The second problem arose when a property owner, who identified himself as Paul Wells, demanded a building permit to erect a home at the end of Quarry road. Wells said he had bought the lot next to Mosher Brothers property, but the building inspector refuses to issue a permit on grounds the city feels the sewer line is inadequate.

San Rafael and Grandi are in a court wrangle over jurisdiction of the sewer line along Quarry road. The city contends that the Quarry road line is a private line never accepted by the city.

Since the lower 300 feet leaks, the city says new lines cannot be added to the old line. If Grandi would bring the 300 feet of six-inch line to city standards, the city would accept it, and new extensions would be granted to serve Mosher Brothers and Wells. Cost of the 300 feet is estimated at $1,000.

The council asked City Manager Dan E. Andersen to confer with property owners along the line to see if they would pay for replacing the 300-foot line. Councilmen said the city cannot pay for the line because that would set a precedent—the city paying for a private sewer line.

Balm To Drivers: Shorter Trains

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Legislation designed to aid the motorist who is caught behind a seemingly endless freight train has been introduced in the Senate by Sen. George Miller Jr. (D-Martinez).

Miller's proposal, submitted yesterday, would limit the length of freight trains to 4,000 feet and that of passenger trains to 1,200 feet.

Other bills introduced in the Legislature would:

Make it a crime to falsely report that a bomb has been hidden in a public place (SB845, Teale).

Reduce the number of jurors in civil cases from 12 to eight (SCA12, Regan).

Russ Lead European Sweep Of Skiing Championships

SQUAW VALLEY (AP)—North Americans, shut out of the victory circle in the North Amiercan Nordic Skiing Championships, had a chance for a title today in the unique biathlon competition.

In the event, the final one on the list of trials for this site of the 1960 Winter Olympic Games, skiers race 20 kilometers (12½ miles) shooting at four target ranges en route.

The field of 20 for the biathlon listed only two foreigners, Klas Lestander of Sweden and Norman Shutt of Newport, Shropshire, England. Half the field is on the U.S. Army team.

A pair of Russians, Pavel Kolchin and Dmitri Kochkin, won their country's first victories yesterday and completed European domination of the North American Nordic skiing event.

Kolchin, a 116-pounder, beat Finland's veteran Veikko Hakulinen in the 15-kilometer (9.3 mile) special cross-country race. Kolchin was timed in 54 minutes 10.7 seconds for a victory margin of three and one-half seconds. Finland's Kalevi Hamalainen placed third in 54:45.2. No United States skier placed in the first 10.

Kochin, a stocky 25-year-old, placed 10th in the 15-kilometer which, with his first in the 60-meter jumping, gave him the title in the competition combining those two events.

In the European sweep, Finland's Kalevi Karkinen won the 80-meter jump with a best leap of 290 feet, 4 inches. Here again the United States took the runner-up spot with Duluth's Gene Kotlarek having a best of 287 feet.

Sweden's Sixteen Jernberg took the 30-kilometer cross-country title in another event where North Americans made no showing. Suffering from a cold, Jernberg was fifth in the 15 kilometers yesterday.

Skating titles in the weekend of international competition also went to Europe. Norway's Knut Johannesen won both the 5,000 and 10,000-meter races, his teammates, Alf Gjestvang, took the 500, and Finland's Juhani Jarvinen broke the world record for 1,500 with 2 minutes, 6.3 seconds.

HICKEY WELCOMES 2 NEW AIDES

Shaw, who played end on two championship Cleveland teams and resigned from the Baltimore Colts, will coach offensive ends and flankers and help Hickey with the backfield. Christiansen, described by Hickey as "the best defensive back the league ever had," comes to the 49ers from Detroit. He will coach defensive backs. (AP Wirephoto)

Robertson Breaks 3 School Records

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Cincinnati and Bradley cleared decks today for their showdown battle for an NCAA tournament berth, but down in the Border Conference the tourney selectors are simply "fit to be tied."

Oscar Robertson smashed three school records as he tallied 44 points in leading Cincinnati to a 95-64 romp over North Texas State last night at Cincinnati to clinch at least a share of the Missouri Valley Conference championship.

But Bradley kept its faint title hopes flickering by beating Houston, 74-60, as Bobby Joe Mason scored 18 points.

Now Cincinnati, 12-0 in the league, meets Bradley (11-3) Saturday. For Bradley to wind up in a title tie, it must beat Robertson and Co. in this one and then hope St. Louis can do the same next next Monday night.

But the Border Conference race to an NCAA berth wound up last night in a triple tie among Texas Western, New Mexico State and defending champion Arizona State U., each with a 7-3 league record. This state of affairs came about when New Mexico State lost to West Texas State, 83-75, and Texas Western dropped an overtime, 58-57, decision to Hardin-Simmons. A win for either contender would have settled the crown.

Now two playoff games must be held to break the deadlock.

Robertson went on a rampage as Cincinnati scored its 16th straight win to tie a school record. He tallied 11 baskets for a career total 628, breaking Jack Twyman's school mark of 622, and also set school marks of 22 free throws in the game and a string of 23 straight free throws in the last two games.

St. Louis was eliminated from the rugged Missouri Valley race despite an 83-55 victory over Tulsa as Bob Ferry scored 27 points. However, the Billikens are considered a cinch for a bid to the National Invitation Tournament.

Three berths were left unfilled in the 12-team NIT today with the announcement that Butler (18-8) has accepted a bid to the carnival which opens at New York's Madison Square Garden March 12.

Stoneham Expects His Sophomores To Do Even Better This Year

CONNOLLY

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Many a true word is spoken in jest, as the boys say downtown, and Horace Stoneham, Giant boss, came aboard with a ton of truth the other afternoon when he said:

"This ball club could grow up together!"

No training camp these old eyes have gazed upon is more fraught with excitement than the 1959 Giants. From the clubhouse boy up to the top brass the spirit of conquest is contagious.

"That's bunk in the raw," Stoneham says. "Why we expect our kids to be better this year than last year because they have gone through the wringer year. I'll wager Cepeda, Davenport, Schmidt, Alou and Kirkland improve in the coming season. And if they do we can't do anything but make our fans happier than they were last year.

"Stu Miller ought to be a better pitcher than he was in 1958; Antonelli is looking forward to a great year; Mike McCormick, I think, will be a sensation. You know, this is his third season as a Giant, and he has picked up the fine points, slowly but surely.

Jack Sanford we're counting on to return to his 1957 pitching form. Now, if we can just have one more starter in the pitching ranks, we might never look back."

"THE GIANTS," Stoneham maintains, "made enough runs and got enough hits in '58 to win the pennant. But we were, as the horse handicappers say, 'a little short.' This year we're set and will go the distance."

Make no mistake about the Giants. Stoneham is the boss. His word is first, last and final. He trusts certain duties to certain men and expects them to deliver. He never second guesses and he isn't afraid to speak up and say his piece. But when he does, it's taken in the same fashion as it is passed out . . . strictly in a constructive way.

Rigney's doctors might have advised him about not donning a uniform until later in training. But the doctors didn't have to impose any such orders. Stoneham told his manager, on the phone, before he left for camp, that he could stay home if he didn't want to look at the training from the stands.

"We need Rigney to be in good health, after the flag chase begins," says Stoneham. "Now he can watch and wait and advise. We want him to be the push button type of field general for awhile before he dons the uniform. He has all the help, and competent help, he needs, so why expose himself unnecessarily?"

The Giants may well "grow up together" as Stoneham remarks, jokingly, for so far the makeup of the club, regulars, is a bit under 27 years of age. If the team as it is supposed to be as of this date takes the field, Darrell Spencer will be the oldest in the lineup and he is not yet 29.

"We spotted every club at least two runs per game last season, skipper Rigney maintains.

"We got enough runs but our defenses crumbled at crucial moments. And by that I mean, our pitching was hot and cold. At times our fielding was poor. But you got to expect that from a young and hustling ball club.

"Spencer, I am sure, will maker fewer errors at second base than he did at shortstop. Most of his miscues last year were from bad throws, and hurried throws. At second base, he will not have to make the long throw."

RIGNEY IS MORE than highly pleased with his infield throwing. Every one of the players from Cepeda to Spencer to Rogers to Davenport are cannon throwers. The outfield is rated as a "dream outfit" because of its speed, defensive strength and power at the plate.

'Brandt in leftfield, Mays in centerfield and Alou in right have all the requisites of a 'Branch Rickey perfect outfield'," Rigney says.

"They got the power, the throwing ability and all of 'em can fly on the bases."

There are many baseball observers here who think Alou is faster than Willie Mays. And it may take a foot race or an expert timer to clock 'em in a matchc race around the bases.

ONE THING is certain between Mays and Alou. And that is Alou may out-throw him. Willie's arm still is better than average in the National League but it has petered out a bit the last few years. According to close observers, he is not as accurate as he used to be.

As far as the Giants have gone in training, everything seems quite rosy. And I'm just "busher" enough to think they are pennant conscious. But I'd like to see them a few weeks after the race gets under way before I can predict, with any degree of accuracy, whether they can make it.

All I can say right now is the boys are hustling and are out to give the rest of the league a merry fight for the top berth, come next October.

Giants Bonus Pitcher Perry Looks Sharp

PHOENIX (AP) — Bill Rigney, the San Francisco Giants' manager, agrees that $90,000 bonus pitcher Gaylord Perry looks sharp in his training camp mound work.

But neither Rigney nor his coaches will risk an opinion this early on the rookie who won nine and lost five last year for St. Cloud, Minn., in the Class C Northern League.

Perry, a 6-foot-1 righthander, smoked several fast ones by outfielder Leon Wagner yesterday as the Giants readied for their first exhibition game Saturday with Cleveland. The game will be played in Tucson.

Rigney said he needed another starting pitcher for the 1959 campaign.

"But there are still several weeks of training during which we'll take a look at everyone in camp," he added.

Jack Sanford and Billy Muffett, two pitchers the Giants picked up in trades, get their chances today. Sanford was 10-13 with Philadelphia last year and Muffett was 4-6 with St. Louis.

The Giants pitching problem has been complicated by the holdouts of Ramon Monzant, who was 8-11 with the Giants, and Al Worthington, who was 11-7.

Writers Again Name Newell Coach Of Year

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Pete Newell, whose California Bears are expected to wrap up their third straight Pacific Coast Conference title against Oregon State this weekend, has been named "Coach of the Year" for the third time by the Northern California Basketball Writers and Broadcasters Assn.

First Team—Neumann, Laroy Doss, St. Mary's; Leroy Wright, College of Pacific; Denny Fitzpatrick, California; Darrall Imhoff, California, and Frank Sobrero, Santa Clara (Imhoff and Sobrero finished in a tie for a first team berth, boosting the quintet to six men).

Second Team—Dick Sigaty, St. Mary's; Dave Klurman, COP; Tom Meschery, St. Mary's; Al Buch, California, and Fred Lacour, University of San Francisco.

UPI Names All-America Cage Team

Named with Robertson by the direct vote of 290 sports writers and radio-TV broadcasters throughout the nation were: Bailey Howell of Mississippi State, Bob Boozer of Kansas State, Jerry West of West Virginia and Don Hennon of Pittsburgh.

Gaels Try For Perfect Mark Tonight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. Mary's Gaels try for a perfect West Coast Athletic Conference season tonight against Santa Clara at San Jose Civic Auditorium.

Unbeaten in their first 11 WCAC games, the Gaels have already pocketed the title and a berth in the Western Regional NCAA playoffs at the San Francisco Cow Palace March 13-14.

They beat Santa Clara Coach Bob Feerick's Broncs 65-54 Jan. 17. But the Broncs, 7-3 in the league and winner of five of their six games, are out to clinch second place, the spot they now hold. They meet San Francisco in a finale Saturday.

At Fullerton last night, Humboldt State lost a 63-52 contest with Whittier in the NAIA District 3 Basketball Tournament. Whittier meets Pasadena College tonight for the championship. Pasadena beat Westmont 83-72.

Northern California Pacific Coast Conference teams were idle, but at Eugene, Ore., Idaho beat Oregon 64-58.

Drake Basketball Dinner Thursday

Drake High School's varsity and Class B basketball squads will be honored by the Drake Benchwarmers Thursday night at the annual team banquet to be held at Sleepy Hollow School, it was announced yesterday.

Cage Tournament Pairings Listed

NEW YORK (AP)—The UCAA has announced pairings for two regional basketball tournaments at Madison Square Garden in New York and Lexington, Ky., March 10.

The New York triple-header opens with the Yankee Conference champion meeting an at-large team which probably won't be selected until late in the week. In the second game Navy will play the Atlantic Coast Conference champion while West Virginia, champion of the Southern Conference, plays the Ivy League titleholder in the finale.

49ers To Meet Eagles And Browns In League Schedule

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers will open their National Football League season at home on Sept. 27 against Coach Buck Shaw's Philadelphia Eagles, it was announced.

The 49ers also are scheduled to make their first appearance in Cleveland since 1953 when they meet the Browns there on Nov. 29, club officials said.

The Baltimore Colts will play at Kezar Stadium on Saturday, Dec. 5, in a nationally televised contest.

The schedule:

Sept. 27—Philadelphia; Oct. 4—Los Angeles; Oct. 11—at Green Bay; Oct. 18—at Detroit; Oct. 25—Chicago Bears; Nov. 1—Detroit Lions; Nov. 8—at Los Angeles; Nov. 15—Chicago Bears; Nov. 22—at Baltimore; Nov. 29—at Cleveland; Dec. 5—Baltimore; Dec. 13—Green Bay.

HANLEY'S REPORT

Rigney Popular With Reporters

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

PHOENIX, Ariz. — There is no doubt about it. Bill Rigney is a popular man, not only with his Giant ball players and coaching staff but with sports writers and photographers who have been on the baseball beat many years.

This is our first tour with the Giant club and we just sat back and listened when Rigney checked into training camp during the weekend.

As he greeted each writer and cameraman by name, including several from New York who dropped into camp to say hello, he did so with a personal touch that had a sincere flavor to it.

Rigney's doctor admonished him to speak softly so as not to disturb his wired jaw, but he purposely raised his voice so all present in a Hotel Adams conference room would be sure to hear him, especially one writer who wears a hearing aid.

"Can you hear me all right," he almost shouted across the room to the writer dependent on mechanical hearing assistance.

"Just fine, Bill, just fine," said the writer.

"That's right. I had to make a deal with the doctor not to disturb his handiwork."

Rigney's jaw, broken in three places when he fell asleep at the wheel of his automobile, will remain wired "until opening day in San Francisco." That's April 14. Even the doctor knows it would be unreasonable to expect Rigney to speak softly once the 1959 pennant chase opens.

COACH SALTY Parker, boss of the Giant training camp during Rigney's hospitalization and recuperation, said:

From all corners of the room came echoing comments of "You can say that again," "Include me in on that," "That goes for all of us, Bill."

Rigney obviously felt the warmth of the greetings. His response was spontaneous and tinged with a bit of emotion. It seemed to be directed not only to his well-wishers but also the Big Boss for sparing his life and that of his wife.

"Im not only glad to be here, I'm mighty thankful too," he said, adding that Mrs. Rigney, injured with him in the accident, "was coming along fine although she will be in the hospital another three weeks or a month."

Getting to the subject of baseball, Rigney said he will be a push-button bleacher manager for the next couple of weeks before seeing if his uniform still fits him. Unquestionably it will because he has been on an osterized food diet.

"MY LITTLE girl told me: 'Daddy, you should eat in your room because you're kind of a messy eater.'"

Unless he skipped lunch on the plane flying from San Francisco to Phoenix, the Giant skippers table manners have improved because there wasn't one spot on his natty red sweater or neatly pressed tan slacks.

Despite his immobile jaw, Rigney's sense of humor still is as sharp as ever. He chuckled as much as he could when he saw the welcome gift Adams Hotel Manager Jack Kane sent to his suite—a huge bowl of old-fashioned candy jaw breakers, pop-corn and several of the hardest and greenest apples he could find.

Lane Tells A. L. To Gang Up On Yankees

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Frank Lane, blunt-spoken general manager of the Cleveland Indians, has made a frank exhortation to the other American League clubs to join him in all out warfare against the New York Yankees.

"We should all have one common objective," declared the fiery Lane. "That is to do everything in our power—on the field, of course—to prevent the Yankees from winning again.

"I feel we can do it," he added, "if we get together and make up our minds to throw only the best pitchers against the Yankees. If we all concentrate on that I'm willing to bet this season will be remembered as the year the Yankees did not win the pennant.

"The trouble with some of the other clubs is that they have draped a cloak of invincibility over the Yankees. We must destroy this illusion. The Yankees are good but they are not an outstanding club by any means. They are benefitting from a certain momentum, a carryover from previous winning clubs."

Lane's latest blast at the Yankees came in the nature of a parting shot. A St. Petersburg, Fla., resident, he left immediately for the Indians' training camp at Tucson, Ariz.

"The Yankees wouldn't have won last year if Bob Turley and Ryne Duren hadn't come through," Lane said. "And Duren was a distinct surprise. They certainly didn't win because of their hitting.

"They don't figure to be any better this year. When a Yankee team goes into spring training with three players 40 years old and over, that's an indication they are hurting."

Lane did not say so outright but he indicated certain clubs last year assumed a defeatist attitude when playing the Yankees.

"Some clubs figured why use their best pitchers and take a chance on losing when Whitey Ford was scheduled to pitch for the Yankees," he said. "A weak club is next so they saved the best for an almost certain victory. We must adopt a gang-up policy on the Yankees this year.

"Don't think this type of opposition didn't prove successful against the Dodgers in 1951. That was the year Brooklyn was riding roughshod over the other National League clubs.

Charlie Dressen, who was manager then, rubbed it in. He infuriated the rest of the league to such an extent that the other clubs went out of their way to beat him.

"That was the year the Giants overcame a 13½-game lead in mid-August and went on to defeat the Dodgers in the playoffs."

U.S. Jumpers May Surprise In Olympics

SQUAW VALLEY (AP) — The U.S. ski jumping team's coach predicted today that Nordic countries, always strong in that graceful sport, would be in for a surprise at the next Winter Olympics.

"Gene Kotlarek is an example of our progress," Lloyd Severud declared yesterday. "I feel our prospects are better than ever before."

The best an American ever has done in Olympic jumping is a fifth place scored in 1948 by Gordon Wren.

Severud, a jumper for 33 of his 43 years, figures Kotlarek has a chance to win the event. The 18-year-old Duluth, Minn. collegian came in second in the North American Championships off Squaw Valley's new and spectacular Olympic hill.

He jumped 85 and 87½ meters (278.8 and 287 feet). The winner, Kalevi Karkinen, a Finn, soared 85 and 88½ meters (278.8 and 290.3 feet).

The next American, Roy Sherwood of Salisbury, Conn., was seventh. But Severud said he didn't think his candidates were jumping to their capabilities.

NATURAL INRUN

Severud, whose home is at Chetek, Wis., said the Americans were not used to the natural inrun, since most of them jump from artificial slides. They felt that they were going faster than they actually were, he said. Jumpers on the 80-meter (262-foot) hill hit speeds up to 56½ miles per hour on takeoff.

"What really pleased me," Severud said, "is the way Kotlarek outformed Karkinen. We've always been low on form, trying for distance instead.

"Now maybe we'll do both."

Along with Kotlarek, he listed as top prospects for next year's team, former Olympians Keith Wegemen of La Canada and Art Tokle of Rockaway, N.Y., ninth and 10th in the North American; Sherwood, and national champion Willie Erickson, Kingsford, Mich., who fell and finished 36th.

Kotlarek used the Finnish "torpedo" style—hands down and dive rather than hands out and spring—and Finnish observers here said he is the first American to master the technique.

Severud said the other Americans are experimenting with other versions of the Finn style.

Williams Eager To Try For 3rd Straight Batting Title

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI) — Ted Williams, as eager and seemingly fit as a man half his age, said today he was "lucky to play at all last season" because of an ankle ailment.

Williams had just line two batting practice drives over the 360-foot right field wall and was in such good humor that he even joked with old sparring mates in the press corps.

"All I want is peace and quiet," kidded Williams. "I hit .388 in 1957 after a good spring training period and I figure a good spring is all I need to make a fine showing this year."

Williams turned just a trifle petulant when a reporter asked him if he might win a third straight batting title this year—a feat no American Leaguer has performed since Ty Cobb.

"I really did it once anyway," He said. "Three years ago I led the league but they wouldn't allow it because I hadn't been to bat enough times."

TED MISTAKES

An examination of the record book disclosed, however, that Williams was mistaken. He thought he was referring to the 1956 season, but actually had confused it with the 1954 campaign. Ted hit .345 in both seasons but in 1954 did not qualify for the title because he went to bat only 386 times. He batted the required 400 times in 1956 but was beaten out of the title by New York Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle's .353 average.

Williams did not lead the league in either 1953 of 1955 so his argument actually was incorrect on all counts.

Four New Members Elected By Belvedere Tennis Club

Four new members were elected to the board of directors of the Belvedere Tennis Club at the first annual membership meeting of the club, recently held at the Belvedere Community Hall. The new directors are Lewis Vogler, Belvedere; Harry Wagner, Strawberry; Michael Khourie, Kentfield, and William Brewer, Sausalito.

In a report to the membership, President Walter Machette of Belvedere revealed that planning is underway for the construction of a building which will provide changing rooms, a common room and simple facilities for food preparation. This structure, which will fulfill the needs of the Belvedere Tennis Club until construction of a permanent clubhouse, will be movable and adaptable for other use in the future.

During a review of the objectives and accomplishments of the club since its establishment a little more than a year ago, Machette pointed out that all plans for the year had been fulfilled exactly as outlined. This included the construction of the first three courts at the anticipated cost. Also, Machette reported that during the first year the club reached a total of 76 members, as against a goal of 75.

An organizational meeting of the new board of directors was held immediately following the annual meeting. Machette was re-elected to a second term as president, and W. D. Cuthbertson, Tiburon, was re-elected to a second term as vice president. Jack Welisch, Belvedere, was re-elected to the post of treasurer and Wagner was elected to the newly created post of assistant treasurer. Vogler was elected sercetary of the organization.

Mariners To Meet All-Star Squad Next Friday Night

Seven players today were named to the Golden Valley Conference All-Star basketball squad that will oppose the champion College of Marin Tars this Friday night at Kent field, it was reported by Marin Athletic Director Harry Pieper.

They are Bob Wright, Tim Burke and Terry Banderas of Sierra College, Al Smith and Joe Brouillard of Shasta, and Harry Broumas and Russ Mayfield of Yuba J.C.

Other teams in the conference also will send their two or three outstanding players to the Marin All-Star game, Pieper said, but he has not yet received the selections.

Proceeds of the game, to start at 8 o'clock, will be used to help defray the Marin team's expenses for the trip to Santa Monica and the state junior college championship in March, Pieper explained.

Bolivian Chief Seeks To Calm Anti-U.S. Mobs

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Seeking to calm enraged mobs which stoned the U.S. Embassy, Bolivian President Hernan Siles said last night American officials have denied a Time magazine story that touched off the anti-American outburst.

The Time article quoted an unidentified U.S. Embassy official as suggesting Bolivia, because of its economic problems, should be abolished as a country and "its neighbors divide the country and its problems."

BURN U.S. FLAG

Siles took to the streets and the radio after the rioting resulted in the fatal shooting of a 15-year-old student. At one point mobs burned the U.S. flag but there were no reports of injuries to Americans.

In a radio appeal, Siles said the U.S. charge d'affaires had told him the Time magazine article did not correspond to statements made by an American diplomatic official.

The quote in question appeared in the current hemisphere edition of Time, which circulates in Latin America, but not in the U.S. edition.

BURN MAGAZINE

Angry mobs burned issues of Time in front of the embassy. A police cordon was thrown around the building and along neighboring streets, but about 200 youths broke through.

Later, stone-throwing mobs broke many of the windows in the embassy. Others stoned the offices of the U.S. Information Service two blocks away and broke into the USIS library, destroying books and magazines.

Macmillan, In Moscow Goodby, Decries Force

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan warned the Russians in farewell today against a resort to force in the Berlin crisis. Premier Nikita Khrushchev, wishing him bon voyage, said, "We are in favor of solving all disputed issues only by peaceful negotiations."

A joint communique, a Macmillan news conference and parting exchanges at Moscow's Vnukovo Airport summed up the positions of Britain and the Soviet Union on world issues as determined in talks over the past 10 days.

Macmillan told a news conference the Berlin situation has "dangerous implications" which must be settled by negotiation and not by force.

"Unilateral action can only lead to danger," Macmillan said. "We must avoid unilateral action and agree to negotiate together."

Earlier, Macmillan and Khrushchev had admitted in a communique summing up their talks that they had been unable to agree on political and legal aspects of a World War II peace treaty with Germany.

But the two government heads said they had had useful talks.

They had agreed, Macmillan and Khrushchev said, that the problems of Germany must be settled, and that early negotiations must get under way.

The communique said the two premiers also agreed on a common objective of ultimate prohibition of nuclear weapons under an international system of inspection and control.

Discoverer's Fate Still In Doubt

INGLEWOOD (AP)—The status of Discoverer I—the rocket the Air Force hoped would achieve polar orbit — was still very much in doubt today.

Official hopes of an orbit were raised yesterday on the basis of radio signals picked up in Alaska. But early today searchers failed in effort to find the missile by bouncing a radio signal off it.

RADIO SIGNAL

At the Standard Oil Co. research center in Cleveland, Ohio, sensitive radio receivers were to pick up any reflected signals, but none was received.

Dr. A. L. Jones of the Cleveland facility said he was reasonably certain his equipment would have picked up a reflected signal if the Discoverer had been where it was supposed to be.

SIGNALS HEARD

An Air Force spokesman said last night that signals picked up by a tracking station in Alaska tended to substantiate previous belief that orbit had been achieved.

The official announcement from the Ballistic Missile Division said the signals, sporadic bursts of from four to six seconds duration, lasted for a period of approximately six minutes.

The 1,300-pound rocket was launched from Vandenberg Air Force Base, 175 miles north of Los Angeles, on Saturday.

U.S. Cautious On New Russ Reply To West

WASHINGTON (AP)—American officials said today the Soviet Union has removed some, but by no means all, of the road blocks to a negotiated settlement of the German crisis.

These officials cautiously welcomed a new Soviet note accepting the West's proposal to hold a foreign ministers conference on the critical issues. But their first intensive examination of the 10-page note, received here yesterday, turned up several fishhooks.

ONE CONCESSION

They saw one concession: Kremlin agreement to a foreign ministers meeting at Geneva or Vienna next month.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev had said in a Moscow speech last Tuesday that a foreign ministers meeting would be a waste of time, so why not get on immediately with a summit conference. Now, the Soviets were agreeing to a foreign ministers meeting, limited to three months.

LINE REPEATED

American officials also saw a repetition of a previous Soviet line—that German reunification was a matter for the East and West Germans, and nobody else, to settle.

Some other demands and pre-conditions in the note would have to be explored in requests to Moscow for clarification.

U. S. consultations with Britain, France and West Germany are scheduled to start at Bonn next Tuesday.

One major cause of relief was Moscow's apparent de-emphasis of May 27 as a critical deadline. This was the date set by Khrushchev for turning East Berlin over to East Germany if no East-West talks were under way by then.

Cubans Protest Acquittal Of 43 'War Criminals'

SANTIAGO, Cuba (AP)—Demonstrators ranged through this provincial capital last night, shouting protests against a military tribunal's acquittal of 45 Cuban airmen charged with mass murder bombings of rebel villages in Oriente province.

The demonstrations abated after the prosecutor, Lt. Antonio Cejas, appealed the verdict and it was announced that a new trial would start before a different tribunal. The airmen were kept in jail.

The court had held the charges had not been proved. The airmen were accused of bombing and strafing civilians as part of former President Fulgencio Batista's campaign against Fidel Castro's rebels.

The defendants claimed they deliberately dropped their bombs in open country to avoid killing civilians.

EASTER PARADE

Crippled Children's Society To Be Focus Honor Group

Twenty-four fashionable outfits each telling a spring success story will be "Sealed in Easter Style" and marked perfect for the Easter parade and after by the R and M Style Shops at next Tuesday's popular Fashion Focus luncheon at Rickey's.

Appropriately "Sealed in Easter Style" will honor the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., whose own spring success story will best be told when donations begin to pour in from the 40,000 Easter seal envelopes which have been mailed to Marin families. The Easter Seal success story began 17 years ago and because of thousands of handicapped children and adults have been given a new lease on life.

Since the story of the Crippled Children's Society is a happy story, next Tuesday's "Fashion Focus" luncheon will be an especially happy one. A group of handicapped citizens in their wheel chairs will enjoy their first fashion show luncheon as the guest of John Rickey and will enthusiastically applaud the attractive models who will represent the Society and its affiliates, the Recreation Unit, the Hobby Unit and the Friends of Arequipa

The "Fashion Focus" guests next Tuesday will not only have a chance to do their Easter looking without budging from a coffee cup, but they can brighten up their lapel with a charming bouquet of Easter lilies made by the Friends of Arequipa.

Escorting the models in their accessorized outfits by R and M will be theme boy of the Easter Seal campaign, Tim Cain, and last year's theme girl Pamela Schmidt, who no longer needs her crutches but runs and plays like every other young girl her age.

The fashion success story for spring is a deft individual touch to make every woman happy in the Easter parade regardless of age or figure. Since fashions don't come in "one" look this spring, and fashion show guests don't come in "one" size, it is this individuality that R and M will emphasize. Suits, dresses, costume outfits, spring hats, jewelry and handsome bags will all point up one important fact! it's a season to have an unlimited choice in finding an Easter outfit that is "Sealed in Easter Style," and right for the misses, junior, mature or half-size figure.

Hair styles to blossom under R and M spring hats will be created by Tone's House of Beauty in Corte Madera, with Beauty Counselors adding the proper blend of coordinated make-up.

The popular luncheon series is open to the public. Reservations may be made by calling Rickey's Rancho Rafael. Luncheon is at 12:30 and the fashions at 1 o'clock.

Alpha Delta Pi Sets Benefit Bridge Party

April 14 has been set as the date of the Alpha Delta Pi benefit telephone-bridge party. Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults wil be the recipient of certain equipment bought with proceeds from the affair.

It is planned to hold dessert-bridges at five home simultaneously throughout the county. There will be an award for top score at each home, and a grand award—as befitting the name of the benefit—a colored telephone, for the top score as telephoned into chairman Mrs. Glen Widdows by each hostess.

The following Marin Alumnae have opened their homes for this function: Mrs. Robert Armington of San Rafael, Mrs. Martin Seaver of Mill Valley and Mrs. George Fay on Ricardo road, Strawberry. The new Greenbrae home of Mrs. William Hagler will host another group. Also, inviting those from north Marin to her home is Mrs. Dorothy Waterman of Terra Linda. Reservations are being handled by Mrs. Widdows and the above hostesses.

These final plans were discussed at the ADPi February meeting held recently at the Marin County Crippled Children's and Adult's Center at Fairfax. Those alumnae attending to help with work on the Easter Seal Drive were the Mesdames Robert Armington, Bradford Muse, John Rossi,Jr., Marjorie Hedden and James Ricksecker of San Rafael; Alton Fountain of Novato; Mesdames William Bentinck, Jack Van Wart and Donald Guild, Larkspur; William Hagler, Greenbrae. From Southern Marin, Mesdames George Fay, Robert Lashly and Martin Seaver. Also attending were Mesdames Don McCaw, Louis Demartini and Robert Zasso, all of San Anselmo. The latter is a recent addition to the Marin organization, having moved to the County from San Fracisco. Mrs. Frederick Coholan of Fairfax, another ex-San Franciscan who recently joined the Marin ADPi's, was also present to assist.

During the business meeting Mrs. Armington, president, explained the qualifications for National Alpha Delta Pi Outstanding Alumna Award. Mrs. Lillian Seaver was unanimously chosen to represent the Marin group. For the past two and one-half years Mrs. Seaver has been interested in the activities of the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults and is presently a member of the Board of Trustees. She has been a member and officer of the Marin Alpha Delta Pi Alumnae organization for eight years, and is one of its charter members. Lillian also has assisted many other county organizations in their fund-raising campaigns. Recently, she became a candidate for master's degree in English at Dominican College, having received her bachelor degree in Journalism from the University of California at Berkeley. While there she was a member of the sorority's Psi chapter. Among Mrs. Seaver's other accomplishments are her former news reporting stints with the San Francisco Chronicle, the Honolulu Star Bulletin and Mexico City Herald. Several years were spent in Tokyo with her husband where she was a historian for the U.S. Department of the Army. Before returning to her native Marin she continued traveling around the world. Lillian resides in Mill Valley with her husband, Martin, an attorney, and eight-year old daughter, Kevin.

Charm 'N Farmers To Sponsor Class

The Charm 'N Farmers Square Dance Club is sponsoring an adult beginners class starting Thursday March 19 at E Street School, 8 to 10 p.m. Larry Twist is the instructor and everyone is welcome.

Plans are under way for the April 4 party night. Music will be furnished by the Westernaires and Larry Twist will be the caller. Mrs. Milt Adams is chairman.

Several couples from the Fiddle Footers visited Tuesday night workshop to claim their guest book, which was taken to encourage visits from neighboring clubs.

A reminder is given that March 10 is the last night the Charm 'N Farmers will meet at Santa Venetia School. Tuesday dances will be held at Davidson School after that date.

Triple C Plans Lunch Tomorrow

"Drama and the Church—the Three Marys" will be presented as the program for tomorrow's luncheon meeting of the Community Church Club, according to Mrs. H. W. Symmes, program chairman.

Following the 12:30 p.m. luncheon this medieval mystery play will be enacted by a cast of members under the direction of Mrs. William B. Allen.

For the reading section program on March 18, at 2:30 p.m., Mrs. Norman Freman will review "A Single Pebble" by John Hersey and "The U.S. and China" by John Fairbank.

Tea will be served following the program.

Child care will be provided for both meetings.

Israel Topic For Hadassah

The regular meeting of Marin Hadassah has been cancelled so that members can attend the tea being given by Santa Rosa Chapter on Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Alexander Dushkin will be the honor guest and speaker. Mrs. Dushkin, who was national vice president of Hadassah, has lived in Israel since 1949 and is a member of the government's committee on agricultural education and also represents Israel on the nutrition committee of the Home Economics College. Mrs. Dushkin will tell of what has been accomplished in Israel and outline plans for its future.

Members of the Petaluma and Vallejo chapters have also been invited to the tea. Mrs. Philander Beadle is making arrangements for transportation of the Marin members and forming car pools. Reservations should be made with her.

Reading Arts Section

The Reading Arts Section of the American Association of University Women will meet Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. R. DePue, 115 Vista Grande, Greenbrae. Mrs. R. I. Christensen will lead the group in a discussion of "Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys," by Max Shulman and "The Organization Man" by William H. Whyte, Jr. Co-hostess for the evening will be Mrs. John Schmitz.

NO OTHER CLOTHES DRYER CAN DRY SO FAST...SO QUIETLY...SO GENTLY AS

Hamilton

with exclusive

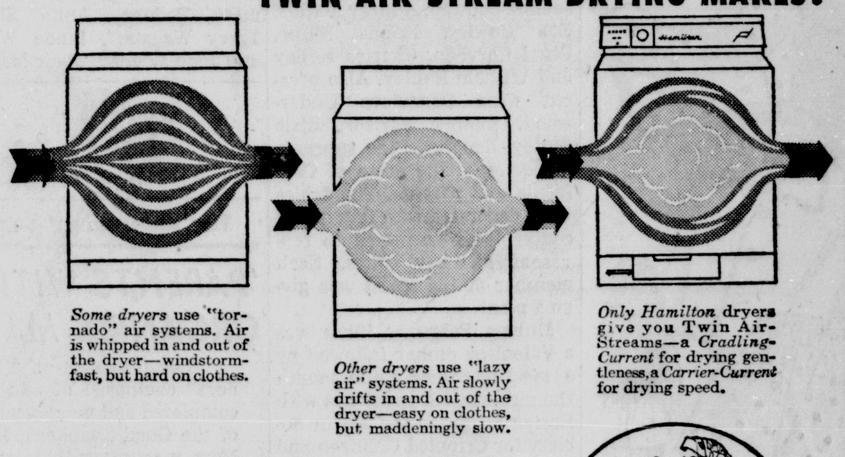

TWIN AIR-STREAMS

Twin Air-Stream drying is the big difference in clothes dryers today! All dryers use a stream of air—which should be soft enough for drying gentleness, fast enough for drying speed. Other dryers try to do these two different jobs with just one air-stream—which can't be right for both.

Only Hamilton clothes dryers give you Twin Air-Stream drying. Two separate air-streams—a feather-soft Cradling-Current for drying gentleness, a business-like Carrier-Current for drying speed.

SEE WHAT A WONDERFUL DIFFERENCE TWIN AIR-STREAM DRYING MAKES!

Some dryers use "tornado" air systems. Air is whipped in and out of the dryer—windstorm-fast, but hard on clothes.

Other dryers use "lazy air" systems. Air slowly drifts in and out of the dryer—easy on clothes, but maddeningly slow.

Functions At College Marin To Be Tea-Style Show Theme

"Functions at College of Marin" is the theme chosen by the Associated Women Students for this year's annual Tea and Fashion Show tomorrow at the College. Spring styles, for both the college man and coed, will be as varied as the activities of the busy collegians.

They will include fashions for the beach, for the campus and classroom, for sports events and for the prom. The clothes will be from Modern Eve and Swartz Brothers Store for Men in San Rafael.

The 1959 theme also will be carried out in the decorations which will feature posters depicting campus activities.

The tea will be held in the art-lecture room of the art building from 2 to 4 p.m. followed by the fashion show from 4 to 5 p.m. in Olney hall.

Guests of honor will be the seniors girls of Marin's high schools. Invitations also have been extended to the following high school deans.

Misses Gwendolyn Gibson, Tomales; Florence Abraham, San Rafael; Alice Dolan, Tamalpais; and Mesdames Ruth Mayo, Novato; Emma Jean Walzen, Redwood; Harriett Crabb, Drake; and Sister Superior Carletta Marie, Marin Catholic.

High school counselors invited to the tea and fashion show are Misses Eunice Reader, director of counselors of the Tamalpais Union High School District; Frances Parks, Bobbie Powell, Elizabeth Harper, Drake; Mary MacDermott, Louise Abbott, Lillian Roth, Tamalpais; and Mrs. John B. Jennings Jr., head mistress of Katherine Branson School. Barbara Traeger is head of the invitation committee.

COLUMNIST DR. BARBOUR WILL SPEAK IN MARIN MARCH 13

Dr. Richmond Barbour, widely read columnist, will speak on "Male versus Female" in the Sir Francis Drake High School gymnasium Friday night, March 13, starting at 8 o'clock. The guidance counsellor's concise answers to reader's questions appear regularly in his column in the Independent-Journal.

Parent-teacher organizations of eight elementary schools are sponsoring the lecture, according to Mrs. W. L. Tierney of Brookside School, chairman of the event. There are Central, Manor and Deer Park of Fairfax; Wade Thomas, Yolansdale, Isabel Cook and Brookside of San Anselmo, and Greenbrae.

"This is not a sex talk," Dr. Barbour said in letter to Mrs. Tierney. "It is a discussion of boys' problems and girls' problems and what we can do about them."

Baby Is Honored By Ruth Circle Of Novato Church

The recent meeting of the Ruth Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Novato Community Church was combined with a surprise baby shower for John Henry Harmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Harmon.

The women met at the Church and proceeded to the Harmon home on Plaza Hermosa. After gifts were presented, a short business meeting was followed by games.

Tamalpais Druids Hold Dinner, Sale

Recent activties of the Mill Valley Tamalpais Circle of Druids No. 183 included a pot-luck dinner for members and their friends at the Odd Fellows Hall in Mill Valley and a bake sale on Friday and Saturday at the Purity Store.

Card games followed the pot-luck dinner.

Coleman School P-TA Style Show Planned March 12

A very pleasant evening is in store for families and friends of Coleman School when they view hand fashioned apparel modeled by those who knit or sew, on March 12 at 7:30 p.m. at the cafeteria of San Rafael High School.

There will be a business meeting and installation of officers for the next year at 7 o'clock.

Unique decor is being arranged and made by Mrs. Richard V. Bettini. Assisting her are Mesdames Robert Hauge, James Marr, Francis Burns, Hugo Rinaldi, Chester Sipkin. Mrs. Alfred Thomson is handling publicity and music.

Mrs. George Melansen will arrange for the dessert, assisted by Mesdames Irving Blabon and Robert Nelson. Those desiring to make reservations may call Mrs. Richard Albert. Proceeds will be used for equipment for the school.

Larkspur Girl Has Seventh Birthday Fete

Waving his magic wand, "Zoran" captivated the guests at the party given for Peggy Johnson to celebrate her seventh birthday by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnson of Larkspur. The youngsters were facinated by the performance and were greatly excited when "Zoran" took a white rabbit out of what had seemed to be an empty box and they were allowed to pet the little animal.

Youngsters celebrating with Peggy were her sisters, Dolores and Linda Johnson, and Lynne Volk, Debbie Morris, Nancy Bowman, Teri Harder, Marlyn Keppel, Vera Casci, Renee Mistron, Debbie Kinney, Judy Orchard and Gary Kasprzak all of Larkspur; Ronnie, Rusty, Judy and Carol Cagle of Healdsburg.

Assisting with serving refreshments and in the games were Peggy's grandmother, Mrs. Josie L. Cox and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cagle, all of Healdsburg.

Tamalpais Group Of Rainbow Girls Holds Initiation

Tamalpais Assembly No. 191, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, held an initiation recently with Sandra Frier, worthy advisor, presiding. Four candidates were initiated. They were Valerie Bramson, Gail Reynolds, Mariane Gustofson and Hilary Winkler.

After initiation there was a party celebrating the Assembly's first birthday and the members of the board were honored. The members are Wesley Smith, chairman, Jeanne Schwab, Audrey Mathis, Eva Cowles, Frieda Ehrer, Pearl Corvello, Charles Kelley and William Hanley. Also present were Genevieve Underwood, mother advisor, Elsie Bundy, deputy to the supreme inspector of the State of California and parents. The tables were decorated with favors and centerpieces fashioned to represent birthday cakes. Each member of the board was given a plant.

During February there was a Valentine dinner followed by a meeting. During the month the girls stuffed envelopes with Easter Seals for the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults as a service project.

One hundred and fifty boxes of candy were sold by the girls and the proceeds will be used to benefit the Assembly.

There will only be one meeting this month, on March 10, when Fathers will be honored.

The Grand Assembly of the State of California will be held in Fresno during Easter week and several girls from the Assembly will attend.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. C. Anderson, the program was planned so that all the girls were able to participate, as well as be entertained by the other acts. Mrs. G. L. Daum, neighborhood chairman, announced the program. Miss Lois Little, field director of the Marin County Girl Scout Council, was a special guest.

Girl Scouts of Troop 135 conducted the Color Ceremony for the younger girls, presenting the American, World Association, Girl Scout and Brownie flags. Under the direction of leader Mrs. Standish Green, the color guard was comprised of Bonnie Whitman. Penny Ingraham, Barbara Green and Laurie Schwartz, with Brownies Diane Short and Karen Lonsford assisting. Warren Talley was the caller.

Troop 202 made a "birthday cake" of cardboard, decorated with pink crepe paper roses. The contributions for the World Friendship Fund were dropped into the cake by each troop on their way to the stage.

Corte Madera Troop 125 opened the program wearing Brazilian costumes and sang the Brownie "Hello" song in Portuguese. Wearing "Carmen Miranda" type hats were Denise Burt, Anne Carroll, Helen Collier, Eva Cunha, Elizabeth De Mello, Linda Henderson, Mary Kearney, Linda Durham, Rosemary Pedone, Anita Short, Terry Wagstaff, Linda Walsh and Jean Wieder. Their leaders are Mrs. Albert De Mello and Mrs. Phil Kearney.

CORTE MADERA

Choosing Austria as their country, the members of Corte Madera Troop 5 wore long dresse and danced a Viennese waltz. Under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Vogel and Mrs. A. G. Mee, the dancers were Ruth Brinton, Charlene Cummings, Shirley Janke, Barbara Johnson, Sharon Lang, Cliva L. Mee, Linda Moore, Shelly Morgan, Carol Murata, Janine Nilsen, Lynn O'Neil, Mary Pendleton, Ayn Perry, Karen Vogel, Suzanne Vogel and Lynda Yager.

The South Acerican countries were represented by Corte Madera Troop 199, whose members formed a Conga Line and also sang "La Cucuracha." The girls who danced and sang were Charlotte Carlson, Kathleen Hodges, Lorna Keane, Christine Larsen, Lauren Massoletti and Nancy Pridmore, with Mrs. J. C. Larsen and Mrs. Jack Pridmore, leaders.

White Dutch caps topped the curls of the Brownies of Larkspur Troop 98 as they sang the Dutch song, "In Our Little Wooden Shoes," while Jackie De Gregory demonstrated the "clip-clop" of her wooden shoes. The Dutch girls: Nusi Dekker, Dawn Eager, Cynthia Easter, Marie Fogarty, Dolores Johnson, Linda Lannert, Joanne May, Mary Louise McCarty, Virginia Nelson, Peggy Schnell, and Vicki Sudlow, and their leaders are Mrs. Joseph Johnson and Mrs. William Schnell, with Mrs. G. M. May at the piano.

American Brownies Carol Benson and Karen Lonsford of Corte Madera Troop 169 taught the "Virginia Reel" to representatives of other countries: Louise Burke, Denmark; Gail Campbell, Hawaii; Tamara Holmon, Japan; Sheila James, China; Penny Long, Spain; Sharon Melendy, Ireland; Kathy Peterson and Lyn Scholz, Denmark; and Pamela Silkworth, Austria. Mrs. Carl Benson and Mrs. Robert Scholz are leaders.

LARKSPUR TROOP

With a flutter of fans and wearing colorful Japanese kimonas, Carol Ann Finston, Cristine Gondak, Judy Land, Mary Ann Monroe, Coleen Nightingale, Lynn Sloan, Christine Smith and Karen Smoot, members of Larksur Troop 202, entertained the audience with a Japanese song and dance entitled "Spring Is Here." Their leaders are Mrs. J. R. Smoot and Mrs. C. R. Gondak, with Mrs. George Murata directing the dance.

Introduced by Austrian "boy" Claudia King, the members of Corte Madera Troop 57 chose an international theme for their offering. Singing the "Children's Marching Song" were Christine Anderson, Mary Louise Elliott, Linda Long, Kathy Mahood, Beth Penny, Janice Rippe, Mary Ann Schultz, and Diane Short. Their leaders are Mrs. A. A. Schulz and Mrs. Howard Kling.

BETROTHAL CEREMONY AT CHURCH

An impressive Old World religious custom was revised when a betrothal ceremony was conducted at St. Emydius Church in San Francisco for Kathleen Slevin and Ashton Hutchins Jr. The Rev. Nicholas Farana of Salinas officited at the ceremony and blessed the engagement ring.

A cocktail party at the home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Slevin of San Francisco, followed the ceremony. It was also a celebration of Mr. Slevin's birthday. The young couple will be married at a nuptial mass at St. Emydius Church in August and will reside in Marin.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Star of the Sea High School in San Francisco is now studying for a teaching credential at Dominican College and will be graduated in May. She is the sister of Phyllis Slevin of San Francisco and George Slevin Jr. of San Anselmo.

The future benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hutchins of Santa Venetia, was gradated from Sacred Heart High School in San Francisco, and attended St. Mary's College and College of Marin. He is now a stereotyper at the Independent - Journal. His younger brother is David Hutchins.

St. Cecelia's Guild Plans Communion

In keeping with the Lenten season there will be corporate communion for women preceding tonight's meeting of St. Cecelia's Guild of the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Saviour.

Afterward members will go to Hammond Hall, where the Rev. D. Murray Hammond will explain the meaning of communion. Refreshments will be served.

The communion service will be held at 8 p.m.

Junior League Meets

Tomorrow morning at 10:30, Marin Unit, Junior League of San Francisco Inc., will meet at the Kentfield home of Mrs. Frank Barsocchini. The agenda will include election of officers. The musical program will be provided by Barry Mineah of Mill Valley.

'PARENTS WITHOUT PARTNERS' ORGANIZE MARIN-S.F. CHAPTER

The formation of a chapter of "Parents Without Partners" composed of San Francisco and Marin residents is completed and meetings are being held regularly in the Hall of the Good Shepherd, 1290 Potrero street, San Francisco. Next meeting will be on Thursday night commencing at 7:30.

The group is composed of mothers and fathers who have no spouses. Purpose is to bring them together so they may find congenial activities for themselves and their children. Mrs. Mickey Stevens of Fairfax, founder of the group, says: "Single parents in a group can feel the stimulus of being able to accomplish what they could not do as individuals."

The Institute of Social and Personal Relations of Oakland assisted in the organization. An East Bay chapter has also been formed and its meetings are the second and fourth Thursday nights. The San Francisco-Marin groups meet on the first and third Thursdays. With this schedule members of each chapter can attend meetings of the other.

Monte Carlo Party Set By Alpha Phis

"A Night in Monte Carlo" is being planned by Alpha Phi Alumnae as a fund raising event for for the benefit of the heart fund, a philanthropy sponsored nationally by the sorority.

All alumnae are invited to meet at the home of Mrs. A. Philip Cramp, 62 Arguello Circle, Villa Real, San Rafael, on Tuesday, March 10 at 10 a.m. to discuss plans for the party.

Mrs. Edward G. French of San Rafael is general chairman for this event, which will be held at Bob's of Marin at 7 p.m. on Saturday, April 4. A cocktail hour will precede dinner, and afterward there will be a program with awards going to the lucky winners.

On Wednesday, March 4, at 10 a.m., Alpha Phis will assemble streptococcus kits at the Marin County Health Department Fourth and Grand avenue, San Rafael. These kits are used by Marin County doctors in making tests to determine whether or not streptococci are present in an infected throat. The work is done once each month by Alphi Phi volunteers.

Spinning Spurs Party

The Spinning Spurs are hosting a mid-term party for their beginners class tomorrow night at Santa Venetia School from 8 o'clock until 10:30. Mr. and Mrs. Don Myers, who are in charge of refreshments, are being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Young and other members. The beginners class will meet as usual tonight.

Sack Dress Is The Rage In Australia

By DOROTHY ROE

The sack dress may be dead in America, but it's all the rage right now in Australia.

Authority for this bit of incidental information is Herbert Bijur, American Pattern Co. executive, who has just returned from a tour of the land down under, accompanied by three of New York's most glamous models, a photographer and an assortment of home sewing experts. Says he:

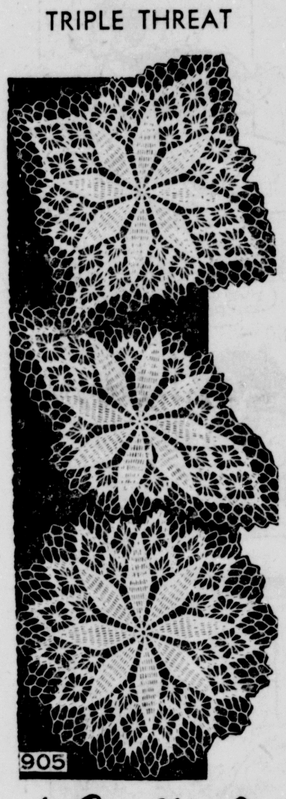

"Australia is about eight months behind the United States in fashion, so the chemise is at its peak there right now. Everybody's wearing it—all the women, that is—and somehow it looks right on them."

Australians look to America, rather than to Paris, for fashion trends, says Bijur, and most of them make their own clothes. Out of a population of 10 million, 7 million homesewing patterns were sold there last year. This, he says, is because readymade clothes are not available there in either the quality or the quantity common to America.

Australians were eager to meet the three models who went along on the tour, says Bijur, but were disappointed when the glamor girls showed up wearing voluminous muumuus bought in Hawaii and no makeup.

"They said they wanted to rest their faces," says Bijur ruefully. "I guess you can understand that, but it was a blow to the Ausies, who were all set to be bowled over by New York's beautiful cover girls.

MARIE MARTEL

But there's also plenty of cash, even if less glamor, in clicking the camera on the Suzy Parkers and Ann St. Maries. And, the photographer has another advantage; the public doesn't tire of the face behind the lens.

Miss Martell said fees for one of those full-page pictures featuring a leggy female in the newest bathing suit, will run from $750 on up. Some few shots cost as much as $10,000.

Cost also is determined by whether a picture will appear editorially and confined to one publication, or includes some product—say a new car— and is for an advertisement to be used in several publications. These latter shots are the costliest.

Miss Martel figures that in a busy but uncomplicated day at her studio she can do a picture an hour. But sometimes, she will spend a whole day for just one color shot, and still find re-takes are necessary. Often, she is "on location"—loading camera equipment, clothes, models and assorted aides on a plane to other parts of the world for background.

For those girls who aspire to model, the pay is excellent if you're as good as Miss Parker or Miss St. Marie. The camera-women said that a photogenic face and figure are worth $50 to $60 an hour. But it isn't always gravy. "The public soon wearies of a face," she said. "And the years take a toll. The camera is ruthless . . . it catches every line."

Miss Martel, born in Paris of Venezuelan parentage, has been wed for 20-odd years to Marshall S. Mundheim, a New York investment banker. They have two children in college.

Prosperous Californians Pay Highest Taxes In Nation

First, Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget for the state is the highest budget ever proposed in any state in the Union at any time. Although we have about a million fewer people than New York State, our record budget of $2,188,000,000 for 1959-60 is millions above New York's for the same period.

At the same time, statistics released by the federal Census Bureau in Washington tab California as the taxingest state in the Union. Local and state taxes here total $238 for each man, woman and child in the state. That compares with only $229 for New York; other states lag way behind.

These figures apparently jolted Governor Brown. He had his statisticians go to work and figure out that although California may have the highest per capita, it ranks only 27th per $1,000 of personal income. California's income is so high, that the percentage its residents have to pay in taxes is well down the list proportionately, he pointed out.

This is a peculiar line of reasoning. It suggests a state government should be operated not to provide the services the people demand, but to use up a particular proportion of the taxpayers' income. This theory we can not accept.

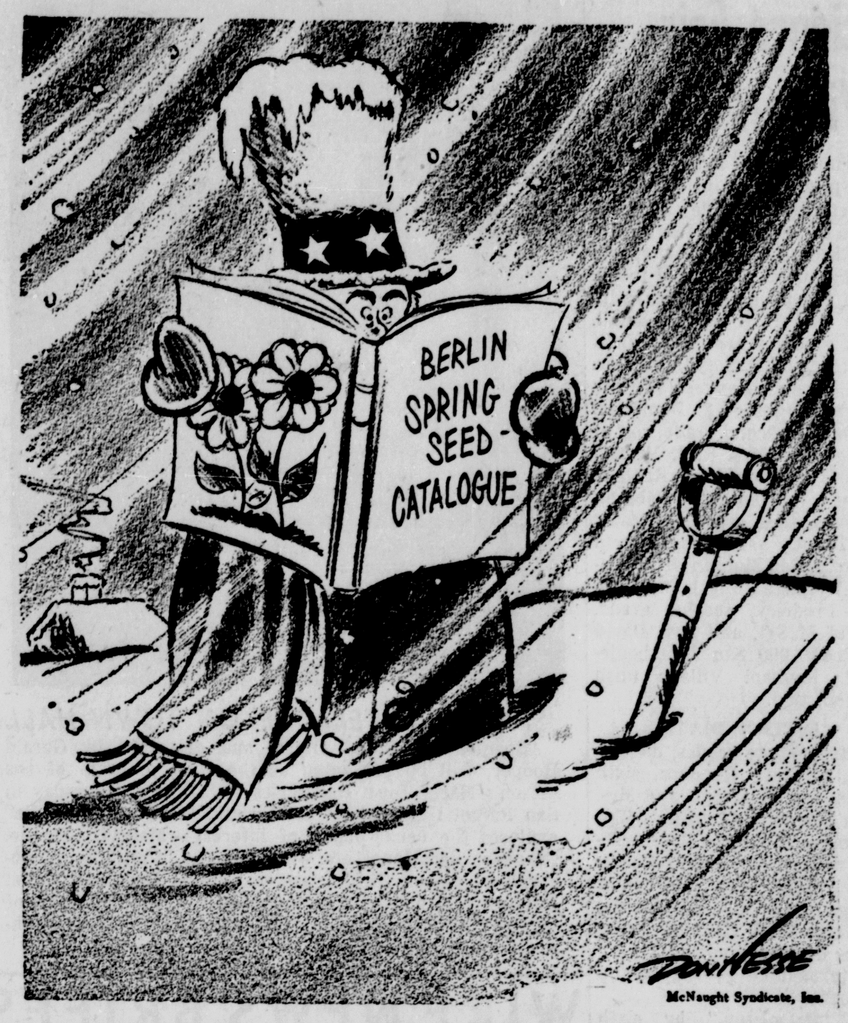

It seems to us that the higher the personal income, the less government should cost. Welfare, for example, takes a big chunk out of local tax dollars. When the average income is high, welfare payments should be low. The same for unemployment benefits. Crime should be less, so enforcement should be less expensive. There are many other places where prosperous Californians should need fewer handouts than more needy residents of other states.

It seems to us that Governor Brown's statistics only go to emphasize the fact that California, one of the most prosperous states in the Union, charges its residents the highest per capita taxes in the U.S.A.

And worse than that, although he has cracked down on minor frivolities in his departments, the governor is asking for 256 million dollars more to meet his record spending plans. There is not a single major cutback or elimination of a single state service or department suggested to help balance the budget.

You've heard the man, he wants more taxes.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

ONE WAY TO WORK FOR PEACE

For four years this resolute individual, Alfred E. Roach, has appeared for a daily10-minute vigil, just before 10 a.m., across from 10 Downing street.

The police who guard the residence have been tolerant and friendly towards Roach. Said one of them, "He's become a fixture here. He never bothers us and we never bother him. Who knows? He might be doing some good."

Few people manifest their devotion to peace in such a public way. But no matter when, where or how you may choose to pray and work, the important thing is to do something positive and constructive towards harmony among all people.

Whatever you do, be assured that your slightest efforts will count. Christ Himself, Who came from heaven to bring "peace on earth to men of good will," will bless and strengthen you.

"Blessed are the peace-makers: for they shall be called the children of God."
(Matthew 5:9)

Allow me to be Your instrument, O Lord, in bringing divine peace to all men.

Man, Blessed With Prosperity, Still Keeps Himself Miserable

Man has one talent that separates him from the other animals — the art of making himself miserable.

He is the only animal that will turn his back on joy and make himself deliberately unhappy.

He is the only animal that invents his own troubles, manufactures unnecessary woes, and makes an industry out of feeling sorry for himself.

He is the only animal for whom too much is never enough.

Times erodes man less than he frets himself away.

Certainly prosperity, more than conscience, makes cowards of us all today. No nation in history has known a greater, deeper, more widespread prosperity than the American nation has now.

But prosperity has made us petulant rather than content, uneasy rather than confident. Instead of confirming us in our strength, it has tended to make us more fearful of another's power. We doubt ourselves in ways we shouldn't.

The curse of prosperity isn't that we can't take it with us when we go. It is that prosperity doesn't seem to make us happy here, while we have it.

AS A PEOPLE WE FEEL a bit betrayed and cheated because of an amazing discovery: "Money isn't everything." We always said aloud we knew this, but in our hearts we secretly felt that if we just had enough money we would have just about everything we needed.

We can pull a handle and see an icebox full of more food than we can eat. We can push a button and change the indoor climate from cold to warm. We can turn a knob and hear the world's finest (and worst!) music, and watch the world's highest paid entertainers.

But it is not enough. Something is missing.

WHAT DO WE MISS? What is the meaning we have lost? How can we regain it? We set out to build a paradise and instead fashioned a prison, bar by bar.

How can we get out?

Perhaps it would help if we all went out, one by one, into a hillside orchard, sat for a whole day under an apple tree in bloom, and thought the problem of life all through again.

Parents Neglect Duty To Children

Independent-Journal:

After thinking about the juvenile delinquency problem of Marin, one thought came to mind. Some parents are obviously neglecting their duties to their children.

The main duty of parents is to see that their children are brought up to be good American citizens. In Marin County, juvenile delinquency is so intense that it is quite evident that many parents do not teach their children to be good and decent. Juvenile delinquency is so bad in Marin that it has made the headlines several times.

In conclusion, I think parents should take a good look in the mirror and see if they have neglected to teach their children properly. If so, there's no crime in starting now.

Sausalito Sandspit Should Be Park

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your excellent editorial last Thursday on the need to bring into public ownership the McNear's Beach property and the Paradise Cove park area leads me to suggest a third site — the Sausalito sandspit.

The sandspit is owned by the city but is under lease to a private firm for 29 years. To date the public has been permitted to use the property freely. However, this evening the City Council will be asked to allow a restaurant and parking lot to be built—which would be the end of public use and enjoyment of the finest park location in the City.

In my opinion the way to correct the situation is to purchase the lease. Unfortunately, the impression has been created that the lease is so valuable the city does not have the means to buy it. This impression is based on inadequate information. For example, according to county records, the firm itself in July of 1958 considered the true value of the lease to be less than 37 per cent of the figure commonly quoted.

I believe it is possible to buy the lease without a bond issue and with no financial strain. Through good management, Sausalito is in an enviable position. It has no bonded indebtedness. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1958, the city not only met all operating expenses out of normal income, but was able to spend $116,164.57 on real estate and capital improvements. Even after paying such a large sum for these worthwhile purposes, the city still had $100,793.29 in cash on hand July 1, 1958.

In view of these facts, I think it is realistic to say the people of Sausalito can afford to establish a park on the sandspit.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I would like to comment on the letter written by Fritzie W. Watland in the Independent-Journal.

I think her comments about the strange attitude in Marin is interesting. It is interesting to know that there is less suspicion in the East or Middle West. I wonder why there is so much suspicion in Marin?

I am very interested in the problems of mental health. At one time, I was in the Mental Health Society. There is certainly a lack of understanding of the mentally ill. The problem seemed to be that the sick can't help the sick!

My experiences with the Mental Health Society were something I would hate to see any other person have to experience. My experiences with supposedly qualified persons have shown me that mental health is a spiritual problem.

I met a lot of individuals who were seeking spiritual guidance in the Mental Health Society. They were looking for answers in every conceivable direction.

Many of the doctors were treating patients with methods that are merely theories. The most outstanding individuals and leaders in the mental health field were leveling the individual to a material level.

I think that materialism is unhealthy. The next step is being taken over — having our minds taken over by creeping Communism.

If the people working for change are materialists, the general public has the right to be alarmed. When people sense that their rights are being invaded they become emotional about it. That is only human.

I for one am glad that enough individuals in this county sense creeping Communism and are afraid of it. I think this shows that the people in Marin are aware of what is taking place more than in other parts of the United States. It is better to retire than to make mistakes. While not taking an active part one has a chance to study and think rather than to waste time in the wrong direction.

A church, individual, society or group of people lacking in spiritual guidance might be encouraging Communism and not even be aware of it.

If You Don't Get Your Tax Bill You Have To Pay On Time Anyway

What happens if you fail to pay your county taxes on time because the tax collector neglects to send you a bill?

You pay the piper, that's what—in the form of a 6 per cent penalty!

This was brought home hard last week to a Marin taxpayer named Walter Louis.

Louis' property tax bill was not mailed to him because, he said, the tax collector's office claimed it did not have his address. The deadline for payment of the first installment came and went, and he found to his dismay he was being socked the delinquency penalty prescribed by law.

THE TAX BILL, it appeared, had been sent to the previous owner of the property. Louis protested to the assessor and other county officials that, as new owner, he should receive the bills.

His plight was called to the attention of the board of supervisors, which asked County Counsel Leland H. Jordan for a ruling.

Jordan ascknowledged that Louis' position "presents a very equitable case for the cancellation of penalties." Then Jordan related the cold, hard facts which bar such action.

"Unfortunately . . . the revenue and taxation laws, as they relate to local property taxes, are rather harsh under certain circumstances," Jordan said, "and frequently require the payment of taxes or penalties in situations which appear to be quite inequitable."

HE DESCRIBED Louis' plight as "just such a situation."

The state Revenue and Taxation Code, said the county counsel, provides that "a mistake in the name of the owner or supposed owner of real estate does not render invalid an assessment."

In view of this code section, Jordan said, the assessment of Louis' property was valid.

"Furthermore," he added, "the law does not require the mailing of tax bills by the county tax collector. The mailing of such tax bills is purely a matter of courtesy on the part of the county.

"The validity of the assessment and the requirement that taxes be paid before the delinquency date is not affected by failure to mail tax bills or by failure of the taxpayer to receive such a bill.

"ALTHOUGH VIRTUALLY every taxpayer relies upon the receipt of a county tax bill to advise him of taxes due, it is nevertheless the law of this state that the burden rests upon the taxpayer to ascertain the taxes due on property owned by him.

"If he fails to determine what these taxes are and to pay them prior to the delinquency date, the tax collector has no alternative but to apply the penalty to the unpaid tax and to insist upon payment thereof."

AT THE TAG END of a press release received by the I-J last week from the Novato Methodist Men's Club was this interesting paragraph:

"All Methodist men and their friends are cordially invited to the meetings. In connection with this invitation, attention is drawn to the inviolable club rule that all ladies found on the (church) premises during meeting hours will not be permitted to leave until the dishes have been done."

Khrushchev Says Reason For Differences Lies In Social Systems

You well know how hard it is, in any American sports contest, to tell the players without a scorecard.

It's the same with the cold war. You can't tell what the Soviet players are saying without a special three-way dictionary: Russian-into-English-into-meaning.

And the trouble deepens when the Soviets decide to muddy the field, as in Moscow when, after an apparently candid exchange of views with Harold Macmillan, Premier Khrushchev waits until Macmillan is on an isolated trip 70 miles out of Moscow to drop a whole series of "nyets" which he had kept back from the British Prime Minister.

BUT THERE IS another Khrushchev statement which needs a careful compass. It is this bland remark in the middle of what was described as a "warm and friendly" speech at the British Embassy in Moscow:

"We understand that the reason for our differences lies in our social systems."

What does a statement like that mean? And is it true?

First, we have to look at what the "differences" between us are and at what Soviet actions created the tensions we would like to reduce.

THERE WOULD BE no cold war today if the Kremlin had not absorbed by force the independent nations of Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia, imposed Moscow-dominated regimes throughout Eastern Europe while violating the Yalta agreements to hold free elections, tried to drag Greece behind the iron curtain, kept Germany divided, and abetted the aggression against South Korea.

Is Khrushchev saying that these actions were inevitable with a Communist government and that the Soviet Union just had to do these things because of its social system?

There would be no cold war today if the free world did not have so much evidence that the Soviet Union is determined to hold by force what it has acquired by force — Hungary is a grim example — and that the Kremlin acts to spread Communism by every device it believes can be made to work.

Is Khrushchev saying that the use of force and subversion is an essential part of the Communist "social system?"

I WOULD THINK that most Western-minded people would believe that the compulsion to try to dominate other peoples and other nations by force does not have to be an automatic part of the Soviet-Communist "social system." When he has been addressing exclusively a Western audience, as in his CBS-TV show a couple of years ago, Premier Khrushchev actually said that as between Communism and Western Democracy: "Let the people decide."

But the fact is that the Soviets have never been willing to let the people decide — neither in Russia nor in Hungary nor in East Germany nor anywhere else.

THERE WOULD BE no cold war today if Khrushchev really believed in "letting the people" decide what kind of government or "social system" they wanted.

But Nikita Khrushchev knows more about Communism than any non-Communist Westerner. We better take it that he is right when he says that Soviet foreign policy is an extension of the Communist social system.

Khrushchev is a dedicated Leninist and it was Lenin who said that the whole world must choose between Communism and Democracy, that it will be "one or the other, there is no middle course."

How do you control your teen-ager? Do you still try to whip him or scare him into being good? You'll get into real trouble that way. Other controls are better. Here are suggestions for parents of teen-agers.

Do your criticizing in private, not in public. When other people are around, your youngster will have to save face. He'll fight back and you will lose your point. Wait until the two of you are alone. He'll be more apt to listen.

Encourage self-control. Remember, he has a conscience. He knows what's right and what's wrong. Talk over things ahead of time. Have him suggest the answers. There are some problems which cause arguments in every home like hours, dates, clothes, use of the car. Try to work out rules about them in advance and write them down. Make sure they aren't too different from the rules his friends observe. Then give him the chance to live up to them. If the rules are reasonable, he'll try. He won't always succeed. But you have a right to expect some mighty good reasons when he violates them.

Most parents punish teen-agers by restricting them. It's almost the only punishment possible, and often it doesn't work. Make your restrictions come as natural consequences of the mistake. If your boy is obnoxious in a movie theater, no more movies for him for a time. Most youngsters can accept and learn from such punishment. They grumble, but they get the point.

Expand his freedom as fast as he proves himself responsible. A 17-year-old should have much more leeway than a 13-year-old. By the time they're 18 or 19 they're grown. Then you can begin to relax. They'll be on their own at last.

'SPANISH INTERLUDE' ON TOWN HALL

"Spanish Interlude," filmed and described by Gerald Hooper, will be presented as the final program of the season's Marin Town Hall series at 8:15 p.m. Thursday in San Rafael High School auditorium. "Spanish Interlude" explores the usual places of interest—Madrid, Seville, Granada, Barcelona, etc.—as well as "first-time photographed" places. Tickets are on sale at Redwood Travel Advisors and will be sold at the door. Photo above is of Giralda Tower of Cathedral of Seville, furnished by Spanish National Tourist office.

Marin City Reassured On Questionnaires

Marin City residents were told yesterday that answers to a housing questionnaire delivered to all residents in the past few days will help insure building of the proper number of homes in the redevelopment program.

This was emphasized at the monthly meeting of the Marin County Redevelopment Agency and Housing Authority in response to a complaint that the questionnaire asked for income and other personal information.

"This questionnaire is designed to eliminate as much guesswork as possible," E. Morton Schaffran, deputy executive director, said.

"The information is confidential and is the same as if you were applying for a bank loan. The data from these forms will be compiled to determine what type of houses or apartments are wanted by Marin City residents, how many are wanted and how many families will be in a position to buy or rent."

Chairman George C. Goheen pleaded for early cooperation on the questionnaire by residents, asking them to call at the housing office for interviews as soon as possible.

The commissioners asked Executive Director Bert Klahn and Schaffran to study the problem of providing housing for newly married couples when the bridegroom is a virtual "native" of Marin City.

Several audience members pointed out that there are an increasing number of marriages involving young men reared on the project who wish to remain under redevelopment. However, present policy forbids accepting any new tenants due to redevelopment needs. This situation, they complained, might mean loss of entry after redevelopment.

The commissioners also:

1. Decided to advertise for kerosene and gasoline bids for the coming year.
2. Approved a grant deed to the Sausalito School District for approximately six acres of land for school enlargement, with the stipulation that apartments now on he land are o remain until no longer needed.
3. Set for March 17 at 10 a.m. a special meeting to open bids on the sale of $759,000 in temporary loan notes for first stage financing of the low-rent housing project.
4. Approved designation of W. Robert Miller of Sausalito as negotiator for the commission in the sale of privately owned property within the project boundaries.
5. Authorized redeveloper James H. Scheuer to proceed with completion of the redevelopment plan approved yesterday by the county planning commission.

2 Chamber Boards To Meet Tonight

Problem of mutual interest in the growth of Marin County will be discussed at tonight's joint meeting of the boards of directors of the San Anselmo and Greater San Rafael Chambers of Commerce.

The meeting will begin at 6 p. m. at the Ranch House restaurant in San Anselmo. Arrangements were made by Paul Leahy, president of the San Rafael chamber and A. Von Rotz, president of the San Anselmo chamber. Leahy will preside.

Four agenda items include (1) state highway from San Rafael to Point Reyes Station, (2) Golden Gate Authority, (3) visitor business, and (4) possibility of reviving the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Marin.

Adventurers Write Of Trip Into Wilds

Four young adventurers in search of the lost mission of Santa Isabel in Baja California so far have discovered mainly that their truck's axle is prone to breakage.

That is the word received by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Nicol, operators of Red Robin catering service in Kentfield, from their chef, Donald Darling, and his wife Edith, two of the four adventurers. The others are Keith Pope of Sacramento and Lawrence Craig, a San Francisco restaurant chef.

Although the four have managed to film some footage, their letters tell mostly of the trials and tribulations connected with their means of conveyance, a four-wheel drive truck with a trailer.

Pope flew home on Feb. 21 after spraining an ankle in a landslide while he was filming some ruins at Loretto, once the headquarters of Jesuit missionaries on Lower California.

The party, now reduced to three members, is expected to return by mid-March. They departed Jan. 30.

Fate Of Orphaned Kids Still Pends

Two youngsters in Homestead Valley, made orphans by murder-suicide committed by their father, will not know where they will finally go until a hearing set for Friday in Marin Juvenile Court.

Mrs. Clementina Clayton, supervising probation officer, has placed Ludene Willson, 9, and Russell Willson Jr., 5, in a Novato foster home temporarily. The youngsters will either become wards of the court or will be turned over to the care of relatives who are able and willing to give them a proper home.

Recreation Budget Goes Up $3,000

The proposed recreation budget for San Rafael for the 1959-60 fiscal year is $41,048, about $3,000 more than for last year.

San Rafael Recreation and Park Commission approved the new recreation budget, submitted by Recreation Director Joseph Rodota, last week. It will go to the city council and the San Rafael Board of Education for approval. City and school district share the cost of recreation.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Queen Mother Chided

LONDON (AP)—A British Protestant organiation today wrote Queen Mother Elizabeth that it doesn't like the idea of her calling on Pope John XXIII next month.

The Protestant Truth Society said in the letter that the visit "would be inconsistent with your position as mother of the Queen who has declared herself by oath to be a faithful Protestant."

The Queen Mother plans a six-day visit to Rome April 20-26 on her way back from the African tour.

Typhoon Hits Samoa

HONOLULU (AP)—An estimated 400 homes were destroyed and coconut, breadfruit and banana crops knocked out for at least a year last week when the worst typhoon in 44 years hit the Manuan Islands in the Samoa group.

Delayed dispatches from Pago Pago, the capital of American Samoa, to the Honolulu Star-Bulletin say 50 m.p.h. winds flattened three villages and injured many people but caused no deaths.

Boy's Topic: 'Crude'

YUKON, Okla. (AP) — A student's speech on prostitution has a high school speech teacher on the carpet today in this small central Oklahoma farming community.

The speech was given by a high school junior in a class conducted by Larry Kirkland last Friday. Parents complained.

Supt. Ralph Myers, who discussed the matter for two hours last night with Yukon's Board of Education said, "It was a little crude for high school."

Kirkland, in his first year of teaching at Yukon, said the speech was a regular part of his assigned classwork but the topic was of the student's own choosing. Kirkland declared he didn't think it out of order.

Miscegenation Allowed

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Idaho removed its ban on interracial marriages yesterday.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie signed a bill passed by both houses of the Legislature which repeals the so-called "antimiscegenation" law.

Lana Walks Out

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A dispute between Lana Turner and Director Otto Preminger has caused the actress to withdraw from a choice role in Preminger's movie, "The Anatomy of a Murder."

Miss Turner said last night she was withdrawing because of Preminger's temper. But the director-producer said the dispute was over costumes she was to wear in the movie.

Shooting is scheduled to begin March 23 and Preminger says there will be no delay. "I'll take an unknown for the part and make her into another Lana Turner," he said.

GOP Site Meet Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee will select a site for the party's 1960 national convention on April 11, GOP national chairman Meade Alcorn announced today.

A-Power For Antarctic

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—The United States is planning to light and heat its antarctic bases within three years with atomic power, Rear Adm. George Dufek, on his way home after commanding the U.S. program in the antarctic, told a news conference.

His request for atomic power had been approved although the money has not yet been appropriated, he said.

Panama 'Plot' Crushed

PANAMA (AP)—Panama's military chief said last night a plot to seize control of the country had been uncovered and crushed.

Col. Bolivar Vallarino said a group known as the Liberation Movement was doing the plotting. About 20 members of the National Guard are being held, and five civilians are under arrest or being hunted, he said.

Singer 'Honors' Allen

FERRIDAY, La. (AP)—Singer Jerry Lee Lewis' 5-day-old son has been named Steve Allen Lewis in honor of the television star.

Lewis said yesterday that Allen helped his career actually and by inspiration.

Proxmire Supported

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mail has flooded the office of Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) since his well publicized Senate speech last week in which he criticized the Senate leadership of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.).

Proxmire says the mail is running 30 to 1 in support of his criticism. Some of the minority comment came in letters postmarked Texas.

Marshall 'Alert'

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall continued in serious condition today.

A late medical report said there was no change from yesterday when Marshall, 78, was described as being "a little more alert" but still seriously ill.

5 In Car Die In River

LOS EBANOS, Tex. (UPI)—A taxicab plunged off of a ferry last night and carried five women to their deaths in icy waters of the Rio Grande River.

Four of the bodies were recovered when a young Mexican stripped to his shorts and braved the frigid waters and swift current twice to secure a chain around the car.

Luis Montelongo, driver of the car, escaped through a window and swam to shore. Montelongo and the five victims were returning to their homes in San Miguel, Mexico.

Fine Reduced On String Of Tickets

Robert W. Edison, Sausalito artist who was haled into San Francisco Traffic Court for a string of traffic fines totalling $145, had his fine reduced to $40 after telling his sad story to the judge.

Edison had a notarized paper showing that last March 24 he had turned over a 1950 convertible to Ed Newman of Mill Valley, who was to complete the payments. Newman, in turn, transferred the car to a San Franciscan. The car began accumulating traffic tickets in San Francisco while Edison, on a trip to Mexico, was oblivious to it all. But he was still the registered owner of the car.

TREASURY PARADOX

Inflation's Enemies Helping To Create It

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Treasury is promoting inflation of the money supply just as surely as if it were printing paper greenbacks.

The Treasury doesn't like this, of course, because it could lead to inflation of the whole economy. At the moment, however, it sees no clear way out.

Investor fears of rising interest rates and inflation have made it difficult—if not impossible—for Uncle Sam to borrow needed billions on a long term basis, or even for an intermediate period like five years. As a result, he has had to concentrate on getting short term loans which are much more inflationary.

PARADOX CREATED

Many of these loans, which come due in three months to three years, are kissing cousins or greenbacks and they create a paradox.

Uncle Sam has trouble getting less-inflationary long term loans, partly because of inflation fears. So he borrows on a short term basis and thus reinforces the very fears which are compounding his problem.

For Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, this is a bitter irony. Anderson is so vocal a foe of inflation that Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) recently accused him of being obsessed on the subject.

The Treasury chief is acutely aware that he, through his department, is helping to increase the inflation potential he decries. The secretary's dilemma stems from the fact that the banks are the principal source of short term loans.

TREASURY LECTURE

Anderson has made a point of acquainting a number of recent visitors with the relationship between bank loans and inflation. He has done so in hopes of gaining missionaries for a balanced budget, which he regards as part of the basic solution to his problem.

The secretary begins by asking the visitor's opinion on "monetization of the debt." He has found that a surprising number of government and business leaders are puzzled by the term. In such cases, he launches into a simple explanation.

HOW IT'S DONE

Assume the Treasury borrows a million dollars from a Washington bank. What is involved?

The Treasury gives the bank a piece of paper—a government security—which says Uncle Sam has borrowed a million dollars and will repay in so many years at a fixed rate of interest. Because the worth of this piece of paper is vouched for by Uncle Sam, it assumes real value and is listed among the bank's assets.

On the liability side of the bank's ledger is written an offsetting entry. The bank sets up a new deposit of one million dollars against which the government can write checks to pay its bills.

WHERE'S MONEY?

Anderson asks, where did the the bank get this million dollars? Did it take the cash out of someone else's account and give it to the Treasury?

The answer is that it got the money from no one. It created one million dollars worth of credit on the strength of the Treasury's I.O.U.

At this point the visitor is apt to comment, "That's just like printing greenbacks, and I'm against that."

Carrying the illustration further, as soon as the government writes checks against that deposit, money which didn't exist before goes into circulation.

Monetization of debt doesn't have to be bad. Bank credit—another term for it—should expand in line with the growth of the economy. Otherwise there might not be enough money around to finance essential business operations and construction.

However, if bank credit outpaces economic growth, inflationary pressures build up.

Has this happened?

The active money supply is measured in terms of the total amount of cash plus deposits in checking accounts. At the end of 1958, the figure was just over 143 billion dollars compared with about 138½ billions a year earlier.

This was an increase of about 3¼ per cent and was approximately in line with economic growth, as measured by the gross national product.

HOPEFUL VIEW

On a longer range basis, developments in this sphere have been even less alarming from the standpoint of inflation potential. Since 1955, cash and checking deposits have increased 3½ per cent while the national product has advanced more than 7 per cent.

The picture could change for the worse this year, however, if the Treasury continues to do most of its borrowing on a short term basis. The "greenbacks" could get out of hand.

Theft Of Time

BAILEY'S CROSSROADS, Va. (AP)—Fairfax county police raided a dice game and arrested eight men on a misdemeanor. One, however, was also charged with grand larceny. He had stolen a watch from an arresting officer.

2 Reach Scholar Contest Finals

Two seniors at Sir Francis Drake High School have reached the finals of the 1958-59 National Merit Scholarship program and have been awarded certificates of merit, according to Principal Harold Allison.

Mary Cummings and Douglas Holmes have received the certificates, which attest to their high academic promise.

Allison said the seniors distinguished themselves by their high scores on the two college aptitude tests used in the National Merit Scholarship competition. About six-tenths of 1 per cent of the seniors in each state received the awards.

Some 700 of the 10,000 finalists will be named Merit Scholars this spring. They, and the colleges they have chosen, will share in three and one-half million dollars in Merit Scholarship funds offered by more than 80 organizations and individuals. The winners will be determined by the results of final judging now being conducted. The winners will be announced about May 1.

Weinberger Has Radio Program

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Former Assemblyman Caspar W. Weinberger has begun a three-times-a-week news commentary program on radio station KNBC.

The program, called "People in Politics," is sponsored by Republican Action Committee, Inc.

Madrigal Singers To Give Concert

The Dominican College of San Rafael will present the University of Southern California Madrigal Singers in public concert at 8 o'clock tonight in Angelico Hall.

The Madrigal Singers, under direction of Dr. Charles C. Hirt, is a chamber group which has received national recognition for its choral achievements and the manner in which it brings to life the spirit of rarely heard choral chamber music from the Renaissance to the present.

The 16th Century saw the flowering of an informal kind of music, unsurpassed in beauty and grace, and designed to bring pleasure to the singer as well as to the listener. The usually merry, sometimes melancholy, songs of the madrigals were first heard in the banquet halls of great estates when family and friends sang by candlelight around the table after dinner. The Southern California Madrigal Singers recreate such a scene, singing usually in the original language of the composer.

Insurance Plan Topic For Tiburon Firemen

The Tiburon Volunteer Fire Department will have their insurance program explained at tomorrow night's 8 o'clock meeting at the firehouse, according to Ray F. Coombes, president of the organization.

Leroy F. Wilkie, San Rafael insurance broker, will outline the volunteers' insurance coverage carried by the district, Coombes said.

WINNER — Cheryll Lynn, San Rafael High School student and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Lynn of 237 Humboldt avenue, San Rafael, is winner of the United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth speech contest conducted by the district Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges. She will compete in an area contest this month for a trip to U.N. headquarters in New York. Subject of her winning speech was "My Community and World Affairs."

School Sets Adult Class In Driving

The final adult driver instruction class to be offered at San Rafael High school this year will start tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Robert R. Royle, director of adult classes at the high school, said an enrollment fee of $14 is payable upon registration at the school's main office. Size of the class will be limited, with applications accepted in order of presentation until the class is filled.

The course will have two parts, driver education and driver training, Royle said.

Driver education will consist of six weeks of classroom study on Monday and Wednesday nights. Subjects will include rules of the road, sound driving practices, street and highway driving, mental and physical qualities of the driver and expert driving skills. A series of psycho-physical tests also will be given.

Driver training will consist of behind-the-wheel instruction in classes of four persons. They will receive training in a dual-control car. To qualify for this portion of the course, each student must have a basic kuowledge of the California Vehicle Code.

Oscar Show Signs Both Liz, Debbie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor and Debbie Reynolds—the two women in singer Eddie Fisher's life—will both appear on the annual Academy Awards show April 6.

Producer Jerry Wald says he plans to spot them an hour apart. He hasn't decided yet what each will do.

Debbie labeled Liz as the other woman in her broken marriage with Fisher. Miss Taylor is among those nominated for the top actress award.

What may be the first monument erected in honor of an American woman is located at Haverhill, Mass. It shows Hannah Duston with a tomahawk in her hand. She was captured by Indians in 1697 and, together with another woman and a boy, reputedly killed 10 of the redskins while escaping.

Host Of Stars In TV Tribute To 'A Friend'

NEW YORK (AP) — There's something fascinating about a host of stars devoting 90 minutes of prime television time to paying tribute to a man whom the general public scarcely knows.

Yet that's what happens tonight when NBC-TV presents "Some of Manie's Friends" (KRON, Channel 4, at 7:30 p.m.)

CHARITY CASE

The purpose is worthy. Every one is performing for the minimum fee allowed by union regulations and donating the difference — totalling around $100,000 — to the Emanuel Sacks Foundation for Medical Research in Philadelphia.

The complications in organizing this show were enormous. A sponsor was found before either the content of the program or who would appear on it was worked out. Nearly everyone appearing in the show had to iron out conflicting commitments.

STARS TO PERFORM

Those who will perform tonight include Sid Caesar, Rosemary Clooney, Nat King Cole, Perry Como, Eddie Fisher, Betty Grable, Bob Hope, Harry James, Tony Martin, Dinah Shore, Frank Sinatra, Kay Starr, Danny Thomas, Jack Webb and Jane Wyman.

Each feels he was aided in some way by Manie Sacks. There are many others who feel the same.

NICE GUYS WIN

Basically, however, he was a discoverer of talent—a decisive voice who said, "let's try it." From wide experience in the recording industry and show business he had an uncanny knack of picking the better from the worst.

The first balloon ascension in the United States took place at Philadelphia in 1793.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Personal, Dependency Credits Explained

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Peter J. Wikel

A single person may claim an exemption of $2,000.

A single person who was the head of household may claim an exemption of $3,500.

A husband and wife may claim an exemption of $3,500.

If an individual or his spouse dies during the taxable year, the allowable personal exemption is $3,500. You file a joint return.

If husband and wife file separate returns, the joint personal exemption of $3,500 may be taken by either or divided between them, but if the tax of one spouse is determined from the optional tax table the other may claim only $1,750 personal exemption.

A taxpayer or his spouse who is blind at the end of the taxable year may claim an additional exemption of $500.

A head of household is a person who is not married on the last day of the taxable year and who has furnished more than one-half of the cost of maintaining a home which is his principal place of residence and which he has shared throughout the taxable year except for temporary absences, with any other person whom he is entitled to claim as a dependent, or an unmarried child, grandchild or stepchild. You cannot claim the dependency credit and also the head of household status for the same dependent.

You are not considered single and eligible for head of household status if your spouse died during the year or if you are separated by a decree of separate maintenance or an interlocutory divorce, as you are considered married and file as a married person.

You are entitled to credit for dependents as follows:

A credit of $400 may be claimed for each person closely related to you (other than husband or wife) receiving more than one-half of his or her support from you during 1958.

If you are head of a family only because of dependents for whom you would be entitled a credit under the above, $400 credit is allowed for each of such dependents except one.

Credit for dependents can be claimed only if you actually furnish more than one-half of the dependent's support, or if you furnish over 10 per cent of the cost of the support of a dependent and can get a written multiple support agreement signed by the other contributors (same as the federal).

State Supervision Asked For Health, Welfare Funds

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Assemblyman Thomas M. Rees (D-Los Angeles) says company-administered health and welfare funds should be under state supervision.

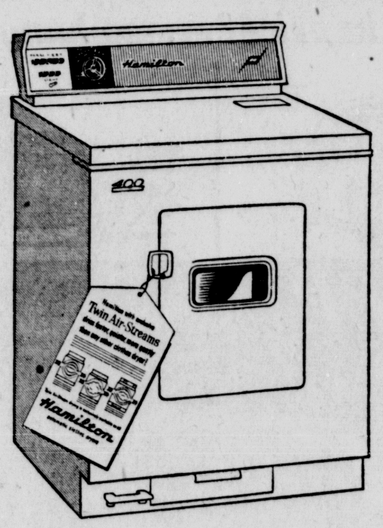

Rees predicted yesterday that management would strongly oppose his views, incorporated in a bill to extend the Rees-Doyle Health and Welfare Supervision Act of 1957.

The act has been interpreted to apply only to funds resulting from labor-management negotiations. Rees said that exempted a large majority of the funds, which are administered by the management.

ACLU Sets Two-Day Conference To Discuss Civil Liberty Issues

Should we celebrate religious festivals in the public schools?

Can we protect our children from the worst of the pornographic literature without imposing a censorship which would prevent adults from reading adult literature?

What can we do when our government limits our right to know by restricting non-classified information?

These and other civil liberties issues will be discussed at a public conference sponsored by the Marin Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union Friday and Saturday at the Marin Country Day School in Corte Madera.

Workshop sessions will provide "thrashing out" time on five important types of issues.

The kick-off will be at 8 p.m. Friday, with a talk by Rev. Harry Scholefield, minister of the First Unitarian Church of San Francisco, on "The Kind of Heretics We Need." At 9 a.m. Saturday, registration for the workshops will begin. An orientation period will start at 9:30, and the workshops themselves at 10 a.m. Conferees may take their lunch (coffee provided), or may have lunch at nearby restaurants. The workshops will resume at 1:15 p.m. and continue until 3 o'clock, when there will be a brief "summing-up."

Experts for the five workshops include Paul Williams, researcher for the California Chamber of Commerce; E. C. Vanderlaan, retired teacher; Steven Warshaw, reporter for the San Francisco News; Ernest Besig, executive director of the Northern California Branch, American Civil Liberties Union, and Dr. Samuel N. LeCount, director of adult education, College of Marin.

Council Cracks Down On San Rafael Joe's

A wooden shack used for dishwashing and storage behind San Rafael Joe's restaurant on Fourth street is a public nuisance and must be corrected or abated within 30 days, the San Rafael City Council decided last night.

City fathers took the action by unanimous vote after learning that no progress had been made for correction by either the owners or tenants of the building.

Berwyn A. Rice, attorney for the restaurant operators, announced two weeks ago that his clients would buy the restaurant and liquor license at the nearby Brick Lodge. Rice indicated San Rafael Joe's could then close its bar and move all other facilities into the bar area, thus vacating the rear shed which the city has declared a nuisance.

But last night, Rice disclosed that his clients want to keep the liquor license at both the Brick Lodge and San Rafael Joe's.

Many buildings on Fourth street are in much worse condition than the shed behind San Rafael Joe's, said Rice. He said the restaurant owner is willing to make minor repairs inside the shed, but will not rebuild the exterior for the owner.

He said his clients still have 17 months lease to run on the building, which is owned by Carl and Aaron Schwartz.

Air Attack Slated On Mosquitoes

If you see an airplane flying low over marshlands near Black Point and Corte Madera during the next two days, don't be alarmed.

The pilot won't be out for a joy ride. He will be "buzzing" the marshlands with DDT spray to kill mosquitoes that are breeding in the salt marshes.

G. Paul Jones, manager of the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District, announced that a plane will be flying low over some 800 acres of marshland in the Black Point-North Novato area from 7 a.m. tomorrow.

On Thursday about 7 a.m., the plane will spray about 300 acres in east Corte Madera, north of Marina Village.

The mosquito district has hired Medlock Dusters of Davis to spray the marshland for $45 per hour. Pilot will be Jim Malay of Davis. Jones estimated that the plane may be in the air an hour or two each day for the two days.

Corte Madera Stands Firm On Fire Truck

The Corte Madera Town Council last night turned a deaf ear to a plea by one of its members for a special meeting to reconsider the purchase of a $20,000 fire truck.

Councilman Walter S. Long moved to hold a special council session prior to the council's March 16 meeting at which bids on the 1,000-gallon pumper will be opened.

The motion failed to receive a second.

Long again insisted the council should defer the purchase because of the possibility of merger with Larkspur.

Mayor William R. Hansen said the 95 signers of a petition presented at the Feb. 20 meeting, which asked the purchase be delayed will have the opportunity of being present at the meeting when the bids are opened.

Questioned by Councilman Roger F. Morse as to the source of his information that the 1,000-gallon pumper was unneeded, Long (who is an insurance man) said he had been told by "fire-eaters." He declined to name the "fire-eaters."

Purchase of the pumper was authorized at the Feb. 2 meeting after extensive study by a committee of volunteer firemen. Chief Frank L. Nelson said he felt the truck might help the town move into a better fire rating, thus reducing property owners' insurance costs.

In Canal Zone Exercise

Widow Promises To Forgive Woman Who Stole Child

ONTARIO (UPI)—A 35-year-old widowed mother today tearfully promised forgiveness to a female kidnaper in return for her ailing 9-week-old baby.

"She must love children an awful lot," said Mrs. Ruth Flores of the kidnaper who stole her child last Friday after posing as a friendly church worker and volunteering to babysit.

"If she will return Eric, I am willing to forgive her," said the mother of six children as she stood looking down at the half empty baby carriage where Eric's twin brother, Aaron, slept peacefully.

Three New Houses In Corte Madera

Valuation of building permits issued last month in Corte Madera totaled $51,969, as compared with a $61,922 for the same month last year, William G. McBride, building inspector reported.

Permits were issued for construction of three single family dwellings. Total fees collected by the building office was $658.95.

Garbage Issue Puzzle To Town Attorney

Town Atty. John B. Ehlen said he has been attempting to interpret the legal meaning of the town's franchise agreement with Mill Valley Garbage Co. after receiving a complaint from the firm that an unidentified Corte Madera Center business was having its garbage hauled away by Mel and Ray's Janitorial Service of Petaluma.

Ehlen said what puzzled him was that the business apparently was paying its regular fee to the garbage company as well as paying to have the trash hauled away by the janitorial service.

"Maybe there is some intrinsic value in garbage," Ehlen commented.

Ehlen said he thought businesses had certain discretionary powers to dispose of trash, but that he was not sure whether it was legal to have trash hauled away by another collector.

He said he will present an opinion at the March 16 council meeting.

U.S. Aid For City Streets Loses In Vote

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill to extend federal highway funds to certain city streets failed to get approval of an Assembly committee yesterday, despite support from spokesmen for Modesto, Bakersfield, Napa and San Francisco.

The Transportation and Commerce Committee voted 6-5 against the measure by Assemblyman Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley). Rumford said he might try to revive it when four absent committeemen are present.

Principal opponent of the bill is the State Public Works Department, which believes it would slow down the state's freeway program. The money devoted to city streets would better be devoted to freeways, the department claims.

"It would slow up highways in the very cities and counties which want the funds," said Robert E. Reed, attorney for the department.

But City Manager Ross Miller of Modesto said:

"A freeway system not only must have the trunk but the branches, if it is going to work."

Richard Carpenter, spokesman for the League of California Cities, said present policy has made the federal program for farm-to-market roads a "farm to city-boundary-line program."

There were 64,754,000 telephones in use in the United States as of June 30, 1958.

HAFB Youth Give Hospital Program

Teen-agers from Youth Center at Hamilton Air Force Base entertained an audience of 300 patients at Sonoma State Hospital Sunday. A 12-act variety show titled "Tops in Teens," wsa prepared by the young people with assistance of the center's director, Mrs. Alice Roth, and Mrs. Benjamin McConnell, welfare chairman for the Officers' Wives Club.

The young people volunteered to give the program which was a repeat of one developed for their first anniversary in January. Many dozens of homemade cookies were also taken to treat the patients.

Solon Asks Say In U.S. Projects

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. Fred S. Farr (D-Carmel) introduced a resolution yesterday asking the President and Congress to allow local authorities to study and comment on proposed federal projects in their areas.

In Monterey County, he said, the Navy is planning to put up housing at Big Sur along Highway 1 without consulting county authorities who won't allow a private party to so much as put an address plate on his home without approval.

Prize Turns To Ashes

CHICAGO (UPI) — Thieves burned open a safe in a five-and-dime store yesterday to get at $13,000 in bills, but found the currency charred to ashes from the heat of their acetylene torch.

You are looking at a time machine

It sounds like science fiction: traveling across the continent in 4½ hours, New York to London in 6½, cutting airline schedules almost in half.

Yet these are routine for jet liners in the jet age — an era people at Standard's research laboratories have been working toward since the day seventeen years ago when we fueled the first U. S. jet flight.

Since then our scientists have worked with the armed forces to perfect fuels and special lubricants for planes that fly faster than sound, or cruise nonstop around the world. They've also helped engine designers solve problems of heat and cold; aided airlines with faster airport fueling systems.

The sum of these years of development has been to add hours to the traveler's day, days to the tourist's week. In helping to harness time, as well as putting petroleum to many other uses for you, the people at Standard are planning ahead to serve you better.
